BENGALS IN THE COMMUNITY

REACHING OUT TO HELP OTHERS

The Cincinnati Bengals have a strong commitment to making a difference in the community, generating more than $1.5 million each year for community groups. This includes direct Bengals corporate contributions, NFL Charities and other efforts with business partners.

The Bengals believe there are many great organizations, foundations and charities in the Greater Cincinnati area and choose to cast a broad net to support these groups. With more than 100 organizations supported each year, it would be hard for fans to not have their lives touched by an organization supported by the Bengals. Every level of the organization — from players to owners to coaches to staff — is involved in the effort.

Additionally, the team's player relations department coordinates visits by players year-round to schools, hospitals and other community sites. The team averages 250-300 individual player appearances per year, resulting in more than 1,000 hours in the community.

ELEMENTARY/HIGH SCHOOL FIELDS

The Bengals and the National Football League Foundation Grassroots Program teamed up to contribute $250,000 to Activities Beyond the Classroom (ABC) to install a synthetic turf field at South Avondale Elementary School.

The grant from the Bengals, the NFL Foundation and Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC) was part of more than $3 million in field refurbishment awards allocated in 2018.

LISC identifies local, nonprofit, community-based agencies that have an interest in building or refurbishing football fields in schools and neighborhood parks. Through the program, local agencies are provided with the necessary financing and technical assistance to improve the quality and safety of fields in their communities. The agencies oversee the construction, maintenance and programming of the fields.

"Activities Beyond the Classroom is grateful to the Bengals and the NFL for their support of this project," said Brian Leshner, Executive Director of ABC. "This new turf field will not only benefit the students at South Avondale Elementary, but will also enhance the entire community, providing a place for children and adults to come together to enjoy a wide variety of healthy activities."

The grant is the latest in an ongoing program in which the Bengals and the NFL have coordinated to distribute $1.9 million to local schools for new fields. Other schools include Clinton-Massie High School, Covington Catholic High School, Deer Park Jr./Sr. High School, La Salle High School, Lockland High School, Oak Hills High School, Taylor High School, Withrow University High School and Midway Elementary School.

UNITED WAY

The Bengals have been strong partners with United Way of Greater Cincinnati for many years.

The Bengals were a prime mover in developing Ohio's team-branded license plate program, working with state officials. Through this program, the Bengals have directed hundreds of thousands of dollars in new funding to the United Way and the Greater Cincinnati Sports Corporation.

In addition, the Bengals and United Way of Greater Cincinnati have teamed up to give hundreds of middle school students the tools to cultivate and maintain healthy relationships. As part of the Character Playbook program, Bengals players participate in video conference calls with students across many classrooms, answering questions and giving advice.

TASTE OF THE NFL

The Taste of the NFL program in partnership with the Freestore Foodbank raises more than $100,000 annually and provides approximately 400,000 meals in the area each year. Since its inception in 2003, the Taste of the NFL has raised the equivalent of more than three million meals for the Freestore Foodbank's efforts.

"The Bengals are one of our largest partners," said Kurt Reiber, president of the Freestore Foodbank, "and the team's support allows us to reach a great spectrum of potential donors we otherwise would not reach. Our Taste of the NFL event is one of our largest single-day fundraisers."

MARVIN LEWIS COMMUNITY FUND

Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis formed the Marvin Lewis Community Fund in 2003 to create positive change in Cincinnati. The Fund's mission is to empower youth in the region through education. It has raised more than $11.6 million, and more than 90 percent of that money has been reinvested into core programs.

MLCF's Learning Is Cool educational incentive program rewards students for strong academic performance. The program encourages more than 29,000 first-grade through eighth-grade students in Cincinnati Public, North College Hill and Middletown City Schools and first-grade through 12th-grade students in Covington Independent Public Schools to make the "A" honor roll each quarter. Students who make "A" two quarters of the year are invited to an event where Lewis and Bengals players reward them for their achievements.

PLAYER FOUNDATIONS

There are substantial efforts undertaken by players, assistant coaches and alumni to give back to the community. Examples include:

- The Preston Brown Foundation is a vehicle to broaden his platform of promoting the value of education to youths of all ages. In October 2017, he launched "Preston's Playbook" with the help of one of his college teammates. Preston's Playbook is his community based program, focused on giving back through a variety of outlets, including an annual free youth football camp.
- The Andy & Jordan Dalton Foundation provides daily support, opportunities, resources and life-changing experiences to seriously ill and physically challenged children and their families in Cincinnati and Fort Worth.
- The Carlos Dunlap Foundation provides children with engaging and enriching activities to help them learn and grow, including working with underprivileged high school students to provide college readiness tools and throwing birthday parties for homeless kids who have never had one. One of Dunlap's core initiatives is an anti-bullying campaign that encourages kids to read a book and have an open discussion about bullying.
- The Run Gio Foundation, launched by Giovani Bernard, provides children of Haiti with an opportunity for a quality education. In addition to supporting education, the foundation offers youth football camps, free of charge, to children who may not have had the opportunity to attend otherwise.
- Michael Johnson started the MJ93-90 Fund with the mission to educate kids on the importance of capitalizing on their talents and abilities with educational and technological programs, to increase their awareness of proper nutrition and exercise for healthier bodies to avoid obesity, diabetes and heart disease, and to mentor and encourage them on how to be successful.
- Dre Kirkpatrick's 21 Kids Foundation strives to improve public health, promote educational opportunities and enhance community development efforts. In addition, Kirkpatrick aims to create and sustain a healthy environment for the mental health community and assist youth in improving academics and athletics. In 2017, Kirkpatrick joined with A.J. Green to donate more than 300 bikes to students at St. Bernard Elementary.
- The John Ross Foundation aims to help young people and their communities by offering an array of support, guidance and developmental programs and facilities. From providing educational opportunities to career resources to extracurricular fun, the foundation expands the horizons of not only these young people, but their entire community as well.

NFL PLAY 60

Bengals players have enthusiastically supported the NFL's Play 60 program that encourages kids to enjoy at least 60 minutes of vigorous outdoor activity per day, and also to adopt a proper diet. Some Bengals players have reached the 15-20 range in number of school visits.

TOYS FOR TOTS

For more than 25 years, the Bengals have partnered with the U.S. Marine Corps Reserves for the Toys for Tots program. The Bengals' toy collection is one of the largest Toys for Tots collections held during the holidays each year. More than 54,000 children in the eight-county Tri-State area benefit from the collection.

HIGH SCHOOL COACH OF THE WEEK

The NFL High School Football Coach of the Week program is designed to recognize local high school coaches who continuously demonstrate hard work and dedication to their football programs and the health and safety of their players. This program also provides high schools with financial assistance through $1,000 grants that help maintain and upgrade their football programs.

MARVIN LEWIS
HEAD COACH

Marvin Lewis in 2018 extends his Bengals-record head coaching tenure to 16 seasons, twice that of Paul Brown (1968-75) and Sam Wyche ('84-91), who are tied for second with eight seasons each.

Lewis opens the 2018 season with 125 career victories, the most in Bengals history by a margin of 61 over Wyche (64). His record is 125-112-3 in the regular season and 125-119-3 including postseason. The Bengals' 65-45-2 record over the last seven regular seasons gives the team a .589 winning percentage for the span, ranked sixth in the NFL.

Lewis has led his teams to the postseason seven times, including a five-year run from 2011-15. The total number of playoff trips and the five-year streak of consecutive appearances are Bengals records.

The 2015 Bengals were widely considered as Lewis' best team yet. Their 12-4 record tied the 1981 and '88 Super Bowl teams for the best winning percentage (.750) in a 16-game season. But after that successful run, Cincinnati missed the playoffs the last two seasons, with the 2016 (6-9-1 record) and '17 (7-9) Bengals finishing below Lewis' standard.

Throughout his career, Lewis always has maintained that NFL teams "earn" their records.

"We're going to have changes on our (coaching) staff," Lewis said in January after signing a two-year contract to return as head coach through the 2019 season. "We're going to have to gain some better players. We're going to have to look to augment what we do with what we have right now on the football team, and we're going to have to do a better job of maybe adding some guys from other clubs."

The Bengals, who followed Lewis' guidance, begin the 2018 season with six new coaches compared to the staff that entered the previous season. That's the highest number of staff changes in any one year in Lewis' tenure. Those changes include two coordinators.

On the defensive side, Teryl Austin joins the Bengals after spending the last four seasons (2014-17) as defensive coordinator in Detroit. And on offense, Bill Lazor, who was elevated to coordinator prior to Game 3 last season, has installed his own philosophy and system over the offseason.

The Bengals have retained a productive core of veterans that played key roles in Cincinnati's playoff runs from 2011-15. QB Andy Dalton, HB Giovani Bernard and seven-time Pro Bowl WR A.J. Green are among a strong leadership contingent on offense, while DE Carlos Dunlap, LB Vontaze Burfict and six-time Pro Bowl DT Geno Atkins lead the way on defense.

But after making 22 draft selections over the last two years, Lewis and his staff in 2018 also are charged with infusing a bevy of young talent. The Bengals' offense figures to count on significant contributions from C Billy Price, the team's No. 1 draft pick in 2018, WR John Ross, Cincinnati's No. 1 draft pick in '17 who was limited by injuries as a rookie, and HB Joe Mixon, a '17 second-round pick who finished last season as Cincinnati's leading rusher. On defense, the Bengals are expected to expand the roles of CB William Jackson, the team's No. 1 pick in 2016 who is widely considered a budding star after a solid second season in '17, and second-year DE Carl Lawson, who recorded 8.5 sacks and 21 QB hits as a rookie last year.

The Bengals also delivered on the final portion of Lewis' offseason plan — adding pieces from other teams. OT Cordy Glenn, who was acquired in March via a trade with Buffalo, is an experienced and productive addition to the offensive line, an area the Bengals have intended to improve. On defense, LB Preston Brown was signed as an unrestricted free agent from Buffalo.

Lewis in 2018 ranks second among NFL head coaches in longest current tenure with one team, trailing only Bill Belichick, who is in his 19th straight season with New England. In the category of most seasons as head coach with one or more teams, Lewis ranks third among active coaches, behind Belichick (24th season in '18) and Andy Reid (20).

Lewis has developed an impressive "coaching tree" during his Bengals tenure. Five of his former assistants have become NFL head coaches, and four of those are leading teams in 2018. The list, including their teams and head coaching tenures, includes former Bengals offensive coordinators Jay Gruden (Washington, 2014-18) and Hue Jackson (Cleveland, '16-18), former defensive coordinators Leslie Frazier (Minnesota, '10-13) and Mike Zimmer (Minnesota, '14-18), and former defensive backs coach Vance Joseph (Denver, '17-18).

Lewis was the consensus choice for NFL Coach of the Year in 2009, when the Bengals won the AFC North Division while sweeping all six division games. The Bengals also were AFC North champions under Lewis in 2005, '13 and '15.

Named the ninth head coach in Bengals history on Jan. 14, 2003, Lewis started quickly. His '03 club finished 8-8, six games better than the '02 club, good for the biggest improvement in the NFL.

Lewis came to the Bengals with credentials as a record-setting NFL defensive coordinator, having played a huge role in a championship season. His six seasons (1996-2001) as Baltimore Ravens coordinator included a Super Bowl victory in '00, when his defense set the NFL record for fewest points allowed in a 16-game campaign (165). That team clipped 22 points off the previous mark. The 2000 Ravens are always an entry in discussions regarding the best NFL defensive units of all time.

In 2002, the season before he joined the Bengals, Lewis led the Washington Redskins to a No. 5 NFL defensive ranking, serving as assistant head coach as well as defensive coordinator.

He had his first NFL assignment from 1992-95, as linebackers coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. He aided the development of four Pro Bowl players — Kevin Greene, Chad Brown, Levon Kirkland and Greg Lloyd. Greene has since been inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Lewis began his coaching career as linebackers coach at his alma mater Idaho State from 1981-84. ISU's team (also nicknamed the Bengals) finished 12-1 in Lewis' first season there and won the NCAA Division 1-AA championship.

Lewis played LB at Idaho State, earning All-Big Sky Conference honors for three consecutive years (1978-80). He also saw action at quarterback and free safety during his college career. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Idaho State in 1981, and earned his master's in athletic administration in '82. He was inducted into Idaho State's Hall of Fame in 2001.

Born Sept. 23, 1958, Lewis attended Fort Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), where he was an all-conference quarterback and safety. He also earned high school letters in wrestling and baseball. He and his wife, Peggy, have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Marcus. Marcus Lewis joined the Bengals' coaching staff for 2014 and remains on the staff for '18.

TERYL AUSTIN
DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Teryl Austin in 2018 enters his 15th NFL season and first with Cincinnati, after spending the previous four seasons (2013-17) as defensive coordinator of the Detroit Lions. Prior to his time in Detroit, Austin served as a defensive backs coach for a combined 10 years with three NFL teams — Seattle (2003-06), Arizona ('07-09) and Baltimore ('11-13) — and at all three stops helped lead his team to Super Bowl appearances (Seattle in '05, Arizona in '08 and Baltimore in '12). The 2012 Ravens were Super Bowl champions.

In Cincinnati, Austin inherits a defense that last season ranked sixth in the NFL in fewest yards per play (5.0), eighth against the pass (211.2 yards per game) and sixth in red-zone defense (46.4 percent). The Bengals' defense boasts a strong and talented veteran presence, including six-time Pro Bowl DT Geno Atkins, two-time Pro Bowl DE Carlos Dunlap and veteran LB Vontaze Burfict, along with budding young stars in CB William Jackson and LB Carl Lawson.

Over Austin's four-year tenure in Detroit, his defensive units ranked in the top 10 among all NFL teams in total yards per game (10th; 340.3), rushing yards per game (eighth; 100.3) and number of games in which opponents were held to 20 points or less (tied for sixth; 34).

Last season, Austin helped Detroit to rank third in the NFL in takeaways (32), tie for second in fumble recoveries (13) and tie for fifth in turnover differential (plus-10). The former DBs coach also helped guide CB Darius Slay to eight INTs, which led the NFC and tied for the NFL lead.

In 2016, Austin's defensive unit played a key role in helping Detroit qualify for the playoffs. The Lions' defense tied for second in the NFL by holding opponents to 21 points or less in 10 games.

In 2015, Austin led Detroit's defense that compiled 43 sacks (seventh in the NFL) and 98 tackles for losses. Austin helped develop star DE Ezekiel Ansah, who earned his first-career Pro Bowl berth after totaling a career-high 14.5 sacks (third in the NFL).

In 2014, his first in Detroit, Austin coordinated one of the NFL's most dominant defenses, finishing second in the league in total defense (300.9 yards per game) and third in scoring defense (17.6). The unit also ranked first in the NFL in rush defense, and their average yield of only 69.3 yards was the ninth-best opponent per-game rushing average in NFL history.

Prior to his time in Detroit, Austin served as the secondary coach for the Baltimore Ravens from 2011-13 and quickly developed the team's secondary into an integral part of one of the NFL's most consistent defenses in recent years. In 2012, Austin's secondary played a key role in the Ravens' Super Bowl XLVII Championship run.

In 2011, Austin's first season in Baltimore, the Ravens allowed a league-low 11 passing TDs and surrendered the third-fewest points (16.6 avg./game), tying an NFL record by ranking in the top three in points allowed for the fourth consecutive season.

Austin's college coaching career dates back to his days as a graduate assistant at Penn State from 1991-92. He has held positions as defensive backs coach at Michigan (1999-2002), Syracuse (1996-98) and Wake Forest (1993-95).

As a player, Austin was a three-year starter and four-year letterman at safety for the University of Pittsburgh, from 1983-87. He earned his bachelor's degree in communications from Pittsburgh in 1988 and went on to play for the Montreal Machine of the World League of American Football in 1991 after attending training camps with the Washington Redskins and Hamilton Tiger-Cats (CFL). He attended Sharon (Pa.) High School.

Austin and his wife, April, have five children, including sons Tyler, Trey and Torin, and daughters Alexa and Alivia.

Bicknell spent 2016 as wide receivers coach for the San Francisco 49ers under head coach Chip Kelly. Under Bicknell's direction, WR Jeremy Kerley logged career highs in receptions (64) and TDs (three).

Prior to his stint in San Francisco, Bicknell spent three seasons (2013-15) as wide receivers coach in Philadelphia under Kelly. During his tenure, the Eagles' offense set franchise records in points, TDs, passing yards, completions and completion percentage.

In 2015, Bicknell helped WR Jordan Matthews to 85 receptions (fourth-most in a season in Eagles history), 997 receiving yards and eight TDs. The receiving corps helped Eagles QB Sam Bradford set single-season franchise records for completions (346) and completion percentage (65.0).

Under Bicknell's direction in 2014, WR Jeremy Maclin, who suffered a torn ACL in training camp a year prior, returned to the field and established career highs in receptions (85), receiving yards (1318) and receiving TDs (10) en route to his first Pro Bowl selection.

In 2013, Bicknell's first in Philadelphia, he helped WR DeSean Jackson to his third Pro Bowl selection. Bicknell in 2013 also worked on Philadelphia's staff with Bengals offensive coordinator Bill Lazor, who was QBs coach for the Eagles.

From 2010-12, Bicknell was on the Buffalo Bills' coaching staff, serving as tight ends coach from 2010-11 and wide receivers coach in '12. Bicknell helped WR Stevie Johnson to his third consecutive 1000-yard season in 2012. As tight ends coach, Bicknell helped develop TE Scott Chandler, whose six TDs in 2011 tied the Bills' single-season record for a tight end.

Bicknell broke into the NFL coaching ranks in 2007 with the Kansas City Chiefs, where he initially served as assistant offensive line coach before being promoted to offensive line coach ('08) and then moving to coach tight ends coach ('09). In 2008, Bicknell helped the Chiefs' offensive line support a powerful running attack that tied for the AFC lead in rushing, at 4.8 yards per carry. Bicknell also helped guide Chiefs G Brian Waters to the fourth Pro Bowl selection of his career.

Before joining the NFL coaching ranks, Bicknell served as the offensive line coach at Temple University in 2006. Prior to his time at Temple, he spent eight years in NFL Europe (1998-2005), including stints as the offensive coordinator/offensive line coach for the Cologne Centurions ('04-05) and Berlin Thunder ('01-03). During his time in Europe, Bicknell won three consecutive World Bowls as part of the coaching staff of the Thunder (2000-01) and Frankfurt Galaxy (1999). In 2002, Bicknell oversaw a Berlin offense that led the league with 3704 yards from scrimmage and 2667 passing yards. In his first season as offensive coordinator, Bicknell's unit ranked second in the league with 3243 yards from scrimmage on the way to the team's second straight World Bowl title in 2001.

Bicknell began his coaching career at Boston University, where he coached safeties (1993), running backs ('94) and linebackers ('95-97).

A native of Holliston, Mass., Bicknell was a three-year letterman as a tight end at Boston College (1989-91). He comes from a football family, as his father, Jack, was the head coach at BC from 1981-90 and spent 13 seasons as a head coach in NFL Europe before retiring in 2007. His brother, Jack, Jr., is currently the offensive line coach at Ole Miss. Jack Jr. has previously served as an NFL assistant with the Dolphins, Giants, Chiefs and Steelers.

JACOB BURNEY
DEFENSIVE LINE

Jacob Burney, a 23-year veteran of the NFL coaching ranks, is in his third season as Bengals defensive line coach. Last season, Burney's line helped lead the Bengals defense to a No. 6 NFL ranking in total yards per play (5.0), No. 9 in sacks per pass play (.11) and No. 6 in red-zone defense (46.4 percent). He helped guide veteran linemen Geno Atkins and Carlos Dunlap to productive seasons, while also aiding the development of young players like DE Jordan Willis and DTs Andrew Billings and Ryan Glasgow.

Atkins, who earned his sixth Pro Bowl nod in '17, has finished atop all NFL interior linemen in sacks in each of Burney's three seasons in Cincinnati. Atkins' nine sacks in '17 also led the team, and heading into 2018 he ranks fourth in team history with 61 sacks.

Dunlap, who started in the Pro Bowl in 2016, Burney's first in Cincinnati, had another outstanding season in '17. He totaled 7.5 sacks, an INT (returned for a TD), seven PDs, a FF, and a team-leading 24 QB hits and 12 TFLs. Entering 2018, Dunlap's 64.5 sacks rank second in Bengals history, behind Eddie Edwards' 83.5.

In 2016, Dunlap led all NFL defensive linemen with 15 passes defensed, and he was the first defensive lineman to ever lead the Bengals in PDs.

Prior to his hire by Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis, Burney coached NFL defensive lines under Bill Belichick (Cleveland Browns), Ted Marchibroda (Baltimore Ravens), George Seifert (Carolina Panthers) and Mike Shanahan (Denver Broncos and Washington Redskins).

"Jacob is a great taskmaster with tremendous experience," said Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis. "I'm excited about what he'll be able to continue to do to develop the talent we have up front."

Burney's last NFL assignment before Cincinnati was from 2010-14 with Washington. His 2014 line helped the Redskins rank 12th in the NFL in fewest rushing yards allowed as the defense posted 36 sacks. His 2013 unit helped the Redskins rank fourth in the NFL in third-down conversion percentage (34.0) and tied for second in negative rushing plays by opponents (72).

Over Burney's seven seasons in Denver, the Broncos three times ranked in the NFL's top five in rush defense. Over his full Denver tenure, the Broncos ranked 10th in fewest total defensive yards allowed.

In Denver in 2006, Burney was the first pro position coach for DE Elvis Dumervil. The fourth-round draft choice has gone on to make five Pro Bowls in a career with the Broncos, Baltimore Ravens and San Francisco 49ers, and he has earned All-Pro honors twice. Dumervil had 12.5 sacks in 2007, his first season as a starter under Burney.

In 2005, Burney's Denver line led the way for an average rushing yield of just 82.5 yards per game, ranked second in the NFL, and the Broncos posted a 13-3 record.

In 1998 with the Ravens, Burney was position coach for DE Michael McCrary, who earned Sporting News All-Pro honors and a starter's berth in the Pro Bowl.

Burney coached 11 seasons in college before entering the NFL, starting in 1983 at New Mexico. He went on to coach at Tulsa, Mississippi State, Wisconsin, UCLA and Tennessee.

Burney is from Chattanooga, Tenn., and he was a three-time All-Southern Conference selection at Tennessee-Chattanooga. He and his wife, Madrinna, have two sons, Jacob and Benjamin. KYLE CASKEY
RUNNING BACKS

Kyle Caskey is in his ninth season on the Bengals' coaching staff, and in 2018 he is in his fifth year as running backs coach. He heads a running backs corps led by veteran Giovani Bernard and second-year pro Joe Mixon, the team's top two HBs heading into 2018, along with rookie Mark Walton of Miami (Fla.).

Bernard, a sixth-year pro, has averaged 937 yards from scrimmage in his four seasons under Caskey, despite missing the final six games of 2016 with a knee injury. Under Caskey, he set a Bengals game record for receiving yards by a RB (128) in 2015 at Arizona. And at his current receiving pace, even allowing for the six missed games in 2016, he would top James Brooks in two years for career receptions by a Bengals RB and would top Brooks in three years for most receiving yards by a Bengals RB.

Under Caskey's direction, Mixon increased his workload throughout his rookie season and rose to be the team's No. 1 HB the second half of the year. The 2017 second-round draft pick was the team's leading rusher, and the Bengals figure to lean even more heavily upon him in 2018.

In 2014, Caskey's first year as a primary position coach, the Bengals ranked sixth in the NFL in rushing (134.2), the club's best offensive rushing ranking since 2000. Rookie HB Jeremy Hill rushed for 1124 yards, with a 5.1-yard per-carry average, the highest by a primary Bengals rusher since James Brooks in 1990. Hill was worked into his role gradually, with only 50 carries in the first seven games, but over the last nine weeks he was the NFL's leading rusher, posting 929 of his yards. His total was best by more than 100 yards.

Caskey worked his first two Bengals seasons (2011-12) in the offensive quality control area, and for '12-13 he added the designation of assistant offensive line coach. In his OL role in 2013, he helped the line deliver consistent quality play despite significant injury-related shuffles. Cincinnati posted NFL rankings of third in fewest sacks allowed (29) and tied for sixth in scoring (26.9).

Caskey came to Cincinnati from the University of Mississippi, where he served in 2009 as a defensive assistant, working primarily with safeties. He entered college coaching in 2004 at Louisiana-Monroe as a graduate assistant. He coached safeties in '04 and linebackers in '05. In '05, the Warhawks were Sun Belt Conference co-champions.

From 2006-08, Caskey was at Indiana State. In 2008, he coached the TEs and RBs while also serving as recruiting coordinator. The '08 ISU recruiting class was ranked seventh among NCAA FCS teams by Rivals.com. He was TE/WRs coach at Indiana State in 2006, and was defensive line coach/recruiting coordinator in '07.

He has earned a bachelor's degree in industrial distribution from Texas A&M, and he holds master's degrees from both A&M (agribusiness) and Louisiana-Monroe (instructional technology).

Caskey's hometown is Daingerfield, Texas. He is married (wife Kayla), with a son, Olsen Kyle, born in April 2017. He played tight end at Texas A&M in 1997-98, and while he was on the team, the Aggies won a Big 12 championship ('98) and played in the Cotton and Sugar bowls.

He was a four-year Aggie letterman in track and field from 1999-2002, including '00 All-Big 12 honors in the discus. He earned Big 12 All-Academic honors three times — in 2000, '01 and '02.

Playing and coaching history: 1997-98—Played tight end, Texas A&M. 2004-05—Graduate assistant, Louisiana-Monroe. 2006-08—Assistant coach (AC), Indiana State. 2009—AC, University of Mississippi. 2010-present—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

BRAYDEN COOMBS
ASSISTANT SPECIAL TEAMS/ OFFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL

Brayden Coombs in 2018 is in his seventh season in a full staff position with the Bengals. For the sixth straight season, he will work with coordinator Darrin Simmons on special teams. Coombs assists with weekly game planning and preparation, and he has full charge of selected special teams meetings and practice periods.

In addition to his role with the Bengals' special teams units, Coombs also will work as an assistant coach on offense, helping to implement coordinator Bill Lazor's new system.

Coombs' move to the the offensive side of the ball this year comes after two seasons (2016-17) as defensive quality control coach, where he assisted the cornerbacks. There, he aided a defensive unit that in 2017 ranked eighth in the NFL against the pass (211.2 yards per game) and sixth in fewest yards per play (5.0). In '16, Coombs helped the defense rank eighth in fewest points allowed (19.7).

On special teams, Coombs' work in 2017 produced a unit that aided P Kevin Huber's 40.8 net punting average, the third-best single-season mark in team history. In 2016, Coombs helped develop special teams standout Alex Erickson, a college free agent, who led the AFC in kickoff return average (27.9). Erickson was second in the NFL, behind only Minnesota veteran Cordarrelle Patterson.

Erickson's standout season in 2016 means that Coombs has had a role in the top two kickoff return seasons in Bengals history. In 2014, CB Adam Jones produced the Bengals' first-ever NFL kickoff return title, with a Bengals-record 31.3 average. Erickson's 27.9 from 2017 ranks second.

In 2014, when Adam Jones won the NFL kickoff return title, he also finished second in the league in punt returns (12.1). Jones just missed becoming the first NFL player in 22 years to lead the league in both categories, and he claimed the kick return spot on the Associated Press All-Pro team.

The Bengals have had three Pro Bowl special teamers during Coombs' period of work with the units. The first was P Kevin Huber in the 2014 season, when he posted franchise records for gross (46.8) and net (42.1) average. In 2015, HB Cedric Peerman earned a berth after his 17 tackles tied for the team's highest total since 2008. And in 2017, veteran LS Clark Harris earned his first Pro Bowl nod.

Under Coombs' direction, the Bengals' coverage units on special teams have seen consistent production. In 2015, the Bengals ranked seventh in the NFL in punt coverage (6.3 yards per return). The 2014 team finished with top 10 NFL rankings in gross punting average (third at 46.8), kickoff return average (fourth at 27.6), net punting average (fifth at 42.1), punt return average (seventh at 11.0) and punt coverage (10th at 7.5).

In the long-established special teams rankings done annually by the Dallas Morning News, incorporating 22 categories of special teams play, the Bengals have had two top 10 finishes in Coombs' five seasons as a special teams assistant. Cincinnati placed sixth in 2014 and eighth in '15.

Coombs first joined the Bengals in December of 2009 as a coaching intern, and he was elevated to coaching assistant for the '10 and '11 seasons, working primarily with the defensive staff, focusing on the defensive backs and assisting with video breakdown and game-plan construction. In 2012, Combs signed on as an assistant coach as an offensive assistant, where he focused on the wide receivers through '15. He added assistant special teams coach to his responsibilities in 2013, and moved from assisting the coaching of receivers to assisting the coaching of cornerbacks in '16.

Coombs played collegiately at Miami University (Ohio) from 2005-09, where he lettered four times. He spent two seasons as a DB, and then was switched to WR for his final three years. He set a school record for receptions in a game (14) in his final appearance as a senior, against Buffalo.

Coombs is a Cincinnati native and a graduate of Colerain High School. He earned a degree in business from Miami. He and his wife, Alexia, have a daughter, Harper. His father, Kerry, is the secondary coach for the Tennessee Titans.

Playing and coaching history: 2005-09—Played defensive back and wide receiver, Miami (Ohio). 2010-11—Coaching assistant, Cincinnati Bengals. 2012-present—Assistant coach, Bengals.

ROBERT COUCH
OFFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL/ OFFENSIVE LINE

Robert Couch is in his third Bengals season in 2018, as offensive quality control coach, with an emphasis on the offensive line. A former offensive lineman at Vanderbilt University and with several pro teams, Couch will again do on-field work focused on the O-line, as he works with new offensive line coach Frank Pollack.

Couch represents something of a new outlook in building an NFL coaching staff. Though he had not previously coached in the college or professional ranks before joining the Bengals, he has worked as an assistant coach with highly successful high school programs. And in addition to his experience as a player and coach, he has a business background with extensive technical and digital expertise. His work with Pro Football Focus, an analytical football grading web site, and his familiarity with many facets of game technology are an asset for the Bengals in the increasingly tech-driven world of coaching.

This season, Couch will join Pollack, a veteran line coach with 11 years of NFL experience, and offensive coordinator Bill Lazor in implementing a more aggressive blocking style along the line. He will also help with the addition and transition of two new key players to the line — veteran OT Cordy Glenn, acquired in a March trade with Buffalo, and rookie C Billy Price, the team's first-round draft pick.

In college, Couch was a 41-game starter on the offensive line for Vanderbilt from 1992-95. He went on to sign contracts with the Atlanta Falcons in '96 and St. Louis Rams in '97, seeing preseason action and spending time on practice squads. He also played in NFL Europe from 1997-98 with the Barcelona Dragons and London Monarchs. He played on Barcelona's World Bowl championship team in 1997 with QB Jon Kitna, who went on to spend all or part of 16 seasons in the NFL, including five (2001-05) with the Bengals.

Couch served continuously for 15 years (2001-15) as an assistant coach with major high school programs in Texas and Florida. He has been on staffs that reached four state championship games and twice were state champions. He has coached in Texas at Canyon Creek High School in Richardson, Prestonwood High School in Plano, St. Mark's in Dallas and Faith Christian in Grapevine. He also has coached at Celebration (Fla.) High School . During his prep coaching career, his teams averaged fewer than two losses per season.

Couch also worked with a number of retired NFL coaches to create the Procoach Network, a consulting service dedicated to bringing retired NFL coaches in to serve high school and college teams. The service seeks to provide clients with NFL experienced coaches, featuring expert analysis, consultations, and training.

A native of Plainview Texas, Couch was born on Sept. 4, 1973. He is married (wife Jill), with three children (Mary, Rhett and Macy). He was a three-time All-Southeastern Conference Academic Team member at Vanderbilt, double-majoring in Pre-Med and Human Organization Development.

JEFF FRIDAY
ASSISTANT STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Jeff Friday is in his ninth season as Bengals assistant strength and conditioning coach. He is in his 21st NFL season, including nine seasons (1999-2007) as head S/C coach of the Baltimore Ravens.

His tenure with the Ravens included a Super Bowl championship in the 2000 season, when he was named Professional Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by a national vote of his peers.

In Cincinnati, Friday has been reunited with Chip Morton, Bengals head strength and conditioning coach since 2003. In Baltimore, Morton worked as an assistant under Friday from 1999-2001.

"I've known Jeff since the mid-'90s, and I have all the respect in the world for how he does the job," Morton said. "We are fortunate to have him on board."

Marvin Lewis, Bengals head coach, was defensive coordinator in Baltimore during Friday's first three seasons with the Ravens.

Friday has worked with the Bengals to help establish a program that features innovative ideas while never straying far from the fundamental principles of productive training. The work has helped the Bengals post a 65-45-2 record over the past seven seasons, with five playoff berths.

Friday began his coaching career in 1990-91 as a graduate assistant S/C coach at Illinois State. He was assistant S/C coach at Northwestern from 1992-95, and in '96, he entered the NFL as assistant S/C coach for the Minnesota Vikings. The Vikings made the playoffs in each of his three seasons.

JIM HASLETT
LINEBACKERS

Jim Haslett, a standout NFL linebacker from 1979-87 and formerly head coach of the New Orleans Saints and St. Louis Rams, is in his third season as Bengals linebackers coach.

This season is Haslett's 33rd in the NFL. The first nine were as a player, and this is his 24th season in coaching. He holds the three-part distinction of being the only person recognized as a College Football Hall of Fame member (as a player), an Associated Press NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year and an AP NFL Coach of the Year.

In 2017, Haslett's unit fought through a rash of injuries to help the defense rank sixth in the NFL in fewest yards per play (5.0), eighth against the pass (211.2 yards per game) and sixth in red-zone defense (46.4 percent). Vincent Rey (team-leading 84 tackles), Nick Vigil (77) and Vontaze Burfict (69) all finished in the top five on the team in tackles, despite missing a combined 13 games.

In 2016, Haslett's first in Cincinnati, the linebackers helped the Bengals' defense rank eighth in the NFL in fewest points allowed per game (19.7) and seventh in red-zone TD percentage (51.0).

This season, Haslett's LB corps will again be led by veterans Vontaze Burfict and Vincent Rey, along with unrestricted free agent signee Preston Brown, who led the NFL in tackles (144) last season. Haslett will also be charged with the continued development of young players like third-year pro Nick Vigil, second-year pro Jordan Evans and rookie second-round pick Malik Jefferson.

"Jim is just a very outstanding and thorough football coach," says Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis. "He has a tremendous background, including both as a head coach and a coordinator. It's a wealth of expertise and ideas that he brings us."

Haslett (pronounced "HAZ-lett") spent 2015 as a consultant to the Penn State University football program. His last NFL assignment was five years (2010-14) as defensive coordinator with Washington, working under head coach Mike Shanahan for the first four seasons and head coach Jay Gruden for the final one.

Haslett was head coach of the New Orleans Saints for six seasons (2000-05) and was head coach of the St. Louis Rams for the last 12 games of '08, after opening the season as defensive coordinator.

He was named Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year in 2000, when he took over the Saints and raised them from a 3-13 finish in 1999 to a 10-6 record and the NFC South championship. The Saints' 31-28 Wild Card playoff win that season over St. Louis was the first postseason victory in New Orleans franchise history.

Haslett's New Orleans record was 46-52, including 1-1 in postseason. He ranks third in Saints history in career wins. In 2008, he took over as head coach of the St. Louis Rams, when Scott Linehan was released after an 0-4 start, and he directed the team's only two victories on the year.

Haslett was also a head coach in the developmental United Football League in 2009, leading the Florida Tuskers to a 6-0 record before the team lost in overtime in the league championship game to a Las Vegas club coached by former N.Y. Giants head coach Jim Fassel.

A Pittsburgh native, Haslett was a four-time Little All-America defensive player (LB and DE) at Indiana (Pa.) University. He entered the NFL as a player in 1979, as a second-round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills. He earned AP Defensive Rookie of the Year honors in '79 and was an All-Pro selection in '80. JONATHAN HAYES
TIGHT ENDS

Jonathan Hayes, himself an NFL tight end for 12 seasons, returns in 2018 for his 16th year as Bengals tight ends coach. He has had a player in the Pro Bowl in three of the last seven seasons, a span in which the Bengals have posted a 65-45-2 record, with five playoff appearances. Additionally, he has also worked in recent seasons to make the H-back position a key part of the Cincinnati offense.

Tyler Eifert, Cincinnati's top TE and a Pro Bowler in 2015, was limited by injuries to just 10 games in '16 and '17, but when healthy he's proven to be one of the most productive TEs in the NFL. Under Hayes' direction, Eifert in 2015 scored 13 TDs, the most by a TE in team history, the most by any Bengal since 2001, and just one off the overall NFL lead for TDs for the year.

Last season, Hayes helped guide TE Tyler Kroft to a breakout year, with 42 catches for 404 yards and seven TDs.

Hayes guided TE Jermaine Gresham to Pro Bowl seasons in 2011 and '12. And in 2013, when he had 46 catches despite missing two games, Gresham fell just short of joining Mike Ditka as only the second NFL TE with 50-plus catches in each of his first four seasons.

In 2013, both Gresham and Eifert were in the starting base offense, the first Bengals base to feature two tight ends. They combined for 85 catches for 903 yards and six TDs.

Over Hayes' tenure, his tight ends have contributed to run-blocking efforts that have produced eight 1000-yard rushers, including an 1124-yard season in 2014 by rookie Jeremy Hill. Hill led the NFL in rushing over the season's last nine games.

The tight ends under Hayes also have contributed to pass blocking efforts that twice helped Cincinnati set a club record for fewest sacks allowed. A record of 21 was set in 2005, and that mark was re-written at 17 in '07. The Bengals were also in the NFL's top 10 for fewest sacks allowed in 2014 and '15.

Prior to joining the Bengals, Hayes spent four years (1999-2002) at the University of Oklahoma as tight ends coach and special teams coordinator. He helped the Sooners to a four-year record of 44-9, including a 13-0 mark in 2000 for the NCAA championship.

Under Hayes' tutelage, tight end Trent Smith finished his Oklahoma career in 2002 as the school's No. 2 all-time receiver, with 148 catches. Also in '02, Sooners special teams blocked seven kicks and had three punt returns for TDs.

Hayes began his NFL playing career in 1985 with the Kansas City Chiefs, as a second-round draft pick out of Iowa. He played for the Chiefs through 1993, serving as a team captain, and closed his NFL career with three seasons in Pittsburgh ('94-96). He had 153 career receptions for 1718 yards and 13 TDs.

He saw action in 184 NFL games with 122 starts, and he played all 16 games in each of his final six seasons. He played in three AFC Championship games and a Super Bowl (for Pittsburgh, vs. Dallas, in the 1995 season).

At the University of Iowa, he earned first-team All-America honors as a senior TE and was a team captain. He holds a degree from Iowa in general studies.

Hayes coached with his older brother, Jay, on the Bengals staff from 2003-15. A defensive line coach, Jay was on the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' staff from 2016-17 and currently is on the Green Bay Packers' staff.

Hayes' hometown is South Fayette, Pa. He attended South Fayette High School. He and his wife have four children.

Playing and coaching history: 1981-84—Played linebacker and tight end, Iowa. 1985-93—Played tight end, Kansas City Chiefs. 1994-96—Played tight end, Pittsburgh Steelers. 1999-2002—Assistant coach (AC), Oklahoma. 2003-present—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

DARONTE JONES
SECONDARY/CORNERBACKS

Daronte Jones in 2018 begins his third season as an NFL coach, and his first in Cincinnati. Jones will serve as Bengals secondary/cornerbacks coach, where he will lead a young and talented group of CBs, including William Jackson, Darqueze Dennard and Dre Kirkpatrick.

Jones spent 2016-17 with the Miami Dolphins as assistant defensive backs coach. Last season with Miami, Jones helped guide S Reshad Jones to a team-high 122 tackles and a berth in the Pro Bowl.

In 2016, his first season as an NFL coach, Jones helped the Dolphins record 16 INTs, third-most in the NFL. Miami also ranked fourth in the NFL in third-down defense, allowing opponents to convert on only 36.15 percent of attempts. Jones also aided in the development of Tony Lippett, a college WR turned NFL CB who led Miami with four INTs (11th in NFL) in just his second NFL season.

Prior to his time in Miami, Jones served as defensive backs coach at the University of Wisconsin in 2015. Jones helped the Badgers lead the nation with just seven passing TDs allowed. Wisconsin's passing defense ranked No. 2 in the Big Ten and No. 7 nationally (173.2 pass yards per game).

From 2012-14, Jones served as the secondary coach at the University of Hawaii — he also added the title of assistant head coach in 2014. Jones helped improve Hawaii's passing defense by 62.1 yards per game, as the Rainbow Warriors went from 85th nationally in 2011 to the 11th-best passing defense in '12.

Jones spent the 2011 season as the DBs coach for the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League. In 2010, he was cornerbacks coach for UCLA. From 2005-09, Jones was assistant head coach/defensive coordinator at Bowie State, where his defense finished in the top three nationally in three of his five seasons.

Prior to his time at Bowie State, Jones served as defensive coordinator at two Louisiana high schools — Jeannerette (2004) and Franklin (2003). He also spent one season (2002) coaching safeties at Nicholls State, after beginning his coaching career in '01 as a graduate assistant at Lenoir-Rhyne University in North Carolina.

Jones played four seasons at Morgan State before graduating in 2001. He is a native of Capital Heights, Maryland.

BILL LAZOR
OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Bill Lazor is in his 13th season as an NFL coach, third season on the Bengals' staff, and first full season as Cincinnati's offensive coordinator. Lazor joined the Bengals in 2016 as QBs coach, and was promoted to offensive coordinator prior to Game 3 in '17.

This season, Lazor is viewed by many as a new offensive coordinator, after using the offseason to incorporate his own offensive philosophy and install his own system. Last season, Lazor guided the offense to a strong finish after being thrust into the coordinator role in September due to the firing of OC Ken Zampese. WR A.J. Green posted another 1000-yard season en route to his seventh Pro Bowl nod, QB Andy Dalton passed for 25 TDs and posted an 86.6 rating, and rookie HB Joe Mixon, who started the season as the team's No. 3 HB, closed the season as the team's feature back and leading rusher (178 rushes, 626 yards and four TDs).

As Bengals quarterbacks coach in 2016, Lazor helped guide QB Andy Dalton to what head coach Marvin Lewis called the top season of Dalton's six in the NFL. Dalton performed under some adverse conditions, including being sacked as many times (41) as in the previous two seasons combined. He also had top receiving targets A.J. Green and Tyler Eifert fully healthy together for only two games. But Dalton passed for 4206 yards, second-most in franchise history, working with two new primary receivers in veteran free agent signee Brandon LaFell and rookie Tyler Boyd. Also, Dalton threw all 563 Bengals passes, and his interception total of eight constituted a team record for fewest INTs in a season. Dalton closed the season with this third Pro Bowl appearance.

Lazor's last assignment before Cincinnati was offensive coordinator at Miami, a position he held from 2014 through November of '15. With the Dolphins, Lazor aided in the development of QB Ryan Tannehill, who passed for 4045 yards in '14. Tannehill's 27 TD passes were the most by a Dolphins QB since 1994, when Hall of Famer Dan Marino had 30.

Lazor's 2014 offense also posted a 4.7-yard rushing average, ranked second in the NFL. The team averaged 24.3 points per game, the franchise's most since 1995, and Miami's 350.1 yards per game was also its most since '95. Lazor left the Dolphins after 11 games in 2015, as part of an ongoing staff shakeup that began with the release of head coach Joe Philbin.

In 2013 as QBs coach at Philadelphia, Lazor had a central role in Nick Foles winning the NFL passing title (119.2 rating). Foles passed for 27 TDs and two INTs, and led the NFL in yards per pass attempt (9.1) and TD percentage (8.5).

Prior to joining the Eagles, Lazor had a three-year stint in the college ranks, serving from 2010-12 as offensive coordinator and QBs coach at the University of Virginia. Under his guidance, the Cavaliers offense staged a dramatic turnaround, finishing third in the Atlantic Coast Conference in offense in '10 after ranking last in '09. That trend continued in '11, as the offense averaged 399.8 yards per game en route to the program's first bowl appearance in four years.

Lazor (pronounced as "laser") began his coaching career in 1994 at Cornell, his alma mater, and he debuted as an NFL coach in 2003, serving under Dan Reeves at Atlanta as an offensive assistant. He moved to the Washington Redskins, under Hall of Fame coach Joe Gibbs, as an offensive assistant for 2004-05 and as QBs coach for 2006-07.

Mike Holmgren, another head coach with a Super Bowl win on his resume, hired Lazor in 2008 as QBs coach with Seattle. Lazor coached two seasons with the Seahawks before moving on to Virginia.

Lazor is from Scranton, Pa. and was a three-year starting QB for Cornell. He was an All-Ivy League selection and a team captain, and he was named the team's Most Valuable Player as a senior in 1993. He completed his playing career with 26 program records for either passing or total offense.

Bill and his wife Nicole have a son, Nolan, and two daughters, Marin and Charlotte.

Playing and coaching history: 1990-93—Played QB at Cornell. 1994-2000—Assistant coach (AC), Cornell. 2001-02—Offensive coordinator/QBs coach, University of Buffalo. 2003—AC, Atlanta Falcons. 2004-07—AC, Washington Redskins. 2008-09—AC, Seattle Seahawks. 2010-12—Offensive coordinator/QBs coach, University of Virginia. 2013—AC, Philadelphia Eagles. 2014-15—Offensive coordinator, Miami Dolphins. 2016-17—AC, Cincinnati Bengals. 2017-present—Offensive coordinator, Bengals.

MARCUS LEWIS
DEFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL/ LINEBACKERS

Marcus Lewis, a former college linebacker, is in his fifth year on the Bengals staff in 2018, serving as Defensive Quality Control coach, with an emphasis on the linebackers. This will be Lewis' first season assisting with the linebackers, after spending the last two seasons with the defensive line.

During Lewis' time with the defensive line, DT Geno Atkins earned two Pro Bowl nods and twice led all NFL interior linemen in sacks (nine in both seasons). In 2016, Atkins was named Defensive MVP of the AFC North Division in a vote of ESPN.com division beat writers.

Lewis also helped DE Carlos Dunlap to two productive seasons, including a Pro Bowl nod in 2016. Dunlap posted 7.5 sacks in 2017, bringing his career total to 64.5, second all-time in Bengals history. In '16, Dunlap was second on the team in sacks (eight) and had a remarkable 15 passes defensed. He was the first defensive lineman to lead the Bengals in PDs, and his total was nearly twice that of the closest NFL defensive lineman in 2016 (Giants DE Jason Pierre-Paul, with eight).

Last season, the defensive line helped lead the Bengals defense to a No. 6 NFL ranking in total yards per play (5.0) and No. 9 in sacks per pass play (0.11). The line also played a key role in helping the Bengals rank sixth in the NFL in red-zone defense, allowing TDs on only 46.4 percent of trips inside the 20-yard line. In 2016, the line helped the defense to a No. 8 NFL ranking in fewest points allowed per game (19.7).

Lewis also has duties with the scout teams, in addition to working with team self-scouting, film breakdown and practice organization.

As a defensive assistant in 2015, Lewis contributed to an effort that yielded the second-fewest points (279, 17.4 per game) in the NFL, the highest league ranking in Bengals history. Cincinnati led the AFC and allowed just two more points than league-leading Arizona.

Lewis joined the staff in 2014, Paul Guenther's first season as defensive coordinator. In '14, the Bengals ranked 12th in the NFL in fewest points allowed (21.5 per game), and the defense ranked in the top 10 in nine of the 15 major statistical categories widely monitored by NFL coaching staffs. Among those top 10 rankings were a tied-for-third-place finish in INTs (20) and a third place in lowest aggregate passer rating by opponents (75.8).

Lewis came to the Bengals from the University of Cincinnati, where he worked in 2013 as an assistant to the coaching staff. UC's defense ranked No. 9 nationally in '13 in fewest yards allowed (315.6 per game), and Lewis played a role in coaching top performers Silverberry Mouhon and Brad Harrah.

The son of Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis, Marcus was born in Albuquerque, N.M. on March 28, 1990. He played high school football in Greater Cincinnati, at Indian Hill, and went on to play LB for four seasons (2008-11) at Indiana State, seeing action in 33 career games. He holds a degree from Indiana State in sports management.

Playing and coaching history: 2008-11—Played linebacker, Indiana State. 2013—Assistant to the coaching staff, University of Cincinnati. 2014-present—Assistant coach, Cincinnati Bengals.

ROBERT LIVINGSTON
SECONDARY/SAFETIES

Robert Livingston, a Bengals scout from 2012-14, is in his fourth season on the coaching staff in '18. For the third straight season, he has the title of secondary coach, and this season has added a focus on the safeties.

Under Livingston's guidance last season, the secondary aided a Bengals defense that ranked eighth in the NFL against the pass (211.2 yards per game) and sixth in fewest yards per play (5.0). Six different defensive backs recorded at least one INT, including two players — CBs William Jackson and Darqueze Dennard — with pick-sixes. The secondary also played a significant role in helping the Bengals rank sixth in the NFL in red-zone defense, allowing TDs on only 46.4 percent of trips inside the 20-yard line.

Livingston helped the secondary to a productive year in 2016 as well, as Cincinnati finished just one short of the NFL interceptions lead, with 17, and DBs had 13 of the team's 17 picks. Bengals opponents managed an aggregate passer rating of just 83.1, fifth-lowest in the NFL, and Cincinnati yielded the league's fourth-lowest average gain per completion, at 10.7 yards. The Bengals finished 2016 ranked eighth in the NFL in fewest points allowed (19.7).

In 2015, Livingston did on-field work with the defensive secondary, while working in defensive quality control and also as a special teams assistant. His defensive efforts helped the Bengals to a No. 2 NFL rank in fewest points allowed, at 17.4 per game. It was the highest NFL scoring-defense ranking in franchise history, and the Bengals ranked first in the AFC.

The 2015 Bengals ranked third in the NFL in INTs (21), and 17 of the picks were by defensive backs. Also, the Bengals ranked second in fewest TD passes allowed (18), and Cincinnati's plus-three differential (21-18) between INTs and TD passes allowed tied eventual NFC champion Carolina for tops in the league. No other teams were in the plus column. Two Bengals DBs, S Reggie Nelson and CB Adam Jones, were selections for the 2015 season Pro Bowl.

With the special teams in '15, Livingston helped kick coverage standout Cedric Peerman earn his first Pro Bowl berth. DE Carlos Dunlap was one of only two NFL players to block two FGs, and the Bengals ranked seventh in the NFL in punt coverage (6.3 yards per return) and 12th in kickoff coverage (20.6).

Livingston came to the Bengals from Vanderbilt University, where he served in 2011 as defensive quality control coach. He was on the Furman University football staff in 2010.

As a Bengals scout, Livingston covered the Southeast, primarily the Southeastern and Atlantic Coast conferences, and he had a role in evaluating defensive backs from across the nation.

At Vanderbilt, Livingston coached two defensive backs who made the NFL (CB Casey Hayward and S Sean Richardson). At Furman, Livingston's primary coaching duties were with safeties.

A native of Hendersonville, N.C., Livingston was a two-time Athlete of the Year at Hendersonville High School. He played free safety at the College of William & Mary from 2007-09, contributing to one of the top defensive units in the NCAA's FCS ranks. He graduated from William & Mary with a degree in kinesiology.

Livingston and his wife, Tricia, have a son, Luke, and a daughter, Emma.

Playing and coaching/scouting history: 2007-09—Played safety, William & Mary. 2010—Assistant coach (AC), Furman. 2011—AC, Vanderbilt. 2012-14—Scout, Cincinnati Bengals. 2015-present—AC, Bengals.

CHIP MORTON
STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Chip Morton is in his 16th season as Bengals strength and conditioning coach. He took over the position when Marvin Lewis became head coach in 2003. Throughout his tenure, Morton and his staff have studied trends in athlete preparation to improve their program, which is built on a sound foundation of productive training principles. Their work has helped the team post a 65-45-2 record over the past seven seasons, with five playoff berths.

The Bengals' strength and conditioning program is comprehensive in scope and progressive in its design. At its very core lies a foundation of traditional training principles, with an emphasis on teaching, relationship-building and service to the players. Morton and assistant S/C coach Jeff Friday both have coached on teams that have reached the Super Bowl.

"Chip and his staff bring experience, knowledge and an ability to effectively communicate," says Lewis. "All of that helps to draw the best out of our players. Our strength and conditioning program, our sports science program, and our athletic training department all work together to improve our players' football performance and to increase their resistance to injuries."

Morton was a coaching colleague of Lewis with the Baltimore Ravens from 1999-2001, serving as Ravens assistant strength and conditioning coach, and he was with Lewis in '02 at Washington, serving as head strength and conditioning coach for the Redskins.

Morton is in his 27th NFL season, having also served as strength and conditioning assistant at San Diego from 1992-94 and as head strength and conditioning coach at Carolina from '95-98. He has coached with two Super Bowl teams — the 1994 Chargers and the 2000 World Champion Ravens.

He started his career in the collegiate ranks, serving as assistant strength coach at Ohio State (1985-86) while completing his master's degree in physical education. He moved to Penn State in 1987 as the first-ever full-time strength and conditioning assistant for Nittany Lions football. He also worked with 14 other men's and women's sports during his five years (1987-91) at Penn State.

Morton's hometown is Hamden, Conn. He graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1985 with a degree in zoology, where he also earned a varsity letter in swimming.

Continuing education is a priority in Morton's continued growth as a coach and teacher. In 2016, Morton completed coursework to qualify him as a Level 2 Original Strength Coach. Also in '16, he and his staff were a part of the first Level 1 coaching certification in the Stick Mobility system. In addition, he is a Level 1 Sports Performance Coach in the United States Weightlifting Association, and he has been a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (C.S.C.S.) in the National Strength & Conditioning Association since 1990. In 2006, Morton became the first NFL strength coach to receive the Russian Kettlebell Instructor's Certification (RKC), and in '08, he was certified as a Level 1 coach in John Brookfield's Battling Ropes training system.

Morton and his wife Stacey have seven children.

Coaching history: 1985-86—Assistant strength and conditioning (S/C) coach, Ohio State. 1987-91—Assistant S/C coach, Penn State. 1992-94—Assistant S/C coach, San Diego Chargers. 1995-98—Head S/C coach, Carolina Panthers. 1999-2001—Assistant S/C coach, Baltimore Ravens. 2002—Head S/C coach, Washington Redskins. 2003-present—Head S/C coach, Cincinnati Bengals.

DAN PITCHER
OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT/QUARTERBACKS

Dan Pitcher is in his third season on the Bengals coaching staff, serving as offensive assistant, with a focus on the quarterbacks. Pitcher spent the last two seasons as an offensive assistant, with a focus on the wide receivers.

This season, Pitcher and QBs coach Alex Van Pelt will help guide veteran QB Andy Dalton through a transition into a new offensive system. They'll also look to develop depth behind Dalton in the QBs room, after the departure of unrestricted free agent AJ McCarron, who had served as Dalton's backup since 2015.

Over the last two seasons, Pitcher's work with the receivers helped integrate young wideouts into the offense, and contributed to two Pro Bowl seasons by star WR A.J. Green (Green has seven total Pro Bowl nominations). Last season, Green again topped 1000 yards receiving and hauled in eight TDs. Pitcher contributed to the development of young WRs Tyler Boyd, Josh Malone and John Ross, though Ross' rookie season in '17 was limited due to injuries.

In 2016, Pitcher's first year in Cincinnati, the Bengals looked to fill the void of WRs Marvin Jones and Mohamed Sanu, who left in free agency prior to the season. Boyd, a rookie, and veteran free agent Brandon LaFell did just that, combining for 118 catches for 1465 yards and seven TDs, comfortably outpacing the total of 98 catches and 1210 yards produced by Jones and Sanu in 2015, in what was their best combined year.

Prior to joining the Bengals, Pitcher spent four seasons in player personnel with the Indianapolis Colts. He served in 2014-15 as a pro scout, promoted to that position after working as a scouting assistant from '12-13.

With the Colts, Pitcher was part of a football operation that compiled a 41-23 regular-season record (.641), with three playoff berths, including two AFC South championships, and one trip to the AFC Championship Game. Pitcher was responsible for advance scouting reports on opponents, evaluation of free agents, monitoring rosters and evaluating players on other teams.

Before joining the Colts, Pitcher began 2012 coaching wide receivers at his alma mater, Cortland State, a part of New York's state university system. From 2009-11, he was a three-year starter at quarterback for Cortland State and was a finalist as a senior for the Gagliardi Trophy, presented annually to the most outstanding Division III football player.

Pitcher was born in Cortland, N.Y. on Jan. 13, 1987, and lives in Cincinnati with his wife, Marissa. He graduated from Cortland State with a bachelor's degree in psychology in 2010, and he earned a master's degree in sport management in '11.

Playing, scouting and coaching history: 2008-11—Played QB at SUNY Cortland. 2012—Assistant coach (AC), Cortland State. 2012-13—Scouting assistant, Indianapolis Colts. 2014-15—Pro scout, Indianapolis Colts. 2016-present—AC, Bengals.

FRANK POLLACK
OFFENSIVE LINE

Frank Pollack in 2018 enters his 12th NFL season as a coach, and his first with Cincinnati. He is charged with leading a re-vamped Bengals offensive line that includes first-round draft pick C Billy Price, offseason acquisition OT Cordy Glenn and veteran G Clint Boling.

Pollack comes to Cincinnati after spending the last five seasons (2013-17) coaching the offensive line in Dallas, where he developed that unit into one of the most dominant in all of football. Over his tenure, he aided in the development of three All-Pro linemen in OT Tyron Smith, C Travis Frederick and G Zack Martin, and he helped the line pave the way for two different RBs who led the NFL in rushing — Ezekiel Elliott in 2016, and DeMarco Murray in '14.

Last season, despite multiple key injuries along the offensive line, Pollack again guided three linemen — Smith, Frederick and Martin — to the Pro Bowl. Pollack's line helped support a 4.52-yard average per rush for the team, ranked third in the NFL. The line also played a role in QB Dak Prescott rushing for a 357 yards, the most ever by a Dallas QB.

Under Pollack's direction in 2016, Dallas' offensive line was named the NFL's Offensive Line of the Year, with Smith, Frederick and Martin all earning both Pro Bowl and All Pro honors. Pollack's unit paved the way for the NFL's leading rusher in Elliott (1631 yards), a rookie, as Dallas finished second in the NFL in rushing yards per game (149.8) and third in yards per carry (4.8). Behind the offensive line's protection, Cowboys QB Dak Prescott was named the NFL's Offensive Rookie of the Year and broke single-season team records for passing yards (3667), passing TDs (23) and completion percentage (67.8). The offensive line aided in the Cowboys ranking second in the NFL in time of possession (31:41), while adding 35 drives of five or more minutes, with 30 going for scores — both were tops in the NFL.

In 2015, Pollack's first season leading Dallas' offensive line, Smith, Frederick and Martin all earned both Pro Bowl and All Pro honors. Pollack's line paved the way for Dallas' offense to rack up 1890 rushing yards (ninth in the NFL) and average 4.63 yards per carry (fifth). The Cowboys' 2354 rushing yards from 2014-15 were the most back-to-back for a Dallas team since the Cowboys' Super Bowl seasons of 1992 and '93.

In 2014, Pollack served as Dallas' assistant offensive line coach during a season in which the Cowboys' renewed focus produced a 4.63-yard rushing average, ranked third in the NFL. The line helped Murray rush for a franchise-record and NFL-best 1845 yards, earning him AP Offensive Player of the Year honors. The line also played a key role in the Cowboys ranking No. 1 in the NFL in time of possession (32:36).

In 2013, Pollack's first season in Dallas, the line helped the Cowboys finish fifth in the NFL in scoring (398 points) and eighth in yards per carry (4.48), and the unit allowed the seventh-fewest sacks in the league (35).

Prior to Dallas, Pollack was offensive line coach of Oakland in 2012, where his line guided the Raiders to a No. 8 NFL ranking in passing offense.

Prior to his time in Oakland, Pollack served as assistant offensive line coach for the Houston Texans. In 2011, Houston's line paved the way for a franchise-record 153-yard per game rushing average (second in the NFL). The line included second-team All-Pro OT Duane Brown, along with C Chris Myers, who earned a Pro Bowl nod.

Pollack also helped guide the Texans' line to success in 2010, when it blocked for Arian Foster, the NFL's leader in rushing yards (1616) and TDs (18).

Before joining the pro ranks, Pollack began his coaching career at his alma mater, Northern Arizona, where he served as co-offensive line coach in 2005 and offensive line coach in '06.

A sixth-round draft choice by San Francisco in 1990, Pollack played two seasons (1990-91) with the 49ers, before joining Denver for two seasons ('92-93). He then re-joined San Francisco for the final five years of his playing career (1994-98), and helped the 49ers to a Super Bowl championship in '94.

In college, Pollack played both offensive tackle and guard at Northern Arizona from 1985-89. He graduated with a degree in advertising from NAU in 1990, and in 2010 he was inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame.

Pollack and his wife, Wendy, have three sons — Frankie, Carter and Wilson.

Playing and coaching history: 1985-89—Played offensive tackle/guard at Northern Arizona. 1990-97—Played offensive tackle/guard for the San Francisco 49ers. 2005-06—Assistant coach (AC), Northern Arizona. 2007-11—AC, Houston Texans. 2012—AC, Oakland Raiders. 2013-17—AC, Dallas Cowboys. 2018—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

MATT RAICH
DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT/ ASSISTANT DEFENSIVE LINE

Matt Raich joins the Bengals in 2018 as defensive assistant/defensive line coach, after spending the last four seasons with the Detroit Lions. Raich served as a defensive assistant/defensive ends coach with the Lions under defensive coordinator Teryl Austin, who in 2018 begins his tenure as Bengals defensive coordinator.

During his tenure in Detroit, Raich contributed to defensive units that ranked in the top 10 among all NFL teams in a four-year span (2014-17) in total yards per game (10th; 340.3), rushing yards per game (eighth; 100.3) and number of games in which opponents were held to 20 points or less (tied for sixth; 34).

Last season, Raich helped Detroit rank third in the NFL in takeaways (32), tie for second in fumble recoveries (13) and tie for fifth in turnover differential (plus-10).

In 2016, Raich helped the Lions defense tie for second in the NFL by holding opponents to 21 points or less in 10 games, including an eight-week streak (Weeks 7-15) in which the Lions compiled a 6-2 record. The defense played a key role in helping Detroit qualify for the playoffs.

In 2015, Raich's first with an official focus on the defensive ends, Detroit's defense compiled 43 sacks (seventh in the NFL) and 98 tackles for losses. He also helped guide star DE Ezekiel Ansah to his first-career Pro Bowl berth and a career-high 14.5 sacks (third in the NFL). Over the final eight games of the 2015 season, the defense allowed only 19.4 points (seventh in the NFL) and 313.3 yards (eighth) per game, helping the Lions to a 6-2 record over that span.

In 2014, Raich helped the Lions finish second in the league in total defense (300.9 yards per game) and third in scoring defense (17.6). The unit also ranked first in the NFL in rush defense, and their average yield of only 69.3 yards was the ninth-best opponent per-game rushing average in NFL history.

Prior to his time in Detroit, Raich gained NFL experience as an assistant on with Pittsburgh (2002-06) and Arizona (2007-12), where he helped both to Super Bowl appearances (Steelers won the Super Bowl in 2005).

In Arizona, Raich served as a defensive assistant for two seasons (2007-08), before serving as linebackers coach for four seasons (2009-12). During his tenure, he worked with powerful Cardinals defenses that included DE Bertrand Berry, LB Karlos Dansby and LB Joey Porter. In 2008, Raich helped the Cardinals to a Super Bowl appearance. In his six seasons in Arizona, Raich helped a Cardinals linebacker reach 100-plus tackles in a single season five times.

Raich's first NFL experience came with the Steelers, where he worked as a player personnel intern from 2002-03 before moving to an offensive assistant role from 2004-06, where he worked under offensive coordinator Ken Wisenhunt for three seasons. In 2005, Raich's second season as a full-time NFL coach, the Steelers won Super Bowl XL.

Raich's other coaching stops include assistant coach positions at Duquesne (2013), Robert Morris (2000-02; 1996-98), Glenville State (1999) and Westminster (Pa.) College (1993-94). He was also the defensive coordinator for the Hildesheim Invaders of the former German Federal League in 1999.

Raich played linebacker from 1989-94 at Westminster (Pa.) College, where he finished his collegiate career as the leading tackler in school history, earning three NAIA All-America Awards. His Westminster teams won 42 of 48 games, including the NAIA National Championship in 1989.

Raich was born August 16, 1970. A Monaca, Pa. native, he is married to his wife, Amanda. Together they have a daughter, Seraphina.

DARRIN SIMMONS
SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

Darrin Simmons is in his 16th season leading the coaching of Cincinnati's special teams, and for the sixth straight season in 2018, he carries the title of special teams coordinator. His squads have helped the Bengals reach the playoffs five times in the last seven seasons. And in the long-established special teams rankings done annually by the Dallas Morning News, incorporating 22 categories of special teams play, the Bengals have had three top 10 finishes in the last six years.

Simmons' units have produced a Pro Bowler in three of the last four seasons. In 2017, veteran long snapper Clark Harris earned his first nod. Harris, who has been coached by Simmons his entire Bengals career, enters 2018 with no unplayable snaps in 1292 career deliveries, including 143 last season (89 punts, 54 placekicks).

In 2016, Simmons guided the unexpected rise of college free agent Alex Erickson to the AFC kickoff return title, with a 27.9 average (on 29 returns). Although he did not make the Pro Bowl, Erickson ranked second in the NFL, and his average was the second-best in Bengals history, behind only the NFL-leading 31.3 mark that CB Adam Jones posted under Simmons in 2014. Erickson became the first Bengal with three KOR of 65 or more yards in a season.

In 2015, HB Cedric Peerman made the Pro Bowl as a kick coverage and return-unit performer. Peerman's 17 tackles tied for the Bengals' highest total since 2008, and he had 13 solo stops, leading the Bengals to a No. 3 NFL ranking in opponents' average drive start on kickoffs (20.2 yard line).

Simmons' Pro Bowl player in 2014 was P Kevin Huber, who posted franchise records for gross (46.8) and net (42.1) average, re-setting club marks he already held. The Bengals vested Simmons in 2009 with a fifth-round draft choice for Huber, a relatively high spot for a kicking specialist, and Huber has responded under Simmons' tutelage, holding franchise career records for gross (45.0) and net (39.8), and for best ratio of inside-20 punts to touchbacks (4.02-to-1).

In '14, when Adam Jones led the NFL in kickoff returns, he also finished second in the league in punt returns (12.0), just missing becoming the first player since Detroit's Mel Gray in 1991 to lead the league in both categories.

Simmons' Bengals special teams have shown a nose for the ball, forcing 26 fumbles in his 15 completed seasons. The 1.7 average comfortably outpaces the 1.0 norm for the nine seasons prior to his tenure.

Simmons entered the NFL in the 1998 season on the same Baltimore Ravens staff as Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis, who was Ravens defensive coordinator at the time. Simmons was assistant special teams coach and assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Ravens, and he held that same role for the Carolina Panthers from 1999-2002. He joined the Bengals in 2003.

Simmons played an integral role at Carolina in the development of Todd Sauerbrun as one of the NFL's top punters of the time.

Simmons began his coaching career at Kansas University in 1996. He punted for Kansas from 1993-95, earning All-Big Eight honors his final year. As a senior, he helped the Jayhawks to a top 10 national ranking and to an Aloha Bowl victory over UCLA. Also as a Kansas senior, he won honors as an academic All-American.

Prior to playing for Kansas, Simmons was a punter and QB for Dodge City (Kan.) Community College. In 1992 at Dodge City, he led the nation's junior colleges in punting and was a first-team JUCO All-American.

Simmons earned a degree in sports management from Kansas in 1996.

Born April 9, 1973, in Elkhart, Kan., he graduated from Elkhart High School. He and his wife, Rhonda, have a daughter and two sons.

Playing and coaching history: 1991-92—Played quarterback and punter, Dodge City (Kan.) Community College. 1993-95—Played punter, Kansas. 1996—Graduate assistant, Kansas. 1997—Assistant coach (AC), University of Minnesota. 1998—AC, Baltimore Ravens. 1999-2002—AC, Carolina Panthers. 2003-12—AC, Cincinnati Bengals. 2013-present—Special teams coordinator, Bengals.

ALEX VAN PELT
QUARTERBACKS

Alex Van Pelt in 2018 enters his 13th season as an NFL coach, and first with the Bengals. He will be charged with leading Andy Dalton and the Bengals quarterbacks as Cincinnati transitions to a new offensive system under coordinator Bill Lazor.

Van Pelt comes to Cincinnati after spending the last six seasons with Green Bay, where he coached All Pro Aaron Rodgers and the Packers QBs the last four seasons (served as QBs/WRs coach in 2015). Van Pelt was Packers RBs coach his first two years (2012-13).

With the Packers, Van Pelt helped Rodgers become one of the top NFL players. In his four seasons working with Green Bay's QBs, Rodgers passed for 125 TDs (tied for second most in the NFL) and had three straight seasons (2014-17) of 500-plus attempts with eight or fewer INTs, the longest streak in league history (did not record 500 attempts in '17 due to injury).

Last season, Van Pelt helped guide Green Bay through a Week 6 injury to Rodgers that resulted in backup Brett Hundley starting 10 games.

Under Van Pelt in 2016, Rodgers ranked No. 1 in the NFL with 40 TD passes, on the way to his sixth career Pro Bowl selection. Rodgers set a franchise single-season record for completions with 401 and ranked, No. 4 in passer rating (104.2). Rodgers became just the second QB in NFL history (Tom Brady, 2015) to post 600-plus attempts and seven or fewer INTs in a season.

In 2015, Van Pelt served as QBs/WRs coach. He helped Rodgers to another Pro Bowl season in which he tied for the league lead in completions of 25-plus yards (39) and ranked third in TD/INT ratio (3.88) and INT percentage (1.40). With 572 attempts and just eight INTs, Rodgers posted his fifth season with 500-plus attempts and eight or fewer INTs, the most in NFL history.

In 2014, his first season leading Green Bay's QBs, Van Pelt helped Rodgers to his second career NFL Most Valuable Player award (AP) and a Pro Bowl berth. Van Pelt guided him to a No. 2 league ranking in passer rating (112.2), No. 3 in TD passes (38), No. 1 in TD/INT ratio (7.60, 38/5) and No. 2 in yards per attempt (8.43). He was the only QB in the league to finish in the top three in all four of those categories. Rodgers posted 13 zero-INT games, the third-most in league history, and registered eight games on the season with three-plus TDs/zero INTs, tying Brady (2007) for the single-season NFL record.

In 2013, as RBs coach for the Packers, Van Pelt helped three different running backs to 100-yard games — Eddie Lacy, Johnathan Franklin and James Starks. Lacy also earned a Pro Bowl nod and was named the NFL's Offensive Rookie of the Year (AP).

Prior to his time in Green Bay, Van Pelt was QBs coach for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, where he helped develop Josh Freeman, who threw for a combined 7043 yards from 2010-11, the most passing yards by a Tampa Bay QB over a two-year period to that point in franchise annals.

Prior to his time in Tampa Bay, Van Pelt spent four seasons (2006-09) on the Buffalo Bills' coaching staff. He served as offensive quality control coach from 2006-07 and QBs coach from '08-09. He was promoted to offensive coordinator in September 2009.

In 2006, Van Pelt served as QBs coach/passing coordinator with the University at Buffalo. In 2005, he volunteered with the Bills as an offensive quality control coach after spending the 2005 NFL Europe season as the Frankfurt Galaxy's QBs coach.

Van Pelt originally was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the eighth round of the 1993 NFL Draft and later signed with Buffalo as a free agent in 1995. He spent his entire nine-year career (1995-2003) with the Bills and played in 31 games with 11 starts while amassing 2,985 yards passing and 16 touchdowns.

In college, Van Pelt was a four-year starter (1989-92) at the University of Pittsburgh, where he set Pitt career records for most passing yards (11,267), completions (867) and attempts (1503). He became only the fifth collegiate player to throw for 2000 yards in four consecutive seasons.

Born May 1, 1970, in Pittsburgh, Pa., Van Pelt and his wife, Brooke, have two daughters, Payton Dale and Katherine Paige, and son, Jack MacGregor.

Playing and coaching history: 1989-92—Played quarterback at the University of Pittsburgh. 1995-2003—Played quarterback for the Buffalo Bills. 2005—Assistant coach (AC), Frankfurt Galaxy (NFLE). 2005—Volunteer AC, Buffalo Bills. 2006—AC, University at Buffalo. 2006-09—AC, Buffalo Bills. 2009—Offensive coordinator, Buffalo Bills. 2010-11—AC, Tampa Bay Buccaneers. 2012-17—AC, Green Bay Packers. 2018—AC, Cincinnati Bengals.

Bengals' top draft pick in 2016 was praised by observers in '17 as one of Cincinnati's top young players after outstanding first season of action ... Did not play in 2016 rookie season after suffering torn pectoral muscle early in training camp ... Thrust into action early in '17, and consistent production earned him increased playing time as season progressed ... Played in 15 games with five starts, with only missed game coming Nov. 19 at Denver due to toe injury ... Saw action on 697 of 1146 possible snaps on defense (61 percent) ... Finished with 14 PDs, which tied for team lead ... His one INT — his career first — came on Sept. 24 at G.B., when he jumped an Aaron Rodgers pass intended for WR Jordy Nelson and returned it 75 yards for a TD; it was only the second pick-six of Rodgers' career, and Jackson became just the 14th player in Bengals history to score on his first career INT (the first since DE Carlos Dunlap in 2012).

Previous seasons: 2016—Suffered torn pectoral muscle tendon in practice on Aug. 1 ... Placed on Reserved/Injured list on Sept. 4 ... Was eligible to return to roster late in the season, however Bengals opted instead to activate HB Cedric Peerman due to injuries in the backfield.

Houston career totals included eight INTs, 48 total PDs, 115 tackles, three FRs and two FFs ... Though he played only three seasons, his 40 career pass breakups rank third in UH history ... Helped lead '15 Cougars to a 13-1 record, tied for best in school history, and to best national ranking (eighth) since 1979 ... His five INTs in '15 included two returned for TDs ... His Defensive MVP performance in '15 season Peach Bowl win over Florida State included two INTs, two additional pass breakups and a career-high 10 tackles.

JEFFERSON, MALIK — LB #45

Height: 6-2
Weight: 241
College: Texas
Experience: Rookie in 2018

2017 games-starts: 0-0
Career games-starts: 0-0
Born: 11-15-96
Hometown: Mesquite, Texas
Acquired: D3b'18

The second of two Bengals third-round picks, Jefferson adds speed and athleticism to Cincinnati's LB corps ... Played three seasons (2014-17) at Texas, seeing action in 34 games with 30 starts, before entering the NFL draft after his junior season ... As a junior in 2017, was named Big 12 Co-Defensive Player of the Year, first-team All-Big 12 (coaches and AP), second-team All-American (AP) and a Butkus Award (nation's top LB) semifinalist ... Career totals at Texas of 233 tackles, including 25.5 for losses and 12 sacks, along with six pass breakups, two FFs and a FR.

Career transactions: Drafted by Cincinnati in third round of 2018 NFL Draft (78th overall) ... Signed with Bengals on 6-21-18.

Head coach Marvin Lewis says: "With Malik Jefferson, you've got another linebacker that can really run, is really physical, and he's 230 pounds already. These last couple linebackers (we drafted), when they got here, they were 228, and he's already 230-something. So you're talking about guys that are going to be NFL-size guys very quickly. We liked that about him."

Linebackers coach Jim Haslett says: "He was a five-star athlete coming out (of high school). He's a big kid, at 6-2, 243 pounds. It adds to what we've done the last couple of years with Nick Vigil, a linebacker who can run, and Jordan Evans. This was another guy who ran a 4.5. He's got great speed. He's got great size and good position. He's a three-year starter at Texas. He was a captain as a junior, and then came out early. He's got a lot of upside to him."

College highlights: Spent three seasons (2014-17) at Texas ... Played in 33 games, with 29 starts ... WALTON, MARK — HB #32

Height: 5-10
Weight: 202
College: Miami
Experience: Rookie in 2018

2017 games-starts: 0-0
Career games-starts: 0-0
Born: 3-29-97
Hometown: Miami, Fla.
Acquired: D4'18

Bengals' fourth-round draft pick out of Miami is noted by scouts for his athleticism and versatility ... Played three seasons at Miami, however his 2017 campaign was limited by injury to just four games ... In 30 career games for the Hurricanes, he compiled 2630 total yards (2006 rushing, 624 receiving) with 28 TDs (26 rushing, two receiving) ... In 2016, his only full season as starter, he rushed for the seventh-most yards (1117) and third-most rushing TDs (14) in program history, with six 100-yard rushing games ... Noted by Bengals coaches for his valuable contributions on special teams throughout his Miami career.

Career transactions: Drafted by Cincinnati in fourth round of 2018 NFL Draft (112th overall) ... Signed with Bengals on 5-12-18.

Head coach Marvin Lewis says: "Before the injury (as a senior), he did a great job being a fine open-field runner. He's a real complete player, running and catching. He was a big contributor for them on special teams. The coaches (at Miami) spoke very highly of him — his character as a person and how he fit on their football team, along with what he meant to their team, day-in and day-out. We feel blessed, as he was our target in (the fourth) round. We were able to pick him, so we feel really good about that."

Running backs coach Kyle Caskey says: "If you go back to 2016 and even 2017 before he got hurt, he's an elusive guy when he gets in space and is a real threat. He can still do all of the other normal running plays you want, but he falls into a Giovani Bernard type of category, if you want to look at it that way. He's very elusive in space and has enough speed to make breakaway runs happen. Like we've said, he's a tough kid. He plays a lot bigger than what he weighs in at. He will come in immediately and add to the current room we have."

College highlights: Spent three years (2015-17) at Miami ... Entered NFL Draft after junior season ... Played in 30 career games, with 17 starts ... Totaled 395 rushes for 2006 yards (5.1) and 26 TDs, along with 56 catches for 624 yards (11.1) and two TDs. 2017—Started four games before suffering season-ending injury at Florida State ... Totaled 56 carries for 428 yards and three TDs before the injury ... Also added seven catches for 91 yards ... Rushed for career-high 204 yards on just 11 carries (18.5 yards per carry) in win over Toledo, including a career-long 82-yard run. It was just the seventh 200-yard rushing performance in Miami history. 2016—Started all 13 games ... Earned third-team All-ACC honors (coaches and media) ... Totaled 209 rushes for 1117 yards (seventh-most in program history) and 14 TDs (third-most in program history), and added 27 catches for 240 yards and one TD ... Had six 100-yard rushing games ... Made first career start vs. Florida A&M, and rushed for 116 yards on 15 carries (7.7), with one TD ... Logged 17 carries for 155 yards (9.1) and career-high four TDs vs. Florida Atlantic ... In win vs. Appalachian State, rushed for 130 yards on 16 carries, with two TDs ... Rushed 14-for-125 with a 55-yard TD vs. Pittsburgh ... WEEK 1, GAME 1

Baltimore Ravens 20, Cincinnati Bengals 0
Sunday, Sept. 10, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals had looked forward to their first regular-season opener at home in eight seasons (the last opener at home had been in 2009), but the Ravens made sure that Cincinnati's three-game winning streak in openers ended in front of the team's home crowd at Paul Brown Stadium. Turnover differential and drives inside the opponent's 20-yard line proved to be the major differences in this game. The Bengals were minus-four in turnover differential (four INTs and one fumble to the Ravens' one INT) and failed to score on any of their three drives inside the Ravens' 20-yard line (those drives ended on an INT, a fumble, and on downs). Meanwhile, on three drives inside the Bengals' 20-yard line, the Ravens came away with three scores (one TD and two FGs). QB Andy Dalton recorded his lowest passer rating since November of 2014, though two of his four interceptions occurred on deflected passes. The shutout was just the second in a regular-season opener in Bengals history, and the first since since 1979.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

Houston Texans 13, Cincinnati Bengals 9
Thursday, Sept. 14, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals' defense had a solid game, but for the second straight week, the offense's inability to score a TD crippled the team's chances for a win. The defense gave up just 13 points, 98 net passing yards and 266 yards overall, but story of the game was three Cincinnati drives inside the Texans' 20-yard line, and just three field goals to show for it. The Texans had huge play in the game, and it proved to be the difference. QB Deshaun Watson scrambled 49 yards on a broken pass play on third-and 15 for a 49-yard TD with 50 seconds left in the first half. With with just under seven minutes left in the third quarter, Bengals QB Andy Dalton hit TE Tyler Eifert for an apparent TD, but the play was taken away because Eifert had stepped out of bounds and the officials ruled he had not re-established himself inbounds before becoming the first player to touch the ball. Bengals DT Geno Atkins had two sacks for the Bengals, extending to six the number of consecutive games in which he had recorded at least a half sack, which tied for the longest such streak in Bengals history. The Bengals fell to 0-2, while the Texans improved to 1-1.

Sunday, Sept. 24, 2017 at Lambeau Field

The Bengals' offense, which had not scored a TD in either of the first two games, scored TDs on two of its first three possessions. Behind those scores and an INT returned for a TD by CB William Jackson, the Bengals jumped out to a 21-7 lead on the defending NFC North Champions and controlled that advantage for most of the game. In the first half, Cincinnati outgained Green Bay in net yards, 192-78, while winning on third downs on both sides of the line of scrimmage, converting four of seven while holding the Packers to two of seven. In the second half, however, the Packers flipped the third downs, converting five of eight and holding the Bengals to zero of five. Behind the direction of QB Aaron Rodgers, Green Bay rallied late with a 12-play, 71-yard TD drive with 17 seconds left to send the game into OT. Then, after the Bengals' offense stalled with a three-and-out on the opening drive of OT, Rodgers connected with WR Geronimo Allison on third-and-10 for a 72-yard pass to the Bengals' seven-yard line, and two plays later, the Packers converted on a 27-yard FG. QB Andy Dalton completed 21 of 27 passes for 212 yards, two TDs and no INTs (124.1 rating), and WR A.J. Green caught 10 passes for 111 yards and a TD. Rookie LB Carl Lawson had 2.5 sacks. The Bengals fell to 0-3, while the Packers improved to 2-1.

WEEK 4, GAME 4

Cincinnati Bengals 31, Cleveland Browns 7
Sunday, Oct. 1, 2017 at FirstEnergy Stadium

Both Cincinnati and Cleveland entered the game with 0-3 records, but the Bengals' offense erupted for 31 points while their defense held the Brown scoreless until after the two-minute warning to give the team a much-needed first win. Bengals QB Andy Dalton completed 25 of 30 passes for 286 yards, four TDs and zero INTs (146.0 passer rating). It was his fourth career game with four or more TD passes, and his first since Game 15 of the 2013 season. At one point in the Browns game, Dalton had logged 16 consecutive completions. That was the second-longest streak of completions in a game in team history, behind only the team record of 20 straight completions by former QB Ken Anderson in the 1982 regular-season finale on Jan. 2, 1983 at Houston. TE Tyler Kroft had six receptions for 68 yards and two TDs (all three of those stat categories were career highs for Kroft). HB Giovani Bernard added three catches for 67 receiving yards and TD. The game marked the return of LB Vontaze Burfict, who missed the team's first three games due to a league suspension. The defense held the Browns to only 215 net yards, including just 45 rushing. Cincinnati improved to 1-3, while Cleveland fell to 0-4.

WEEK 5, GAME 5

Cincinnati Bengals 20, Buffalo Bills 16
Sunday, Oct. 8, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati bested a 3-1 Buffalo Bills squad for their second straight win. The Bengals' defense was the story of the game. The Bengals allowed the Bills to score just one offensive touchdown and held Bills QB Tyrod Taylor to a passer rating of just 63.6 while sporting a relentless pass rush that sacked him six times, including three times in the fourth quarter alone. The Bills' offense managed only 221 total net yards, including just 36 in the second half. The Bengals earned the win despite three turnovers — two interceptions and one lost fumble. All three of the turnovers were off the hands of WR A.J. Green — two tipped passes, as well as the fumble. Green still contributed heavily to the win, with seven catches for 189 yards and a touchdown. QB Andy Dalton passed for 328 yards. The Bengals improved to 2-3, while the Bills fell to 3-2.

WEEK 7, GAME 6

Pittsburgh Steelers 29, Cincinnati Bengals 14
Sunday, Oct. 22, 2017 at Heinz Field

Cincinnati's offense and defense had an uneven balance between them in the game's two halves that led to the disappointing defeat. Entering the game, the Bengals ranked No. 2 in the NFL in both average net yards allowed (262.8) and average points allowed (16.6). But in the first half alone, the Bengals gave up nearly their average in net yards allowed to the Steelers (251) and more than their average in points (20). The Bengals' first-half offense faired better, matching the Steelers TD-for-TD for a 14-14 tie before the Steelers added two FGs in the last two minutes of the half. In the final two quarters, the Cincinnati defense rebounded and held Pittsburgh to just 169 net yards and three FGs, but the Bengals' offense was unable to match. The Steelers recorded two INTs and four sacks in the second half, while holding the Bengals to just 19 net yards and zero points in those last two periods. Cincinnati held Pittsburgh WR Antonio Brown within reasonable check, to just four catches for 65 yards and a TD plus one punt return for seven yards, but other Steelers stars stepped in to pad the stat columns. QB Ben Roethlisberger was 14-of-24 passing for 224 yards, two TDs and no INTs (117.4 passer rating), while RB Le'Veon Bell rushed for 134 yards on 35 carries. The Bengals fell to 2-4 while the Steelers improved to 5-2.

WEEK 8, GAME 7

Cincinnati Bengals 24, Indianapolis Colts 23
Sunday, Oct. 29, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati survived a gut-check game and recorded one of its most peculiar victories in recent memory. The underdog Colts entered the game with the league's 28th-ranked offense and 31st-ranked defense, yet dominated both sides of the line of scrimmage. The Bengals suffered a blocked FG, they lost two fumbles with no takeaways, and they had a rookie halfback (Joe Mixon) lead the team in rushing yards with just 18 as well as receiving yards with 91. The game itself had five lead changes and was tied twice. And the contest's most decisive play was no less unusual. With Cincinnati down 23-17 with just over seven minutes left, Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap batted up a pass in the Indianapolis backfield, caught it when it came down, and then outran the pursuing Colts offensive players for 16-yard INT return for a TD and the game's final points. Indianapolis had two more possessions to try to regain the lead, but the Bengals' defense held both times. QB Andy Dalton was sacked three times and under duress for much of the game, yet still managed to record a solid 108.8 passer rating after completing 17 of 29 passes for 243 yards, two TDs and no INTs. The Bengals improved to 3-4, and the Colts fell to 2-6.

WEEK 9, GAME 8

Jacksonville Jaguars 23, Cincinnati Bengals 7
Sunday, Nov. 5, 2017 at EverBank Field

Cincinnati totaled a season-low 148 net yards, including just 29 yards rushing, on a season-low total of just 37 offensive plays, while Jacksonville totaled 407 net yards, including 148 rushing, on 78 plays. The Bengals converted just one of eight third downs (12.5 percent) while the Jaguars converted 12 of 18 (66.7). Despite the obvious lopsided numbers, the Bengals were down by only six points at halftime, and just nine points after three quarters. Not until Jacksonville WR Jaydon Mickens scored on a 63-yard punt return on the second play of the fourth quarter was Cincinnati forced to resort virtually entirely to pass plays in an attempt to close the deficit. By that point, however, the Jaguars' defense, which entered the game leading the league in both net passing yards allowed and sacks, was able to shift all of its attention to shutting down the Bengals' passing game. QB Andy Dalton finished with just a 79.9 passer rating, completing 10 of 18 passes for 136 yards. Just before halftime, WR A.J. Green was ejected for fighting with Jaguars CB Jalen Ramsey, who also was disqualified. Green left the game with only one reception for six yards, and no other Bengals WR or TE ended up catching more than two passes. The Bengals fell to 3-5, and the Jaguars improved to 5-3.

WEEK 10, GAME 9

Tennessee Titans 24, Cincinnati Bengals 20

Sunday, Nov. 12, 2017 at Nissan Stadium

Cincinnati had a good chance to win the game, trailing Tennessee by three points at halftime, 17-14. After a scoreless third period, the Bengals took their first lead of the game when QB Andy Dalton hit WR A.J. Green for a 70-yard TD and a 20-17 advantage with 5:03 left. The Titans' offense, which the Bengals had held to just 73 net yards in the second half to that point, responded by doubling that output on the following possession. The Titans drove 73 yards on 12 plays to retake the lead, scoring the game's final points on a seven-yard dump-off pass from Mariota to RB DeMarco Murray, who caught the pass on the four-yard line and split two Bengals defenders while extending the ball across the goal line with 36 seconds left. For a second straight week, third downs on both sides of the line of scrimmage were a problem for Cincinnati. The Bengals converted just one of 10 third downs, while the Titans converted seven of 15. QB Andy Dalton finished with a 100.3 passer rating, completing 20 of 35 passes for 265 yards, two TDs and no INTs. WR A.J. Green finished with five catches for 115 yards and a TD. The Bengals fell to 3-6, while the Titans improved to 6-3.

WEEK 11, GAME 10

Cincinnati Bengals 20, Denver Broncos 17

Sunday, Nov. 19, 2017 at Sports Authority Field at Mile High

It wasn't a picture-perfect performance for the Bengals, but they made big plays when they needed them, and collectively they were enough to snap a 10-game losing streak in Denver, where they had not won since 1975. The list of big plays included a 101-yard INT return by CB Dre Kirkpatrick in the first quarter (it was the longest in NFL history not to result in a TD), QB Andy Dalton hitting WR Alex Erickson for a 29-yard TD in the second quarter (it was Erickson's first career score), CB KeiVarae Russell blocking a Broncos FG attempt on the last play of the first half, LB Vontaze Burfict forcing a fumble the Bengals recovered early in the fourth quarter, Dalton rushing on an option play for a critical first down to extend a drive and take more time off the clock late in the game, and DE Carlos Dunlap recording his second sack of the game as the clock ran inside of two minutes to help dash Denver's final chances. Despite that lengthy list of positives, Cincinnati still had difficulties. On offense, the Bengals totaled just 190 net yards, including only 49 yards rushing, and 12 first downs. Not counting their two kneel-downs at the end of the game, they had nine rushing plays that went for either zero or negative yards (three for zero, six for negative). And, while the Bengals' offense converted seven of 15 third downs (46.6 percent), their defense allowed the Broncos to convert 12 of 21 third downs (57.1). Dalton finished the game completing 15 of 25 passes for 154 yards, three TDs and no INTs (117.3 passer rating), and all three of his TD passes came on third downs. The Bengals improved to 4-6, while the Broncos fell to 3-7.

WEEK 12, GAME 11

Cincinnati Bengals 30, Cleveland Browns 16

Sunday, Nov. 26, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals handily beat the winless Browns, largely on the strength of a solid running game. Cincinnati had entered the contest ranked last in the NFL in net rushing yards (averaging just 68.0 per game), but erupted for a season-high 152 against Cleveland's defense, which had ranked sixth in the league against the run (91.7 rushing yards allowed per game). Bengals rookie HB Joe Mixon had a breakout performance, gaining 114 yards and one TD on 23 carries (5.0-yard average) — it was his first career 100-yard rushing game — while adding another 51 yards receiving on three receptions. The Bengals scored the first five times they had the ball, and QB Andy Dalton completed 18 of 28 passes for 214 yards, two TDs and no INTs for a 111.3 passer rating. It was Dalton's fifth straight game without an interception, the longest such stretch of his career. Despite the Bengals' offensive production, the Browns still led the game in overall yardage output 405-361, though Cincinnati allowed Cleveland to score just one TD in three trips inside the red zone. The Bengals had four sacks, with rookie LB Carl Lawson accounting for 1.5. The Bengals improved to 5-6, while the Browns fell to 0-11.

WEEK 13, GAME 12

Pittsburgh Steelers 23, Cincinnati Bengals 20

Monday, Dec. 4, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals put themselves in good position early to secure a win against one of the top two teams in the AFC, jumping out to a 17-0 first-half lead on the strength of a balanced offense and a solid defense. The Bengals outgained the Steelers by 127 yards in the first two periods (253-126), converting six of eight third downs while allowing Pittsburgh to convert just one of five. CB Adam Jones intercepted a Ben Roethlisberger pass on the Steelers' first drive, leading to an early FG by K Randy Bullock. QB Andy Dalton completed 16 of 23 passes for 173 yards, two TDs and no INTs in the first half, twice hitting WR A.J. Green for scores — on eight-yard and 15-yard TD passes. Pittsburgh added their own FG as the half concluded. After a relatively even third quarter in which both teams scored once, Cincinnati still owned a 10-point lead heading into the final period. But in that fourth quarter, the Bengals' fortunes turned sour as Pittsburgh outgained the Bengals by 145 yards (158-13), recorded 11 first downs to the Bengals' zero, had more than an eight-minute advantage in time of possession (11:21-3:39) and scored 13 unanswered points. Roethlisberger completed 13 of 19 passes for 131 yards and one TD in the the fourth quarter alone, tying the game 20-20 with 3:51 left on a six-yard TD pass to WR Antonio Brown. The Steelers won the game on the final play, converting a 38-yard FG as time expired. The Bengals finished with 13 penalties, incurring a team-record 173 penalty yards. Cincinnati fell to 5-7, while Pittsburgh improved to 10-2.

WEEK 14, GAME 13

Chicago Bears 33, Cincinnati Bengals 7
Sunday, Dec. 10, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati started the game with six starters declared inactive due to injuries, including five on defense. After an early TD and missed PAT by the Bears, the Bengals took a 7-6 lead with just over two minutes left in the first quarter when QB Andy Dalton connected with WR Brandon LaFell for a 14-yard TD pass, but that advantage was short-lived. The Bears regained the lead on a 34-yard FG by former Bengals K Mike Nugent just over two minutes into the second quarter, and then put the Bengals in their rearview mirror. As the game progressed, Chicago took advantage of Cincinnati's depleted defense. The Bears scored 27 unanswered points after the first period, and the Bengals were unable to counter against the expanding deficit. Chicago outgained Cincinnati by 248 yards (482-234) and, aside from the score, held clear advantages in several key stat categories, including first downs (29-14), net yards rushing (232-70), takeaways (2-0) and time of possession (38:09-21:51). The loss left the Bengals with having to win their last three games to avoid a losing season and snapped a 22-game stretch of Bengals opponents failing to score 30 or more points. Dalton's career-long stretch of 193 straight passes without an INT ended in the third quarter. The Bengals fell to 5-8; the Bears improved to 4-9.

WEEK 15, GAME 14

Minnesota Vikings 34, Cincinnati Bengals 7
Sunday, Dec. 17, 2017 at U.S. Bank Stadium

For the second straight week, the Bengals entered the game without six regular starters, including five on defense, and in the end, the results were similar to those the previous week. Minnesota, poised to clinch a coveted bye on Wild Card weekend and possibly home-field advantage throughout the NFC playoffs, capitalized on Cincinnati's depleted units and controlled much of the game in front of an enthusiastic and energized home crowd. The Vikings jumped out to 24-0 halftime lead, and the Bengals' offense was unable to counter against a deficit which continued to grow throughout the game. Cincinnati added a late score with 6:22 left when HB Giovani Bernard had a two-yard TD run for the game's final points, but it was one of few Bengals highlights. On the final stat sheet, the Vikings held significant advantages over the Bengals in net yards (346-161), total first downs (18-8), net rushing yards (124-46) and time of possession (35:52-24:08). QB Case Keenum staged a near flawless game for Minnesota, completing 20 of 23 passes for 236 yards, two TDs and no INTs. Vikings RB Jerick McKinnon caught seven passes for 114 yards on top of his 27 yards rushing. For the Bengals, QB Andy Dalton recorded a 27.3 passer rating — his lowest of the season — while completing 11 of 22 passes for 113 yards, zero TDs and two INTs (one INT was returned for a TD). The loss secured a second straight losing season for the Bengals and officially eliminated their chances of qualifying for postseason. The Bengals fell to 5-9, while the Vikings improved to 11-3.

WEEK 16, GAME 15

Cincinnati Bengals 26, Detroit Lions 17
Sunday, Dec. 24, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals played with a shuffled lineup due to injuries, particularly at OL and LB, and they lost more players as the game progressed. On offense, the Bengals were without both starting OTs (Cedric Ogbuehi and Andre Smith), and they lost HB Joe Mixon early in the first quarter. On defense, the Bengals began without starting LBs Nick Vigil and Kevin Minter, and they lost Vontaze Burfict in the second quarter. But the Bengals' backups played well. At OL, veterans Clint Boling and Eric Winston combined with Christian Westerman and Alex Redmond to block for 142 net rushing yards, the second-highest total of the season. Bernard had 116 rushing yards and a TD on 23 carries and seven catches for 52 yards. On defense, vet Vincent Rey combined with a trio of rookies in Jordan Evans, Hardy Nickerson and Brandon Bell to fill in. Rey had two tackles and an INT. The Bengals held advantages in first downs (28-15), net rushing yards (142-87) and time of possession (32:29-27:31). The Bengals improved to 6-9 and the Lions fell to 8-7.

WEEK 17, GAME 16

Cincinnati Bengals 31, Baltimore Ravens 27
Sunday, Dec. 31, 2017 at M&T Bank Stadium

The Bengals stunned the Ravens at Baltimore with a knockout TD in the final minute to eliminate the Ravens from the playoffs. QB Andy Dalton hit WR Tyler Boyd for a 49-yard score on fourth down with 44 seconds left to give the Bengals the win. The Ravens would have qualified for postseason if they had won the game, and they still could have made it with a loss, but the defeat guaranteed their exclusion due to game outcomes elsewhere in the AFC. Dalton barely completed 50 percent of his attempts, going 23 of 44 for just 222 yards, but he had three TDs passes and no INTs (89.4 passer rating). TE Tyler Kroft tied for the team lead with six receptions, including two TD catches. Boyd caught five passes for a team-high 91 yards to go along with his game-winning score. The Bengals' running game was key, as the team rushed for 146 net yards on 30 carries (4.9-yard average). The win helped elevate Buffalo to the playoffs for the first time since 1999, and Bills fans showed their appreciation of Dalton's last-minute heroics by donating heavily to his charity. Bills backers made a large number of $17 contributions ($1 for each of the 17 consecutive non-playoff seasons for the Bills), and in the end, nearly $350,000 in donations were made to the Andy and Jordan Dalton Foundation. The Bengals finished the 2017 season in third place of the AFC North Division at 7-9, while the Ravens finished second at 9-7.

TEAM HISTORY

PRE-1966

Paul Brown had left the Cleveland Browns following the 1962 season, with an NFL coaching record of 115-49-6 and three league championships. He had also won four titles with the Browns in the All-America Football Conference, before they joined the NFL. But Brown was ousted from Cleveland by Art Modell, who had bought the Browns franchise in 1961. Despite Brown's founder's status with the Cleveland club, he had never been majority owner, and Modell showed Brown the door while telling the already legendary coach, "This can never be my team as long as you are here." It was a compliment, in a fashion, but it was a bitter blow to pro football's legendary innovator. Brown sought to return to the game, with operational control of a franchise, and in 1965 his son Mike completed a study on pro football expansion. The study recommended Cincinnati as a potential site. Later that year, Paul Brown met with Ohio Governor James Rhodes, who agreed to support a push for a second team for the state.

Faced with serious concerns from the Reds baseball team regarding Crosley Field, as well as with growing civic support to push for pro football, Cincinnati's city council approved the construction of a dual-purpose downtown riverfront stadium, with seating capacity of more than 50,000.

1967

Cincinnati was awarded an American Football League expansion franchise on May 24, and on Sept. 26, the league's ownership decision came down in favor of the group led by Paul Brown. The franchise was to begin play in 1968, but it acquired its first player late in '67, trading two draft picks to the Miami Dolphins for QB John Stofa. And what would the team's nickname be? A Cincinnati newspaper poll showed much sentiment among Queen City fans for the name "Buckeyes," but Brown nixed that idea. Brown said that the name "belonged to Ohio State," and he added that the Buckeyes weren't all that popular in Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia, which he considered part of a regional fan base for his team. Ownership instead chose the nickname "Bengals," with Brown making the announcement at an Oct. 26 news conference. The tiger theme was familiar to Brown, who had enjoyed great success with the Massillon (Ohio) High School Tigers early in his coaching career. Also, "Bengals" had been the nickname of a Cincinnati pro football franchise of the late 1930s and early '40s, and Brown had three members of that original Bengals team at his news conference. Brown cited a "precedence for reviving old team nicknames," noting that the Baltimore Colts and Buffalo Bills carried the same nicknames as previous unrelated pro teams in their towns. As for how the original 1930s team came to be known as Bengals, one school of thought associated the name with a hugely popular mid-'30s movie called "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer." The movie dealt not with tigers, but with the exploits of British soldiers in colonial India. That concept was clearly in Paul Brown's mind some 32 years after the movie's 1935 nomination for Best Picture, because Brown said at the nickname news conference, "We mean the tigers, not the lancers." But whatever connection may have been made between the original team and the movie, it seems to have been more a case of coincidence than design. The original Bengals indisputably used tiger images in promoting the team. And Hal Pennington, who coached and managed the team after his 1934 graduation from Xavier University as a multi-sport star, said in a '67 interview that he named the team to represent a tiger theme. Pennington said he was sitting in his mother's kitchen when he was struck by a product or advertisement — he couldn't remember exactly what — whose trademark included the name "Bengal" and a tiger-head image. "The (tiger) picture was so animated, it inspired me," Pennington recalled. "I just figured 'Bengals' would be a good name for the team."

1968

The Bengals fielded their first team, with an agreement to play two seasons at Nippert Stadium, on the University of Cincinnati campus, during construction of the as-yet-unnamed downtown stadium. The Bengals were placed as the fifth team the AFL's Western Division, bringing league membership to 10. They were awarded 40 veteran players in the AFL allocation draft, but the draft was not generous to Cincinnati, allowing existing teams wide latitude to protect the best talent. Of the 40 selections, only 16 ever played for Cincinnati, and only three would play as many as four seasons. G Pat Matson of Oregon, obtained from the Denver Broncos, would play the most Bengals seasons (seven) of any of the expansion draft signees. In the college draft, the Bengals selected Tennessee center Bob Johnson as their first pick. Johnson would go on to play 12 Bengals seasons, with an AFL All-Star game selection. The Bengals played their first preseason game on Aug. 3 at Nippert, losing 38-14 to Kansas City before a crowd of 21,682. Jon Stofa was the starting QB against the Chiefs. In the regular season, the Bengals lost their opener at San Diego, with rookie Dewey Warren as starting QB, but Cincinnati won its next two, posting double-digit margins at home over Denver and Buffalo. The team would win only once more, however, finishing 3-11. Though Warren, a sixth-round draft choice from Tennessee, took the first regular-season snap at QB, Stofa and future Bengals head coach Sam Wyche also saw significant time at QB during the season. Regular-season home attendance averaged 25,766. Rookie RB Paul Robinson led the AFL in rushing with 1023 yards and was named AFL Rookie of the Year.

1969

The team selected QB Greg Cook of the University of Cincinnati with its first draft pick (fifth overall), and Cook was an immediate sensation. He led the second-year club to a 3-0 start, including victories over AFL powerhouses Oakland and Kansas City. "If (Cook) stays with it, I've got myself another Otto Graham," Paul Brown said. But Cook suffered a shoulder injury in Cincinnati's Game 3 win over Kansas City, and though he returned to play later in the season, winning the AFL passing title and league Offensive Rookie of the Year honors, he never fully recovered from the injury. The Chillicothe, Ohio native would play in only one more game after '69, and likely more than any other Bengals player, he has inspired thoughts of "what might have been." Cook's average-yards-per-pass-attempt in '69 was 9.41, still a team record through 2017 and the oldest surviving mark in the franchise record book. Although the team faltered after Cook's injury, finishing 4-9-1, Brown was named AFL Coach of the Year, and LB Bill Bergey, the team's second-round draft pick, was named AFL Defensive Rookie of the Year. Local support for the Bengals grew steadily, and on Oct. 7, the club announced that the remainder of the home season at Nippert Stadium was sold out. On Nov. 9, the Bengals played the franchise's first game on an artificial surface, tying Houston 31-31 at the Astrodome. The club experienced a tragedy on the morning of Sept. 15, day of the season opener, when LB Frank Buncom of Southern California, a 29-year-old about to enter his eighth NFL season, was found dead at the team hotel, due to a blood clot that had reached a lung.

The year was a highly significant one for the Bengals, in both a football and a civic sense. On the football side, the Bengals moved into the NFL as part of the league's merger with the AFL. Paul Brown's quest in returning to pro football, following his ouster from Cleveland by Art Modell in 1962, had always been about re-joining the NFL. So when the Bengals began play in the AFL in 1968, it was key for Brown to know that the '70 NFL-AFL merger was already approved. There was much debate and controversy over exactly how the leagues would combine. The Bengals pushed strongly for a full merger, with the 26 clubs divided into two 13-team conferences. Other interests sought to keep the 16 NFL teams and 10 AFL teams in separate conferences of unequal size. But the full-merger view prevailed, with the NFL's Baltimore Colts, Cleveland Browns and Pittsburgh Steelers agreeing to join the 10 AFL teams in the new American Football Conference (AFC). The remaining 13 NFL teams formed the National Conference. The Bengals were part of a four-team AFC Central Division, joined by Cleveland, Pittsburgh and the AFL Houston Oilers. Thus was born the twice-annual "Battle of Ohio" between the Bengals and Browns. The Bengals started horribly on the field, losing six of their first seven games, but they roared to life in winning their last seven and claimed the first AFC Central title at 8-6, by a game over Cleveland. The Bengals became, at that time, the youngest franchise (third year of existence) to reach the NFL playoffs. Baltimore squelched the Bengals 17-0 in the first round of the playoffs, but that Colts club would go on to win Super Bowl V, and Brown won the Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year award. On the civic side, 1970 was the debut season for Cincinnati's dual-sport downtown stadium, which would be the Bengals' home through 1999. It was announced on Jan. 9 that the facility was officially named "Cincinnati Riverfront Stadium," but in popular usage the name soon became just "Riverfront Stadium." Though seating capacity for football varied, due to whether the Reds' home baseball season was still on, the new stadium roughly doubled the capacity of Nippert Stadium. The Bengals first played at Riverfront on Aug. 8, defeating Washington in a preseason game. The first regular-season game was on Sept. 20, a 31-21 win over Oakland, with QB and future Bengals head coach

Sam Wyche scoring the new facility's first regular-season football points, on a five-yard TD run in the first quarter. The club averaged 58,251 home attendance in the regular season. The baseball Reds had begun their tenure at Riverfront with a game vs. Atlanta on June 30.

The Bengals went 5-0-1 in preseason and opened the regular season with high hopes of defending their AFC Central Division title. They started off with a 37-14 rout of Philadelphia at home, but they lost the next seven and finished at 4-10. The puzzling outfit stumbled despite outgaining foes by more than 25 yards per game and posting a plus-16 turnover differential. Six of their losses came by four points or less. QB Sam Wyche, who would become Bengals head coach in 1984, was traded in May to Washington, and Virgil Carter was the starting QB for most of the season. But Carter missed some time with injuries, allowing for the debut of third-round draft pick Ken Anderson, who immediately attracted notice as a prospect of great promise. Anderson could not turn the '71 season around, but it was the start of a 16-year career (longest in Bengals history through 2017) that would end with him holding all the team's major passing records at that time. The first of Anderson's career 197 Bengals TD passes was a five-yarder to WR Eric Crabtree in the fourth quarter of a 20-17 loss on Oct. 3 at Green Bay. On Nov. 28, the Bengals posted the first shutout in franchise history, 31-0 at home over San Diego. Regular-season home attendance was strong in Riverfront Stadium's second year, as the average of 59,266 would not be topped until the 2003 season at Paul Brown Stadium. Cincinnati's Dave Lewis won his second consecutive NFL punting title, averaging 44.8 yards.

1972

The team rallied from the disappointment of 1971 to finish 8-6 for the second time in three seasons. It wasn't enough for a second playoff berth in three years, but Coach Paul Brown said at season's end that the Bengals had met his goal of becoming a "fully competitive" NFL franchise by Year Five. (The Bengals would back up those words by going 38-18 over the next four seasons.) Besides the drama of a playoff bid that ended with a loss to Cleveland in Game 13, the season's major storyline was the battle between veteran Virgil Carter and second-year Ken Anderson for the No. 1 QB spot. Anderson got Brown's nod in preseason, but Carter took the job back for Game 9 vs. Oakland, after Anderson had struggled in a 40-17 loss to Pittsburgh. Carter was injured in the Oakland game, however, and Anderson started Game 10, a 20-19 upset loss to a Baltimore team that had won only twice. Carter started in a Game 11 win at Chicago, but passed for only 120 yards with two INTs, and Anderson was re-installed at No. 1 for a Game 12 win vs. the Giants. Anderson started the crucial Game 13 vs. Cleveland, but he was sidelined with an injury, and the Browns sealed a 27-24 win when Carter suffered an INT by LB Billy Andrews on a short pass to Cleveland's goal line with 0:36 to play. Anderson came back to start the play-for-pride season finale, directing a 61-17 romp at Houston, and Anderson would not again be seriously challenged until 1984, when at age 35 he was bothered by injuries and began to give way to Boomer Esiason. DT Mike Reid, Cincinnati's top pick from the 1970 draft, was the only Bengal named to the Pro Football Writers' first-team All-Pro squad, but rookie S Tommy Casanova also made a big impression and was voted by his teammates as the club's MVP. The 61 points scored at Houston stands through 2017 as a club record. It has been matched once since, in a 61-7 win vs. the same Houston franchise in 1989.

1973

The Bengals claimed their second AFC Central title in the division's four-year existence, winning their last six games after a 4-4 start and claiming the crown over 10-4 Pittsburgh via conference-record tiebreaker. The Bengals' rivalry with the Steelers heated up in '73, with Pittsburgh QB Terry Bradshaw saying, "I'd really rather beat Cincinnati than anybody." The Bengals and Steelers split their two season meetings. In postseason, the Bengals lost 34-16 at Miami, which would go on to win Super Bowl VIII. It marked the second time in two playoff appearances that the Bengals were eliminated by the team that would go on to win it all. Though the schedule at this time remained at just 14 games, the Bengals missed by just 15 total yards having two 1000-yard rushers. Veteran Essex Johnson had 997 yards, and bruising 12th-round draft choice Boobie Clark had 988. Clark was named AFC Rookie of the Year. Through 2017, only six teams in NFL history have had two 1000-yard rushers in a season (Bengals not among them), and four of those instances came in 16-game seasons. The '73 offense was further improved by WR Isaac Curtis, a first-round draft pick who would go on to play 12 excellent seasons for Cincinnati. The NFL's rules on home television blackouts were changed for 1973, with blackouts lifted on games sold out 72 hours in advance, and the Sept. 24 game vs. Houston — a 24-10 Bengals victory — became the first Bengals home contest with live local TV. Paul Brown turned 65 on Sept. 7, but retirement was not on his mind. He would go on to serve through 1975 as head coach, and he would remain the Bengals' chief executive until his death in 1991 at age 82.

1974

A break-even (7-7) season for Cincinnati included the individual highlight of QB Ken Anderson winning the first of his four NFL passing titles. He posted a league-best 95.7 rating, with 213 completions in 328 attempts (64.9 percent) for 2667 yards, with 18 TDs and 10 INTs. In a Nov. 10 win vs. Pittsburgh, Anderson set a Bengals record (still standing through 2017) for completion percentage, ringing up a 90.9 by connecting on 20-of-22. Through 2017, that's third-best in NFL history (minimum 20 attempts). CB Lemar Parrish led the NFL in punt returns, with an 18.8-yard average that remains through '17 as the franchise record. The Bengals were 7-4 through 11 games, but were still a game and a half behind first-place Pittsburgh, and Cincinnati lost its last three contests. The Bengals swept the "Battle of Ohio" series vs. Cleveland for the first time, winning 33-7 at home in the season opener and 34-24 at Cleveland in Game 5. The campaign was preceded by a tumultuous offseason. Labor unrest roiled the league scene well into the preseason. The NFL Players Association called a strike, but not all players were on board, and most teams welcomed willing veterans into training camps. The Bengals were at the top in terms of veterans reporting to camp. Early preseason games were played with large numbers of rookies and other new personnel, however, and the Bengals offered fans refunds to those games. Most fans kept their tickets. The strike effort dwindled as preseason neared its end, and the regular season opened normally. Prior to preseason, the Bengals were in the thick of an NFL battle against player raids by the new World Football League, as they disputed the WFL Philadelphia franchise's signing of star LB Bill Bergey to a contract to begin in 1976, even though Bergey still was obligated to the Bengals through 1975. The Bengals lost that battle in court, but the decision wound up being moot. Bergey's offers from the unstable new league eventually fell through, and on July 10 of '74, Cincinnati traded Bergey to Philadelphia's NFL team, the Eagles, for first-round draft choices in 1976 and '77, plus a second-rounder in '77.

1975

In their final season with Paul Brown as head coach, the Bengals opened with six straight wins and went on to post an 11-3 record. Their .786 winning percentage stands through 2017 as the best in franchise history, and their plus-differential in yards per game (81.2, on 361.4 offensively vs. 280.2 defensively) also stands as a franchise record. The team also set a franchise record for fumble recoveries per game (1.57, on 22 total). But two of Cincinnati's losses were to AFC Central Division rival Pittsburgh, and the Steelers took the division title at 12-2, setting up their drive to the Super Bowl X championship. The Bengals qualified as the AFC Wild Card team for the playoffs, but had to play on the road at Oakland, which also had finished 11-3, and the Raiders prevailed, 31-28, withstanding a Bengals rally from a 31-14 deficit. QB Ken Anderson won the second of his four NFL passing championships, with a 93.9 rating, and he was also named Dodge NFL Man of the Year, an award reflecting both athletic and civic achievement. Attempts to revive the injury-plagued career of iconic QB Greg Cook ended on July 9, when the Bengals allowed Kansas City to claim Cook on waivers. Cook played in preseason for the Chiefs but did not reach the regular season with the club. The Bengals opened the preseason in the Hall of Fame game at Canton, Ohio, playing Washington on Aug. 2 on a day when the on-field temperature was estimated at 105, believed to be the hottest conditions ever (through 2017) for any Bengals game. Labor unrest forced the preseason to unfold under another strike threat, but it was averted just before the regular season began. The Bengals defense was strong despite the pre-training camp loss of Pro Bowl DT Mike Reid, who retired at age 26 to pursue a career in music. The last player still with the Bengals from the 1968 expansion draft, G Pat Matson, was traded to Green Bay on Sept. 10. Prior to the season, Paul Brown hired Kim Wood as the first "strength coach" in franchise history, citing the need for a more comprehensive year-round conditioning program for players. Wood would serve in the job through 2002.

1976

On Jan. 1, Paul Brown announced his retirement as head coach, while remaining general manager and overall chief executive. Brown had coached 41 seasons at various levels of football, with a career including dominance at the high school level, a national championship at Ohio State, and an AAFC and NFL dynasty with the Cleveland Browns. Brown also led the expansion Bengals into the playoffs in their third season (1970), making them the "youngest franchise" in league history at that time to reach postseason. His overall coaching record was 342-126-15, for a winning percentage of .724. Brown named Bill "Tiger" Johnson, Bengals offensive line coach since the franchise's inception, as his successor as head coach. Johnson led the team to a 10-4 record, tied with Pittsburgh atop the AFC Central, but the Steelers won a tiebreaker (head-to-head sweep) for the division title, and the Bengals lost out to 11-3 New England for what was then a lone AFC Wild Card spot in the playoffs. The Bengals' .714 winning percentage is the highest (through 2017) of any Cincinnati team not to make the playoffs. The Bengals entered the final regular-season weekend tied with Pittsburgh at 9-4, but the Steelers clinched the playoff spot with a Saturday win against Houston. The Bengals were playing only for pride the following day when they swamped the N.Y. Jets 42-3 in what was to be the last Jets appearance by Hall of Fame QB Joe Namath. The Bengals acquired defensive end Coy Bacon in a March 31 trade with San Diego for WR Charlie Joiner, and Bacon contributed 22.0 sacks, still the Bengals record through 2017, and by a margin of 9.0. The team had 46 sacks, and its average of 3.29 per game is still the franchise record though 2016. Also still a record through '17 is the club's average yield of only 15.0 points per game. CB Ken Riley led the AFC with nine INTs. In the first round of the draft, Cincinnati selected HB Archie Griffin, the two-time Heisman Trophy winner from Ohio State, and Griffin went on to play for the Bengals through 1983.

1977

Head coach Bill Johnson posted a second straight winning record (8-6), but the team missed the playoffs, one game behind AFC Central champion Pittsburgh. The Bengals logged a huge win in Game 15, beating Pittsburgh 17-10 in a Saturday afternoon contest at frigid Riverfront Stadium (temperatures hovering between five and 10 degrees). The game left the teams tied for the division lead, and the Bengals were assured of winning a season-end tiebreaker, based on better point differential in their 1-1 season split with the Steelers. But on the final weekend, Pittsburgh won 10-9 over San Diego, and the Bengals fell 21-16 at Houston. The Oilers tied the Bengals' 8-6 record and officially took second place in a tiebreaker, but Houston also missed the postseason. The Bengals rallied into contention after a 2-3 start that included a season-opening loss to underdog Cleveland, the first time the Bengals had lost in a season opener played at home, following six straight wins in that situation. On Nov. 13 at Minnesota, QB Ken Anderson and WR Billy Brooks teamed up for a 94-yard TD pass, which stands through 2017 as the longest pass play in franchise history. The season ended the NFL's 17-year run (1961-77) of playing a 14-game regular-season schedule.

1978

The Bengals and the NFL played the first year with a 16-game schedule, and it was a long 16 for Cincinnati. QB Ken Anderson missed the first four games with a broken bone in his right hand, and Bill Johnson resigned as head coach following an 0-5 start. Among the first four games, Cincinnati's losing margins included one point (vs. Kansas City), three points (in overtime at Cleveland) and two points (vs. New Orleans). Johnson was replaced as head coach by Homer Rice, who had joined the staff for '78 as quarterbacks coach. The team dropped to a 1-12 mark before rallying to win the last three games. The Bengals closed the year with a 48-16 rout of Cleveland, a 32-point winning margin that stood until 2015 as Cincinnati's largest in the Battle of Ohio series. Prior to the season, CB Lemar Parrish and DE Coy Bacon were traded to Washington for the Redskins' first-round draft pick in 1979 (used to select RB Charles Alexander). Two Pro Bowlers, TE Bob Trumpy and S Tommy Casanova, retired prior to the season. On July 26, Paul Brown's eldest son, Robin, died of cancer at age 46, and Paul Brown had to cancel plans to be the presenter for Weeb Ewbank at Ewbank's Pro Football Hall of Fame induction. The Ben-Gals cheerleaders were in the news in '78. They attracted considerable new attention, going away from their "malt shop" look to a more revealing uniform, described at the time as "chic, smart and sexy, but not vulgar."

1979

Fullback Pete Johnson powered his way to 15 TDs, a club record at the time. But the team finished 4-12 in its only full season under head coach Homer Rice, who was released the day after the Dec. 16 season finale. The team struggled despite a plus-15 mark in turnover differential (44 takeaways, 29 giveaways). On Dec. 28, Rice was replaced by former Cleveland Browns head coach Forrest Gregg, who resigned as head coach of the CFL Toronto Argonauts to take the job. During the season, controversy flared over the publication of "PB: The Paul Brown Story," an autobiography written by Brown in collaboration with sportswriter Jack Clary. The book included lengthy and explicit criticism of Cleveland Browns owner Art Modell, who had fired Brown as Cleveland head coach after the 1962 season. Modell made a formal complaint to the league office, charging Brown with violating league policy on public criticism of other teams' management. Brown eventually was fined $10,000 by Pete Rozelle, whose appointment as NFL Commissioner in 1960 had been spearheaded by Brown. After paying his fine, Brown told reporters, "I have sent (Rozelle) his check, but I stand by the book as written. His (Rozelle's) action is not based on any judgment on the facts I have presented." Prior to the season, on Jan. 17, the Bengals created the coaching staff's first full-time position in charge of special teams, hiring Frank Gansz. On Nov. 14, after an injury to C Blair Bush, C Bob Johnson was coaxed out of retirement and played the remainder of the season. Johnson was the team's original No. 1 draft pick in 1968, and when he hung up his cleats for good after the '79 season, it marked the final departure of the last player who had been on the inaugural '68 club. On Sept. 23 vs. Houston, Bengal Chris Bahr kicked a 55-yard FG, which would stand alone as longest in franchise history for 33 years, until Mike Nugent tied it in 2012.

1980

Forrest Gregg managed only a 6-10 record in his first season as head coach, but he was laying the groundwork for a trip to the Super Bowl the following year. The first building block in that plan was the drafting of Southern California OT Anthony Munoz with the No. 3 overall selection. Munoz, who 18 years later would be a first-ballot Hall-of-Fame inductee, having played his entire career with Cincinnati, was enthusiastically endorsed by Gregg as Cincinnati's top choice. Gregg's deciding moment came when he was accidently knocked to the ground by an errant Munoz forearm while working Munoz out in a supposedly "light-contact" drill on a scouting trip. Gregg himself was a Hall of Fame OT, inducted in 1977. After drafting Munoz, the Bengals endured a high-profile and acrimonious contract negotiation with Munoz agent Mike Trope. But Munoz was signed just before training camp, hyped as "the NFL's first million-dollar offensive tackle," and he started all season at LOT. Gregg instituted notably tougher discipline policies on Bengals players and became the first Cincinnati head coach to insist players wear sport coats and ties on road trips. But on the field, QB Ken Anderson was injury-plagued and wound up splitting time with Jack Thompson on an offense whose 244 total points ranked last in the AFC. Gregg notched two of his wins against defending league champion Pittsburgh, but his club lost twice to eventual AFC Central champ Cleveland, which had fired him as head coach after the 1977 campaign.

The Bengals began the year with a dramatically redesigned uniform, highlighted by their now-signature striped helmets, and they ended the season in the Super Bowl, losing a heartbreaking 26-21 decision to San Francisco. The Bengals were favored in Super Bowl XVI at Pontiac, Mich., but they finished minus-three in turnover differential and fell short in trying to erase a 20-0 halftime deficit. Still, it was a foundational year for Bengals-mania in the Tri-State. Coach Forrest Gregg's second Bengals edition won the AFC Central Division title by four games, with a 12-4 record, and they won home playoff games over Buffalo and San Diego. Cincinnati's 27-7 "Freezer Bowl" AFC Championship win over the Chargers was played in conditions of minus-59 wind chill, still the lowest in NFL history through 2017. (The recorded temperature was minus-nine, second lowest in league history). Attendance at the Freezer Bowl was 46,302, more than creditable considering the weather, and attendance at the game is such a point of pride among longtime fans, it's said jokingly that more than 10 times that number of 46,302 now claim to have been in the stands. QB Ken Anderson earned NFL Most Valuable Player honors with a league-best and career-high passer rating of 98.4. With 29 TD passes and just 10 INTs, Anderson posted a 2.9-to-1 ratio, best in franchise history until 2015. TE Dan Ross and rookie WR Cris Collinsworth had big receiving years. Ross' 71 receptions was a club record to that point. FB Pete Johnson rumbled for a then club-record 1077 rushing yards, with 12 TDs. Future Hall of Fame OT Anthony Munoz played his second season and earned his first of what would be a Bengals-record 11 Pro Bowl berths. Defensively, the front line trio of DEs Ross Browner and Eddie Edwards and DT Wilson Whitley were in the fourth of their five seasons starting together. An outstanding veteran LB corps of Jim LeClair, Reggie Williams, Glenn Cameron and Bo Harris finished 1-4 in tackles. CB Ken Riley, by far the franchise's all-time INT leader, was in the 13th of his 15-season Bengals career. For QB Anderson, getting to his eventual season accolades was no easy journey. The year began with Anderson trade rumors (nothing materialized), and Anderson went through preseason in an open competition with Jack Thompson, the franchise's No. 1 draft pick from 1979. Anderson became sure of the season-opening job only when Thompson became unavailable, due to an injury in the final preseason contest. Anderson fared poorly in the season opener vs. Seattle and was benched in favor of Turk Schonert. But although Schonert was a hero that day, leading a wild come-from-behind win, Anderson was re-installed by Gregg the following week and went on to his memorable season. Cincinnati swooned over rookie WR Collinsworth, who produced the franchise's first 1000-yard receiving season (1009) and displayed a magnetic personality that by year's end infected fans far beyond the Queen City. In December, Collinsworth became the first Bengals player featured on a Sports Illustrated cover. The offense had four Pro Bowlers (Anderson, Collinsworth, Johnson and Munoz), and the special teams had one (P Pat McInally), but the defense had none. Paul Brown was named NFL Executive of the Year by The Sporting News. Tickets for Super Bowl XVI were only $40 face value. It was also an historic year for technology in the Bengals organization. On Sept. 25, it was confirmed to media that the club had bought and installed its first office-wide computer system, with "several terminals available for the ticket office and other business needs." As noted above, the new uniforms for 1981 featured tiger-striped helmets, and they made quite a splash. The design was chosen by Paul Brown, who said he wanted the helmet to be "instantly recognizable even from a distance." The bold look sparked debate among fans, and the Cincinnati Enquirer quoted a source from NFL Properties as saying "the design was not our first choice" among several presented to the Bengals. "But," the Enquirer source continued, "these helmets will definitely get recognized." Indeed, they have become an institution, still distinctive among NFL headgear after 36 years.

The Bengals finished a strike-shortened season at 7-2, tied for the second-best record in the AFC. QB Ken Anderson was at the height of his Cincinnati prowess, winning his fourth NFL passing title (95.3 rating). Anderson stands through 2017 as the only Bengal to win more than two major NFL season titles of any variety. Anderson's 70.55 completion percentage was an NFL season record at the time, and through '17 it still stands as third-best in league history. Anderson also set a standing Bengals season record for passing yards per game, at 277.2 Isaac Curtis and Cris Collinsworth were in their second year as a Cadillac duo at wide receiver, helping Anderson to his high marks. But a players' strike began after Week 2 and lasted 57 days, until Nov. 17. Games scheduled in Weeks 3-9 wound up being canceled, and Week 10 games were rescheduled for Jan. 2, a week after the regular season had been scheduled to end. They were the first NFL regular-season games not played in the calendar year of the season. The defending AFC champion Bengals split their first two games, and when play resumed after the strike, they established themselves as again one of the top clubs in the conference, winning four straight to stand at 5-1. Cincinnati was 6-1 in its seven post-strike games, the only loss being a memorable 50-34 Monday night shootout at San Diego. In that game, Anderson set a Bengals record for completions (40) that still stands through 2017, but the Chargers' 661 yards net offense stands as the most ever allowed by the Bengals, and Chargers WR Wes Chandler set a still-standing Cincinnati opponents' record with 260 receiving yards. Buoyed by the previous season's AFC championship and the strong regular-season finish, Bengals fans had high hopes of a second straight Super Bowl appearance as the playoffs began. But in one of the most stunning losses in Bengals history, Cincinnati opened an expanded playoff format by falling 44-17 to the underdog N.Y. Jets at Riverfront Stadium. The Jets' point total stands through 2017 as the most ever in the playoffs against the Bengals, and Freeman McNeil's 202 rushing yards also still stand as a Bengals opponent playoff record. Four Bengals went to the Pro Bowl — Anderson, WR Cris Collinsworth, OT Anthony Munoz and TE Dan Ross. The nine regular-season games played were the fewest in the NFL since 1934, the year before the league adopted standard number of games for all teams. Bengals players were among the first to vote as a team to end the strike, doing so Nov. 11 in a meeting at the club's Spinney Field practice facility.

1983

It was a tumultuous year from start to finish as the Bengals posted a 7-9 record, dropping from the postseason picture after going 19-6 over the previous two regular seasons. In January, the new United States Football League announced that it would begin play in the spring of 1984, and the USFL roiled the '83 offseason by pursuing contracts with NFL players and coaches, including a number of Bengals. G Dave Lapham and TE Dan Ross signed "future contracts" with the new league for 1984, and they would indeed go there, but they played out their Bengals contracts for Cincinnati in '83. The biggest stunner to Cincinnati fans came June 27, when star WR Cris Collinsworth signed a future contract to begin in 1985 with the USFL Tampa Bay Bandits. But over an extended period of angst in Bengals Nation, extending into February 1985, Collinsworth and Bandits owner John Bassett never fully consummated their deal. Collinsworth wound up playing his full pro football career (through 1988) with the Bengals. In July, offensive coordinator Lindy Infante signed a future deal as head coach of the USFL Jacksonville Bulls, and rather than let him coach in Cincinnati under his '83 contract, the Bengals fired him for breach of contract. On June 2, once highly-touted QB Jack Thompson was traded to the Tampa Bay Bucs for a 1984 first-round draft choice. On July 26, Bengals DE Ross Browner and FB Pete Johnson were among the first four NFL players ever suspended by the NFL for illegal drug activity. They missed all of training camp and Games 1-4 of the regular season. The team lost six of its first seven games, and in Game 6, a Monday night Riverfront Stadium visit by Pittsburgh, Steelers DE Keith Gary inflicted a severe neck sprain on QB Ken Anderson, bringing him down with a visually sickening twist of the face mask. Though Gary would in the end be only fined by the NFL (not suspended), the play proved to be key in raising NFL awareness that QBs were often in vulnerable positions and needed more rules protection. "It's fortunate (the play) was on national television," said Paul Brown. "Maybe now it won't be repeated." Anderson missed the next three games. On Nov. 20 vs. Houston, an obscure rookie drafted in the 10th round made his first NFL start, as an injury replacement. The player was Tim Krumrie, who would take over as full-time starter the next season and become one of the best defensive linemen and most admired players in franchise history. The Bengals rallied to finish 6-3 over their last nine games, and coach Forrest Gregg was under contract through 1984. But on Dec. 24, Gregg resigned with the team's blessing to take the head coaching job in Green Bay, where he had played his way into the Hall of Fame as an offensive tackle. On Dec. 29, the Bengals replaced Gregg with Indiana University head coach Sam Wyche, a former Bengals QB who five years later would join Gregg as the only other Bengal coach to take the team to the Super Bowl. Despite their disappointing season, the Bengals led the NFL in total defense under Gregg and coordinator Hank Bullough, allowing only 270.4 yards per game. The performance stands through 2017 as the club's only No. 1 defensive ranking.

1984

Rookie head coach Sam Wyche took the Bengals on a wild ride that ended just short of a playoff berth. The team rose from an 0-5 start to finish 8-8, winning its last four. After routing Buffalo 52-21 in a 1 p.m. ET season finale, the Bengals needed the 11-4 L.A. Raiders to win at home over 8-7 Pittsburgh in a 4 p.m. game. That result would have produced a Bengals-Steelers tie for the AFC Central title, and the Bengals would have been declared champions via tiebreaker. But the Steelers dashed Cincinnati's hopes in a 13-7 win over the Raiders, as Wyche and a number of invited media members watched on television at the coach's home. Wyche juggled his quarterbacks all season, due to injuries and/or coaching decisions. Ken Anderson began and finished the year as No. 1, starting nine games, but rookie Boomer Esiason started four and veteran Turk Schonert started three. Esiason made the first of his eventual 123 Bengals starts on Oct. 7 vs. Houston, in a battle of 0-5 teams. Esiason didn't dazzle, passing for 159 yards with no TDs and two INTs, but the Bengals won 13-3, and Esiason would finish 3-1 in his four starts on the year. Prior to the season, it was a big year for Cincinnati in the trade department. The Bengals entered April holding the No. 1 overall pick in the draft, via their 1983 trade of QB Jack Thompson to Tampa Bay. But with the top prospect, Brigham Young QB Steve Young, having signed with the USFL Los Angeles Express, the Bengals traded the pick on April 5 to New England, gaining the Nos. 16 and 28 spots in round one. The Bengals selected DE Pete Koch of Maryland at No. 16 and G Brian Blados of North Carolina at No. 28. The Patriots used the No. 1 pick on Nebraska WR Irving Fryar. On May 29, the Bengals made arguably the best straight player-for-player trade in franchise history, sending FB Pete Johnson to San Diego for RB James Brooks. Johnson would prove to be on the downside of his career, while Brooks would have a stellar Bengals tenure through 1991. The year 1984 was, and remains through 2017, the second time in club history for the Bengals to have three first-round draft picks (first year was 1977). With their own first-round '84 selection, the Bengals chose LB Ricky Hunley of Arizona, but Hunley became (and remains through 2017) the only Bengals first-rounder never to sign with Cincinnati. Hunley's stalemated contract negotiations set a Bengals record for length, and on Oct. 9, he was traded to Denver for three future selections, two of which brought Cincinnati productive WR Tim McGee (first round 1986) and Pro Bowl S David Fulcher (third round 1986).

1985

The 7-9 Bengals scored 441 points in Sam Wyche's second season as head coach, a club record at the time. But their 437 points allowed also was a record to that point. Rookie WR Eddie Brown, who had surprisingly been available with the No. 13 pick in the '85 draft, missed the first 18 days of training camp due to contract talks, but he wound up as Associated Press NFL Rookie of the Year after catching 53 passes for 942 yards and eight TDs. Bengals icon Ken Anderson opened the season as the starting QB, but the 15th-year vet was supplanted in Game 3 by second-year pro Boomer Esiason, who went on to pass for 27 TDs and just 12 INTs while posting a 93.2 passer rating. The team rebounded from an 0-3 start to stand 7-7 after a rousing 50-24 win over Dallas, and a playoff berth was clearly within range in an AFC Central Division race in which no team was able to dominate. But in Game 15, the Bengals lost 27-24 at Washington after leading 24-7, and their only hope for the playoffs entering the final weekend was via tiebreaker in a possible three-way deadlock with Pittsburgh and Cleveland. The day before their season finale at New England, they were eliminated — and Cleveland became division champion — when Pittsburgh lost a Saturday game to the N.Y. Giants. Prior to and during the season, the team had a number of high-profile personnel issues. Star WR Cris Collinsworth, who had stunned Cincinnati fans in 1983 by signing a "future contract" with the United States Football League's Tampa Bay Bandits, was to join the Bandits for their 1985 spring season. But after a soap-opera series of "will he go or will he stay?" events, Collinsworth re-signed with Cincinnati on Feb. 27. WR Isaac Curtis, a premier Bengal for 12 years, was released in July and shortly thereafter announced his retirement from pro football. DE Ross Browner went to Houston of the USFL in the spring, but he re-signed with Cincinnati in late August. TE Dan Ross, another ex-Bengal who had gone to the USFL, was re-acquired by Cincinnati in late August but was traded to Seattle in October.

The '86 team was the second Bengals club, and the last one through 2017, to win 10 or more games and not make the playoffs. They lost their chance for a division title when they were bombed 34-3 by eventual champ Cleveland in Game 15 at Riverfront Stadium, but they stayed alive for a Wild Card berth to the very end. After swamping the N.Y. Jets 52-21 on the season's final Sunday, they were set to qualify with a Miami win over visiting New England on Monday night. But as many Bengals players gathered to watch at a popular Cincinnati night spot, the Patriots won 34-27, taking the AFC East title by a game over the Jets and eliminating Cincinnati from postseason. The 10-6 Jets and 10-6 Chiefs took the Wild Card spots over the Bengals via tiebreaker, with better records against AFC foes. In his first full season as Bengals starting QB, Boomer Esiason passed for a then-club-record 3959 yards, and RB James Brooks posted a club record that still stands through 2017 for yards from scrimmage (1773, on 1087 rushing and 686 receiving). LB Reggie Williams won the prestigious NFL Man of the Year award, for his combined football and community efforts. In late July, the NFL completed successful defense of a multi-million-dollar antitrust suit filed by the United States Football League. The courts ruled technically in favor of the USFL, but awarded only a token $1 in damages. "(The suit) could have been catastrophic to the NFL," Bengals assistant GM Mike Brown told reporters. "We are glad to see it end in what we consider a complete victory." In '86, the NFL began the regular use of instant replay officiating and stepped up its drug-testing program, two measures that were supported by the Bengals. After a year of instant replay, however, the Bengals would join a minority of teams that unsuccessfully opposed its continuation.

1987

The Bengals entered the season with big plans, after finishing 10-6 in 1986, but their aspirations were to be dashed. They started 1-1, but the loss was an exceedingly painful one, as Cincinnati lost to San Francisco despite having a lead and the ball with :06 to play. After that loss, the NFL players' union went on strike. Games scheduled for Week 3 were canceled, and the next three games were played primarily by replacement players. Cincinnati went 1-2 in the three "replacement games." The replacement-player strategy led to picketing by Bengals veterans outside the team's practice facility, but replacement ball was effective in breaking the strike. A total of 85 NFL veterans crossed picket lines to play in the first replacement games, and though the Bengals were a stronger union team than many, LB Reggie Williams was among the 85. The flow increased after the first replacement weekend, though the Bengals had only one additional defection from the strike ranks, DE Eddie Edwards. But veterans agreed leaguewide to return for Game 6 and beyond, without a settlement to their labor issues. The "real Bengals," however, could not get it back together again, posting a 2-8 record after their return, for a 4-11 overall team finish. The season ended with widespread speculation that fourth-year head coach Sam Wyche would be replaced, but Bengals general manager Paul Brown announced Dec. 30 that the club would honor the final year of Wyche's five-year contract. Brown termed the 1987 season "an aberration" for which Wyche should not take the brunt of blame, and looking ahead to 1988, Brown told media, "We have a team with talent, and yours truly does not consider this to be a rebuilding year." Brown and Wyche, of course, were to be vindicated as the Bengals would go on on to win the 1988 AFC Championship. One bright spot from '87 was the first Pro Bowl berth for NT Tim Krumrie, the 10th-round '83 draft choice who had already earned status as a key player and fan favorite. Prior to the '87 campaign, Bengals Nation saw the end of an era, as QB Ken Anderson announced his retirement on June 2. The 1986 season had been Anderson's 16th as a Bengal, a term that stands through 2017 as the longest in franchise history. Anderson had participated in the team's spring minicamp, but he changed his mind about a 17th season following a late May exam that showed reduced strength in his right (throwing) shoulder. "The doc told me, 'You're starting to wear out a little bit,' " Anderson said, "and there is life after football. I want to make sure that I can continue to play golf and otherwise enjoy that life."

1988

Snubbed on the NFL's prime-time TV schedule after a 4-11 season, the Bengals staged one of the biggest turnarounds in NFL history, posting a 12-4 record. They clinched the AFC home field advantage for the playoffs, and they won games at Riverfront Stadium over Seattle and Buffalo before losing a dramatic Super Bowl XXIII by 20-16 to San Francisco at Joe Robbie Stadium in Miami. In the Super Bowl, the Bengals took a 16-13 lead on a 40-yard Jim Breech FG with 3:20 remaining, but the 49ers drove 92 yards in 11 plays to seize victory with 0:34 to play, on a 10-yard pass from Joe Montana to John Taylor. The Bengals suffered two dramatic player losses for the Super Bowl, as troubled FB Stanley Wilson missed the Sunday game due to a Saturday night drug relapse, and Pro Bowl NT Tim Krumrie suffered a broken leg early in the first quarter, with TV cameras catching the fracture in grim detail. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle called Super Bowl XXIII the most exciting to that point in history of the game, which had recently suffered from very lopsided results. (The five previous winners had an average victory margin of 27.6 points). Nine Bengals were selected for the Pro Bowl, a club record that still stands through 2017. FB Ickey Woods did not make the Pro Bowl, but in his only full season of a career later derailed by injuries, he rushed for 1066 yards and a club-record 15 rushing TDs. His "Ickey Shuffle" dance became an iconic TD celebration nationally and would bring him widespread notice for many years, despite the brevity of his playing career. Sam Wyche, whose continued status as head coach was questioned by many entering the season, was named NFL Coach of the Year by the Pro Football Writers Association. But the more prestigious coaching award, from Associated Press, went to Mike Ditka of Chicago, whose team lost 28-3 in the NFC Championship game. Cincinnati's two playoff wins were fraught with high-level controversy over Wyche's hurry-up "no huddle" offense. In the Divisional game, Seattle players transparently feigned injuries to buy time for situational defensive substitutions, and that flap, raised to a higher level by comments from Buffalo coach Marv Levy, led the NFL to ban the no-huddle for the AFC Championship game against the Bills. But the Bengals dispatched Buffalo 21-10 without their full bag of tricks, and the NFL later admitted its ban was a mistake. The Bengals were allowed to use the no-huddle in the Super Bowl. In developments prior to the season, the Ben-Gals cheerleading squad was reinstated after a year's absence — "We heard from the fans that they wanted them back," said assistant general manager Mike Brown — and LB Reggie Williams on June 16 became the first (and still only) Bengal to serve on Cincinnati City Council, appointed by the Charter Party to a seat from which Charterite Arn Bortz had retired. In January of '88, Williams had received the "Sportsman of the Year" award from Sports Illustrated, and he was presented the award by President Reagan in a ceremony at the White House.

The defending AFC champions showed the ability to be among the NFL's most powerful teams, winning games by scores of 41-10, 56-23, 42-7 and 61-7. But injuries and inconsistencies defined the season, and Cincinnati finished 8-8 and out of the playoffs despite outscoring foes by 404-285. The plus-119 point differential stands through 2017 as the biggest plus in NFL history by a team without a winning record. The Bengals had a chance to claim a Wild Card berth in the final game of the league's regular season, a Monday night (Christmas night) match in Minnesota. But the Vikings, needing a win to clinch the NFL Central title, prevailed by 29-21. The Bengals started 4-1 but lost four of their next five. Colorful and controversial head coach Sam Wyche helped keep fans' emotions high as he sparred throughout the season with division rivals Cleveland and Houston. Wyche took repeated issue with rowdy crowd behavior in Cleveland Stadium's "Dawg Pound," and when Bengals fans threw snowballs on the field during a Dec. 10 home game vs. Seattle, Wyche grabbed a public address microphone and scolded the crowd, saying "You don't live in Cleveland, you live in Cincinnati." The next week, in the highest-drama moment of Wyche's long feud with Houston coach Jerry Glanville, Wyche eschewed running out the clock in the final minute despite holding a 58-7 lead over the Oilers. He called for a FG and got a 61-7 conquest, then blasted Glanville as a "phony" in his post-game news conference. Prior to the season, iconic Bengals WR Cris Collinsworth was released in final cuts. On Sept. 17 vs. Pittsburgh, 1988 rookie sensation Ickey Woods suffered a knee injury that would play a big part in short-circuiting his career. Woods would play only two more partial seasons (1990 and '91). On May 11, the long-troubled saga of Bengals FB Stanley Wilson ended when Wilson was permanently barred from the NFL by Commissioner Pete Rozelle. NFL fans had been shocked in March when Rozelle announced his impending retirement. Rozelle, noted often as the most successful sports commissioner in United States history, had been boosted into the job in 1960 as an unknown compromise candidate supported by the Bengals' Paul Brown. Rozelle was replaced by Paul Tagliabue on Oct. 26. The '89 draft stands through 2017 as the only one in which Cincinnati did not exercise a first-round choice. Slated originally to have the next-to-last selection in round one, the Bengals traded down with Atlanta and made RB Eric Ball their first selection, with the seventh pick of Round 2. LB Reggie Williams retired with the end of the season, his 14th as a Bengal. In November, Williams was elected to Cincinnati City Council, after having already served five months as an appointed replacement to fill a Charter Party vacancy.

The Bengals weathered a season with the only five-game road trip in franchise history, finishing 9-7 and claiming the AFC Central title out of a three-way tie with Houston and Pittsburgh. Cincinnati finished first based on best head-to-head record against the other two teams (3-1). Houston earned a Wild Card berth, and Pittsburgh missed postseason, based on the Oilers topping the Steelers in the tiebreaker of record against all AFC opponents. The Bengals had no assurance of making the playoffs entering the season's final day, but they earned the division title by beating Cleveland in an afternoon game, combined with a Houston victory over Pittsburgh that night. The Bengals had stayed in the race in Week 15 by pounding Houston 40-20 at Riverfront Stadium, and they pounded the Oilers again at home in the Wild Card round of the playoffs, prevailing 41-14. Cincinnati was eliminated the next week in the Divisional round at Los Angeles, falling 20-10 to the Raiders. In the L.A. game, Raiders RB Bo Jackson, the dual-sport superstar, suffered a hip injury in the third quarter when tackled by Bengals LB Kevin Walker. Though the tackle looked routine and the injury was not initially considered serious, it proved to be a hip dislocation that ended Jackson's pro football career. He never would play in another NFL game, and in baseball, he would not again appear in as many as 100 games in a season. The Bengals had to play five straight regular-season games on the road because their scheduled Oct. 14 home game against Houston was moved to Houston, due to a stadium conflict with Reds postseason baseball play. The Reds in fact did not wind up playing at home on Oct. 14, but the schedule change had to be made in advance — on the basis of the baseball game being possible — because Riverfront Stadium's baseball/football conversion process was too cumbersome to allow a late decision. The Bengals schedule had called for two road games prior to Oct. 14 and two road games after Oct. 14. The Bengals finished 2-3 on the trip, and their scheduled Dec. 23 game at Houston was moved to Cincinnati. In the second of the five straight road games, a 34-31 overtime win against the L.A. Rams at Anaheim Stadium, Boomer Esiason passed for 490 yards, a team record that still stands through 2017. Esiason passed for only 412 yards before the overtime, however, leaving Ken Anderson's 447 in 1975 vs. Buffalo as the highest club total in regulation time. Prior to the season, offensive coordinator Bruce Coslet left the Bengals to become head coach of the N.Y. Jets, and in the Sept. 9 regular-season opener, at Riverfront, the Bengals beat the Jets 25-20.

1991

Paul Brown, the Bengals' founder and first head coach, and a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, died on Aug. 5 at age 82, at his Cincinnati home. The cause of his death was complications from pneumonia. His funeral was held Aug. 7 in his hometown of Massillon, Ohio. Among those in attendance were NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue, former commissioner Pete Rozelle, numerous team owners and eight Hall of Famers. Pall bearers included former Bengals Ken Anderson, Reggie Williams and Dave Lapham. As directed by Brown during his final days, the current coaches and players remained at work in training camp at Wilmington, Ohio during the days after Brown's death. But head coach Sam Wyche, a private pilot, flew his own plane from Wilmington to Massillon during a short break in his camp schedule. At the funeral, Pete Rozelle said: "Whether they know it or not, nearly everyone in the game of football has been affected by Paul Brown. His wealth of ideas changed the game." Brown's son Mike, a key figure in both bringing the Bengals to Cincinnati and in operating the club, took over as chief executive. The season, a major disappointment at 3-13, would be the eighth and final one for Wyche as Bengals coach. Following a Dec. 24 end-of-season meeting between Wyche and Mike Brown, the team announced that Wyche had unexpectedly resigned. Wyche interpreted events as his being fired, but there was no disagreement that his tenure had ended. On Dec. 27, the Bengals announced that WRs coach Dave Shula was promoted to replace Wyche. Shula, the son of legendary coach Don Shula, became at age 32 the second-youngest head coach in NFL history. (Harland Svare took over the L.A. Rams in 1962 at age 31). Mike Brown and Wyche went on to maintain cordial relations, and a disagreement over compensation for Wyche from his 1992 contract was later settled amicably. Wyche would go on to join the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as head coach from 1992-95. Prior to the season, the NFL announced new guidelines for media locker room access, action that had been sparked in large part by Wyche repeatedly expressing concern over the propriety of having female reporters in the locker room. Though the NFL maintained full access for all reporters, teams were instructed to screen shower areas from view, provide robes or extra-large towels to all players, and provide separate post-game interview areas for head coaches and key players.

1992

In the franchise's 25th anniversary season, the team started 2-0 under new head coach Dave Shula, with wins at Seattle and vs. the L.A. Raiders. And they seemed a lock to go 3-0 the next week against an 0-2 Green Bay team under rookie head coach Mike Holmgren, leading almost all the way. But a little-known Packers QB, Brett Favre, made the first splash of what would become one of the NFL's greatest careers. Favre directed a 21-point fourth quarter for a 24-23 win. A second-year pro at the time, playing in only his fourth game, Favre had come off the bench to replace injured starter Don Majkowski in the first quarter. Favre's two TD passes, including a 35-yarder to unheralded WR Kittrick Taylor with 0:13 to play, were the first two of a total that would rise to an NFL-record 508. The Green Bay game was the start of a five-game losing streak for Cincinnati, and the team finished 5-11. The year was marked by news involving many of the franchise's biggest names. All-Pro OT Anthony Munoz, with 11 Pro Bowl selections on his resume, was limited to eight games by injuries and announced his retirement prior to playing in the season finale. Another Bengals icon, QB Boomer Esiason, was benched in favor of '92 top draft pick David Klingler after the team fell to 4-7. Esiason asked to be traded as the season ended, and the club said it would try to accommodate him. Early '92 was the end of the line for Ickey Woods, Cincinnati's 1988 rookie RB sensation. Woods had seen some action in '90 and '91, after suffering a season-ending '89 left knee injury, but his '91 year included a significant right knee injury, and he was waived after failing to show well in the '92 spring minicamp. WR Eddie Brown, a standout performer from 1985-91, saw his NFL career essentially ended by a ruptured disc in his neck discovered early in training camp. Brown underwent surgery and missed the season. He gained free agency after the season, but found the market slow and wound up re-signing with the Bengals. He was released in final 1993 preseason cuts and did not play again in the NFL. Through 1991, Brown ranked third in Bengals history in receiving yards (6134) and held club records for receiving yards in a game (216) and a season (1273). Bright spots in '92 included WR Carl Pickens, named Associated Press NFL Rookie of the Year, and RB Harold Green, whose 1170 rushing yards were second-most in club history to that point. After the season finale, the Bengals hired team QB legend Ken Anderson as QBs coach. In the Game 3 loss at Green Bay, Bengals rookie Pickens turned in a 95-yard punt return for a TD, the longest punt return through 2017 in Bengals history.

The difficult road toward the eventual 2000 completion of Paul Brown Stadium began in earnest in November of '93. At that time, Bengals president Mike Brown, with support from NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue, sounded the call that Riverfront Stadium had become economically obsolete in the changing world of pro football. Brown warned that absent real progress on improving the Bengals' stadium situation, the club might be forced to consider moving. The first step toward a solution came in December, when the club agreed to stay at least through 1998, in exchange for a deal to partially renovate Riverfront and amend the team's lease. It was also stated that civic leaders would explore construction of a new stadium by the "early 2000s." The Bengals played their first season since 1984 without QB Boomer Esiason, who was traded to the N.Y. Jets in March for a third-round 1993 draft pick. David Klingler, Cincinnati's first-round 1992 selection, had taken over at QB at the end of 1992. Klingler directed late-season victories in '93 over the Rams and Falcons, but the bottom line was a 3-13 finish. Klingler had missed three games at midseason, due to back problems, but veteran backup Jay Schroeder had been unable to right the ship. The '93 season was the most defense-dominated in Bengals history (through 2017), as Cincinnati and its foes averaged total combined points of only 31.6 per game. Preseason cuts had seen the Bengals release longtime kicker Jim Breech in favor of rookie Doug Pelfrey of Kentucky, a Greater Cincinnati native (Fort Thomas, Ky.) who would play for the team through 1999. Breech through 2017 is still Cincinnati's all-time leading scorer (1151). Breech started his Bengals career in 1980, after one season with Oakland, and through '17 he ranks third in NFL history in consecutive games played scoring at least one point (186). Changing public attitudes on smoking impacted Bengals fans in April, as Cincinnati City Council enacted a ban on smoking in seating areas at Riverfront Stadium, to take effect in 1994.

A shot of "Blake-mania" livened a 3-13 overall season. Due to injuries to QBs David Klingler and Donald Hollas, late-August waiver pickup Jeff Blake got a chance to start on Oct. 30 against Dallas, the two-time defending Super Bowl champions. Blake couldn't engineer the season's first win, but he threw for two TDs and had the Bengals up 20-17 until late in the third quarter of an eventual 23-20 loss. Blake went on to lead wins the next two weeks, at Seattle and vs. Houston. He remained the starter despite Klingler's return to health, and finished the year as a huge fan favorite, leading the NFL in pass completions of 50 or more yards (eight). In a nationally televised Oct. 2 Sunday night game at Riverfront, Miami's Don Shula and Cincinnati's Dave Shula became the first father and son to oppose one another as head coaches in North American major pro sports. The Dolphins won, 23-7. The Bengals closed the season with a unique comeback, beating Philadelphia 33-30 when Doug Pelfrey kicked two FGs in the last :03 of the fourth quarter. He connected from 22 yards at :03 to tie the score, then kicked a 54-yarder at :01, after the Bengals kickoff team recovered an Eagles muff at the Philadelphia 37. Though there is no official NFL record for multiple FGs in the waning seconds of a game, the Elias Sports Bureau confirms that from 1970 through 2017, no other player has kicked two in the last :03. On May 5, the Bengals signed Ohio State DT Dan Wilkinson, the first overall pick in the '94 draft. Wilkinson was the first player ever drafted No. 1 overall by the Bengals (later to be joined in 1995 by RB Ki-Jana Carter and in 2003 by QB Carson Palmer). In December, fan favorite Tim Krumrie, a two-time Pro Bowler, announced his retirement, effective at season's end. Krumrie was honored by the team at the regular-season finale, and shortly after the season he was hired to the coaching staff. He served as a defensive assistant in 1995 and was promoted to defensive line coach in 1996. The two-point conversion was added to NFL rules prior to the '94 season, with the Bengals among 23 teams voting in favor, and in the first preseason game, when Cincinnati played against Tampa Bay and former head coach Sam Wyche, a Buccaneers two-point conversion was the deciding play in a 17-16 Tampa Bay win. Much debate and some controversy continued through the year as the Bengals and baseball's Reds negotiated with Cincinnati leaders about the need for a new stadium, or even two. As co-tenants with the Bengals at Riverfront, the Reds balked at parts of an agreement the Bengals had reached in 1993 for interim improvements at Riverfront, and in an attempt to resolve issues, a city/county Stadium Task Force was formed, led by Cincinnati mayor Roxanne Qualls and Hamilton County Commission president Guy Guckenberger. The Bengals meanwhile agreed to share the cost of major improvements to Spinney Field, the team's city-owned practice facility.

1995

The Bengals were alive in the playoff race through Game 14, but were eliminated in a 26-10 loss at Cleveland in Game 15. The Dec. 17 Browns game was the last home game for Cleveland prior to the franchise's controversial move to Baltimore. The Bengals' 7-9 finish included a 2-0 start and wins in four of the last seven games, but Cincinnati lost six of seven in a midseason stretch, including a 26-23 home loss to Miami in "Shula Bowl II," as Bengals head coach Dave Shula opposed his father, Don, for the second straight year. The Bengals closed the season by erasing a 21-point deficit in a 27-24 win vs. Minnesota, tying the largest comeback to win in club history. Jeff Blake held serve on the No. 1 QB job he had gained in 1994, keeping David Klingler in a backup role, and both Blake and WR Carl Pickens earned Pro Bowl berths. Pickens set a franchise record for TDs (17, all receiving) that stands through 2017. (In receiving TDs only, no other Bengals player through 2017 has had more than 12.) The Bengals had retained Pickens for 1995 by matching a free agency offer he received from Arizona. The Bengals suffered a severe blow in preseason game three on Aug. 17 at Detroit, as RB Ki-Jana Carter of Penn State, the top overall pick in the '95 draft, was lost for the season to a severe knee injury. Carter, who had missed the first two preseason games with an ankle sprain, was lost at Detroit on his third Cincinnati carry. The Bengals had traded with Carolina to gain Carter as an offensive centerpiece, moving up in the first round for the first time in franchise history. Carter would come back to play seven NFL seasons, four of those for Cincinnati, but he never matched his college form at the pro level and closed with only 1144 career rushing yards. The year of 1995 was filled with issues regarding the Bengals' need for a new stadium. A lack of progress on the local front led club president Mike Brown to explore the possibility of a move to Baltimore, pressed by a deadline on Baltimore's end. But Brown repeatedly professed he had no desire to move the team unless forced to by an untenable local situation. On June 28, just minutes before a Bengals-set deadline, Cincinnati City Council voted 5-4 to approve a Hamilton County plan from Commissioner Bob Bedinghaus to raise the county sales tax by one percent to fund two new stadiums. In the end that proposal was scaled down to a one-half percent hike, funding stadiums and also providing homeowners with property tax relief. But after the County Commission voted to implement the tax, forces opposed to the increase successfully petitioned to make approval subject to a public referendum to be held in March of 1996. In October, Mike Brown announced that the Bengals for 1996 would move most of their front-office operation from Riverfront Stadium to the team's new practice facility building at Spinney Field.

1996

Progress continued to be forged on the Bengals' efforts to secure their future in Cincinnati with a new stadium. The biggest step came on March 19, when Hamilton County voters approved by 61-to-39 percent a measure to fund new Bengals and Reds stadiums with a half-cent sales tax increase. The vote came after vigorous public debate, and the Cincinnati Post termed it a "landslide victory" for backers of the issue. On Sept. 10, the Bengals reached preliminary agreement with Hamilton County on a 30-year lease, for an as-yet unnamed and un-sited stadium. The Bengals pushed vigorously for a riverfront site, opposing proposals to build in the Broadway Commons area just northeast of downtown. Both public polls and experts' recommendations indicated a preference for a riverfront site, but the question remained undecided as the year ended. The new stadium's name also remained undecided, but early public response showed strong support for naming it after Bengals founder Paul Brown. On Sept. 9, Riverfront Stadium was re-named Cinergy Field, as the energy utility Cinergy reached a $6 million naming rights deal with Hamilton County to cover the stadium's remaining years of use. On the field, the team lost six of its first seven games, but Cincinnati's fortunes took a U-turn after offensive coordinator Bruce Coslet was promoted to head coach on Oct. 21, replacing the released Dave Shula. Coslet directed the team to a 7-2 finish, including a 5-0 mark at Cinergy Field. The Bengals stayed alive for the playoffs until the next-to-last week of the season, when despite defeating Houston they were eliminated due to results elsewhere. Coslet, signed only through '96 when he took over as head coach, was extended on Dec. 14 through 2000. A signature win for Coslet came Nov. 3 at Baltimore, when the Bengals rallied from a 21-3 deficit to win 24-21. The 18-point deficit stands through 2017 as largest ever overcome by the Bengals in a road win. WR Carl Pickens, who in 1995 had become the first Bengal to lead the AFC in receptions, led the conference again with 100, the first Bengal to hit the century mark. The defense had 34 INTs, a club record that stands through 2017. CB Ashley Ambrose, a veteran free agent in his first Bengals season, led the team with eight INTs and went to the Pro Bowl along with Pickens.

1997

On Feb. 13, the Bengals and Hamilton County reached tentative agreement on a western riverfront site for a new football stadium. The Bengals yielded to County wishes for a site one block farther west than the club's preferred spot, supporting the goal of opening central riverfront space for development of other attractions and neighborhoods between a football and a baseball stadium

(though the baseball site had yet to be agreed upon.). A drawback for the development of the more western football site was that some of the needed land was not owned by the county, and that would lead to future delays, as well as higher costs than the Bengals' preferred site. On May 29, the 30-year Bengals lease was completed and signed. It was announced on May 29 that the facility would be named Paul Brown Stadium, with the Bengals agreeing to cover $5 million for the loss of potential corporate naming rights. On April 29, the Bengals received a favorable ruling in a tax case that had threatened the viability of the franchise. In United States Tax Court in Chicago, Judge John O. Colvin ruled that the heirs of the late Paul Brown were not liable for $40 million sought by the Internal Revenue Service, due to a dispute over Paul Brown's acquisition of team shares held formerly by John Sawyer. The Cincinnati Enquirer editorial page opined that the Bengals had been spared an unfair "ambush by the IRS." The football team opened training camp in a state-of-the-art new facility at Georgetown (Ky.) College, after 29 seasons of training at Wilmington (Ohio) College. On April 5, the Bengals had re-signed QB Boomer Esiason as a veteran No. 2 to back up Jeff Blake. Esiason had gone on to play for the Jets and Cardinals since playing for the Bengals from 1984-92. The team was struggling with a 2-7 record on Nov. 9 at Indianapolis when Blake was sidelined with a concussion, and the 36-year-old Esiason entered the game in the third quarter and led a comeback victory. The Bengals lost the next week at Pittsburgh with Blake as the starter, and Esiason was named starter for the final five games. The Bengals were 4-1 in his starts, and they scored 42 points in the start he lost. Esiason did not have enough pass attempts to qualify for a Bengals-record season passer rating, or for the NFL passing title, but he finished the season with a 106.9 rating. The team finished the season 7-9. It was the last Bengals hurrah for Esiason, who retired after the season to take a broadcasting job with ABC's Monday Night Football. The '97 season saw the debut of HB Corey Dillon, a second-round draft choice who stands through 2017 as the club's all-time leading rusher (8061 yards). On Dec. 4 vs. Tennessee at Cinergy Field, Dillon rushed for 246 yards and four TDs, breaking Jim Brown's NFL record for rushing yards in a game by a rookie (237) and tying the Bengals record for TDs and points in a game. Dillon's four TDs and 24 points remain tied for the Bengals record through 2017.

On Jan. 24, Bengals OT Anthony Munoz (1980-92) was voted to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Munoz was part of a five-member induction class, and he and Chicago Bears LB Mike Singletary became the 47th and 48th players among the then-194 members to be elected in their first year of eligibility. The official induction ceremony took place Aug. 1, at the Hall in Canton, Ohio. NFL labor events had led to Munoz gaining free agent status after announcing his retirement following the 1992 season, and he had signed with Tampa Bay (and his former Bengals head coach, Sam Wyche) as a free agent in '93. But Munoz gave up the comeback bid after suffering a shoulder injury in training camp, and because he was not with the Bucs in the regular season, he is recognized in the Hall as having played only for the Bengals. Plans for the Bengals' new stadium hit a serious snag in January of '98, due to a dispute between Hamilton County and the city over the county acquiring 12.5 acres of city land that it needed to build at its preferred western riverfront site. As the stalemate dragged on, the Bengals announced that if no agreement was reached by Jan. 31, the club would no longer be bound by the lease it had signed in spring of 1997. Tension continued to build until, at 1:15 a.m. on Feb. 1, City Council forged a past-the-11th-hour agreement to accept a county proposal. On April 25, officials from the county, city and the Bengals joined in a public groundbreaking for Paul Brown Stadium construction, with plans for the facility to be ready for the 2000 season. The news on the field was not so encouraging, as the team dipped to 3-13 in its second full season under head coach Bruce Coslet. QB Boomer Esiason, who had a sensational late-season return to the starting job in 1997, after four seasons playing elsewhere, announced prior to the season that he was retiring to join ABC's Monday Night Football as a broadcaster. The Bengals signed former Steeler Neil O'Donnell to compete with Jeff Blake for the starting QB job. O'Donnell won the job in training camp, but the team lost nine straight after beating Pittsburgh in Game 5. Blake started Games 14 and 15 before being injured, and the season ended with no clear starter in sight for 1999. HB Corey Dillon rushed for 1130 yards, becoming the first Bengal (and still through 2017 the only Bengal) to top 1000 in each of his first two Cincinnati seasons. In the season opener vs. Tennessee, injury-plagued HB Ki-Jana Carter, top overall pick in the 1995 draft, suffered a season-ending wrist fracture. DT Dan Wilkinson, drafted No. 1 overall by the Bengals in 1994, saw a rather stormy Cincinnati career end prior to the season, when he was traded to Washington for picks in the first and third rounds of the '98 draft. The Bengals used the picks to obtain LB Brian Simmons (first round) and G Mike Goff (third round).

1999

For the first year since the idea's original proposal in 1993, plans for the Bengals' new stadium proceeded with only minor issues. The rise of the seating bowl of Paul Brown Stadium was watched by citizens throughout the year. However, past issues — particularly a delay in Hamilton County's acquisition of needed land from the city — put construction on a very tight schedule to meet the goal of an August, 2000, inaugural game. On the field in '99, veteran Jeff Blake and rookie first-round draft choice Akili Smith would end up sharing QB duties during a 4-12 season. Blake was benched after an 0-4 start, and Smith started and won his NFL debut, 18-17 on Oct. 10 at Cleveland. The game marked the renewal of the "Battle of Ohio" series, as the Browns returned to play as an expansion team. Cleveland had spent three years without NFL football after the Browns moved to Baltimore for the 1996 season. The Bengals did not win again until Game 12, however, and Smith suffered a season-ending ankle injury in Game 9 vs. Jacksonville. Blake engineered three straight wins in Games 12-14, but the team lost the final two. HB Corey Dillon rushed for 1200 yards and went to the Pro Bowl along with KOR Tremain Mack, whose 27.1-yard average was the team record until Adam Jones surpassed it in 2014.

2000

The Paul Brown Stadium era began on Aug. 19, as the Bengals christened Cincinnati's new football showplace with a 24-20 preseason win over the Chicago Bears. WR Peter Warrick scored the first Bengals preseason points in PBS on a 14-yard end-around run in the first quarter. In the stadium's Grand Opening regular-season game Sept. 10 vs. Cleveland, before a Cincinnati sports record crowd of 64,006 (since surpassed by the Bengals). The Browns won, 24-7. Rookie WR Ron Dugans scored the first Bengals regular-season points in PBS on a four-yard TD pass from Akili Smith. The '00 Bengals drew four other crowds which exceeded the pre-PBS record for a sports crowd in Cincinnati, but the Browns game stood as the new record at year's end. On Sept. 25, following an 0-3 start to the season, Bruce Coslet resigned as head coach and was replaced by assistant head coach/defensive coordinator Dick LeBeau, who was named interim head coach. The team finished 4-9 under LeBeau, including 4-6 in the final 10 games and a 2-2 mark in the final four. On Dec. 20, LeBeau signed a multi-year contract to begin in 2001. LeBeau's first victory, on Oct. 22 vs. Denver, featured a then NFL-record 278 rushing yards by Corey Dillon, who went on to set a Bengals record (since broken) of 1435 yards for the season, earning his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl. Against Denver, Dillon broke a 1977 record of 275 yards set by Chicago's Walter Payton. It was an all-or-nothing day for Dillon, as he was stopped on 10 of his 22 carries for one or fewer yards, but he had five runs of 30-plus, including TD runs of 65 and 41 yards. "It seemed like a high school game," Dillon said of his numbers. Dillon's 278 stood as the NFL record until Sept. 14, 2003, when Baltimore's Jamal Lewis had a 295-yard game vs. Cleveland, and Dillon's total ranks fourth in league history through 2017. The Denver game was Cincinnati's first regular-season win at Paul Brown Stadium. Akili Smith opened the year as starting QB, but the offense stalled, and he was replaced after a Nov. 5 loss at Dallas by veteran 2000 free agent signee Scott Mitchell. Prior to the season, on June 1, the Bengals released HB Ki-Jana Carter, their injury-plagued 1995 top draft pick. On July 20, Cincinnati released talented but malcontent WR Carl Pickens. Pickens' departure had left Darnay Scott set to take over as the No. 1 wideout, but Scott suffered a broken leg in training camp on Aug. 1 and missed the season.

The Bengals got off to a 4-3 start in Dick LeBeau's first full season as head coach, but they did not win again until the final two games, finishing 6-10. The defense finished No. 9 in the NFL, but the offense ranked 23rd. The early season was played amidst the tragedy of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks in New York and Washington D.C. All of the NFL's Week 2 games, scheduled for Sept. 16-17, were postponed until the first weekend in January, the weekend after the regular season had been scheduled to end. The Bengals resumed play on Sept. 23, moving to 2-0 with a win over Baltimore at Paul Brown Stadium, and by that time stadium security procedures had been strengthened, including a ban on "coolers, backpacks and oversize purses." Also, the Federal Aviation Administration moved to ban aircraft from operating within three miles of outdoor venues with events in progress. Free agent signee Jon Kitna took over as the starting QB, winning a training camp battle with Scott Mitchell and Akili Smith. The '01 season featured the Bengals' first visit to Pittsburgh's new Heinz Field, on Oct. 7. On Oct. 28 at Detroit, a 31-27 Bengals win featured a 96-yard TD run by HB Corey Dillon, which stands through 2017 as the longest scrimmage play in Bengals history. The '01 season was the first for flamboyant WR Chad Johnson, who through 2017 is Cincinnati's all-time leader in receptions (751) and receiving yards (10,783). Johnson, a second-round draft pick from Oregon State, put up only modest rookie numbers, missing four games with a collarbone fracture, but he publicly pleaded with coaches and medical staff to let him come back sooner from the injury, and he promised, "I'm going to make a lot of noise here early." On Oct. 14, the Bengals re-set their own record for the largest crowd ever at a Cincinnati sports event, as 64,217 fans watched a 24-14 win over Cleveland.

The Bengals began the season in a new division, the AFC North, as the NFL realigned into eight four-team divisions. The Bengals were successful in efforts to keep longtime rivals Cleveland and Pittsburgh as division foes, and the Baltimore Ravens completed the four-team lineup. The Bengals entered the season after an encouraging 2001 finish. But despite some noteworthy individual performances, the team sunk to the worst record (2-14) in franchise history. The team was hit hard by injuries, losing the league's second-highest number of games by starters. The offense got off to a very slow start with free agent signee Gus Frerotte at QB. The offense perked up noticeably after the 2001 starter, Jon Kitna, returned to the No. 1 QB role. For the first time since 1989, Cincinnati had a 3000-yard passer (Kitna), a 1000-yard rusher (Corey Dillon) and a 1000-yard receiver (Chad Johnson). Johnson had the first of his club-record 31 games of 100 receiving yards on Nov. 10 at Baltimore (seven-for-110). On Oct. 27 vs. Tennessee, Dillon raised his Bengals career rushing total to 6542 yards, passing James Brooks (6447) into the all-time franchise lead that he still holds through 2017 with 8061 yards. The Bengals set a team record for pass completions with 350 (since surpassed). But the team was 0-7 before getting a win at expansion Houston. The defense was inconsistent, and with nine TDs allowed on special teams or by the offense, the Bengals as a team allowed the second-most points (456) in club history. On Dec. 30, it was announced that head coach Dick LeBeau would not be retained for 2003.

2003

The Bengals launched a new era on Jan. 14, when Marvin Lewis was hired as the ninth head coach in franchise history. "We've turned over a new leaf," said Bengals president Mike Brown, and the Bengals have had no other coach since. Lewis has become the franchise's all-time leader in tenure (15 seasons through 2017) and wins (125). At the time of his hiring, Lewis was the eighth African-American to be named an NFL head coach. Architect of the Baltimore Ravens' record-setting Super Bowl defense in 2000, Lewis received a broad mandate from Bengals ownership to implement his program, and the team finished 8-8, six games better than the 2-14 Bengals of 2002. Though the Bengals missed the playoffs — eliminated on the final weekend of the season — their six-game improvement was the biggest of any NFL team from '02 to '03. It was also the second-biggest one-year improvement in Bengals history. Lewis finished second to Bill Belichick, coach of the World Champion New England Patriots, in Associated Press voting for NFL Coach of the Year. The season included the four largest pro sports crowds in Cincinnati history (to that time), topped by 65,362 on Dec. 28 vs. Cleveland, and the highlight game was a 24-19 win on Nov. 16 over an unbeaten (9-0) Kansas City team. The Chiefs game started what would be a Bengals-record streak of 57 consecutive home sellouts in regular season and postseason. WR Chad Johnson, who led the AFC with 1355 receiving yards, signed a five-year contract extension in November. Prior to the season, the Bengals had the No. 1 overall pick in the NFL Draft for the third time in team history, and the club chose Southern California QB Carson Palmer. Palmer was signed on April 24, just before the actual draft, as the Bengals took the option to execute an early signing. Palmer did not play as a rookie, as veteran Jon Kitna was the only NFL QB to play every offensive snap for his team, but Palmer would go on to set numerous Bengals passing records, beginning his playing career in 2004. QB Akili Smith, an unsuccessful first-round QB choice in 1999, was released on June 2. In an ironic twist for longtime Bengals followers, the club prior to the season hired Ricky Hunley as LBs coach. Hunley was a Bengals first-round draft choice as a player (LB) in 1984, but he never signed with Cincinnati, staging the longest holdout in franchise history before being traded to Denver on Oct. 9, 1984.

2004

In their second season under head coach Marvin Lewis, the Bengals continued their rebuilding process, posting a second straight 8-8 record. All eight regular-season games at Paul Brown Stadium were sellouts — the first sold-out regular season since 1992 at Riverfront Stadium — and the total regular-season attendance of 524,248 put the team over the half-million mark for the first time. The team's break-even finish was a creditable performance, given that injuries were severe (18 players were placed on season-ending medical reserve lists) and that second-year QB Carson Palmer was seeing his first NFL playing time. Palmer, the 2003 first overall NFL draft pick, had not played as a rookie while backing up Jon Kitna. Palmer started the first 13 games before missing the final three with a knee strain. HB Rudi Johnson rushed for a club-record 1454 yards (a mark he later broke), and the team had four players named to the Pro Bowl, its highest total since 1990. The Pro Bowl quartet was Rudi Johnson, WR Chad Johnson, OT Willie Anderson and CB Tory James. K Shayne Graham set a club record with 122 points (since surpassed by Mike Nugent). Home games were played on a new, synthetic FieldTurf surface, on which installation was complete in early July. PBS had grass fields from 2000-03, but durability and maintenance issues dictated a switch. The team also made its first significant uniform change since 1981. The signature striped helmet was not changed, but the jersey design was modernized, black pants were added as a regular option to white pants, and a special-occasion orange jersey was added for up to two games per year. The team wore orange jerseys for the first time in franchise history in a 26-3 win vs. Dallas on Nov. 7. On Nov. 28, the Bengals played in what remains through 2017 as the second-highest scoring game in NFL history, a 58-48 home win over Cleveland (106 total points). The game stands through '17 as the only one in which the Bengals have scored in double figures in all four quarters (14-13-14-17). Prior to the season, HB Corey Dillon, the club's all-time rushing yards leader, was traded to New England for a second-round 2005 draft choice (Bengals chose S Madieu Williams).

2005

In head coach Marvin Lewis' third season, the Bengals returned to the playoffs, winning the AFC North Division title with an 11-5 record. But Cincinnati lost 31-17 to Pittsburgh in a Wild Card round playoff game, the first postseason game at Paul Brown Stadium, and QB Carson Palmer's postseason was regrettably short. Palmer, who posted a 101.1 regular-season passer rating, a Bengals record at the time, was lost to a serious knee injury on the club's second offensive snap in the playoff game, downed by former Bengal Kimo von Oelhoffen. On the play, Palmer had launched a 66-yard completion to WR Chris Henry. In the regular season, the team won its first four games, including an 88-29 point margin in the first three. The Bengals clinched the division title in Game 14, with a 41-17 victory at Detroit. A number of club individual single-season records were set, including two that still stand through 2017 — 1458 rushing yards by HB Rudi Johnson and 10 INTs by CB Deltha O'Neal. Five Bengals were voted to the Pro Bowl, the largest Cincinnati contingent since the 1989 team placed six. The five were Palmer, O'Neal, OT Willie Anderson, K Shayne Graham and WR Chad Johnson. The season's home crowds included the top four attendance figures in franchise history to that time, headed by 66,104 for the Bengals-Steelers game on Oct. 23. Two notable Bengals "voices" passed away in '05. Phil Samp, the team's radio play-by-play man from 1968-90, died on March 10, and Tom Kinder Sr., the stadium public address announcer from 1968-2004, died on April 10.

For the first time since 1992, the Bengals sold out all games before the season began, and a waiting list was established for new season ticket buyers. The regular-season attendance mark was 527,870, for an average of 65,984, and both the total and the averages stand through 2017 as club records. Also prior to the season, it was also announced that head coach Marvin Lewis had signed a contract extension through 2010. Lewis completed his fourth season by joining Paul Brown as the only Bengals head coaches to go four straight seasons without a losing record, but though the team remained in contention until the final weekend, it missed the '06 playoffs with an 8-8 mark. The Bengals lost their last three games after standing 8-5. A win in either of the two final games could have secured a playoff berth, but Cincinnati lost 24-23 in Game 15 at Denver when an errant PAT snap foiled a chance to force overtime, and the Bengals lost the season finale in overtime vs. Pittsburgh, after record-setting K Shayne Graham missed a 39-yard FG try on the final play of regulation. QB Carson Palmer, sidelined with a major knee injury in the 2005 postseason, made good on his bid to play the full 2006 regular season, starting every game. He set a club record to that point with 4035 passing yards, and he boldfaced his status as the cornerstone of the roster by winning the Most Valuable Player Award in the Pro Bowl on Feb. 10, 2007. He stands through 2017 as the only Bengal to win the award. The season was a particularly notable one for flamboyant WR Chad Johnson. In March, NFL owners voted to clamp down on player end-zone celebrations, an art that Johnson had been increasingly expanding in production value. In April, Johnson was signed to a contract extension through 2011. He was featured on a Sports Illustrated cover in October, and for the season he became the only Bengal (through 2017) to lead the NFL in receiving yards, with 1369. Johnson set a still-standing Bengals record for receiving yards in a game, with 260 on Nov. 12 vs. San Diego, and with 190 the next week at New Orleans, he set an NFL record at the time for receiving yards in consecutive games (450). Also in '06, Johnson became the only player to lead the AFC or NFC in receiving yards for a fourth consecutive season. No other player has done it since (through 2017). In February, federal judge S. Arthur Spiegel dismissed a Hamilton County lawsuit against the Bengals regarding the Paul Brown Stadium lease, ending two years of legal disputes. In March, the Bengals and Buffalo Bills were the only NFL teams to vote against a new Collective Bargaining Agreement with the players, deeming it unsound, and as time would pass, numerous owners and analysts would in hindsight praise the Cincinnati-Buffalo stance. The 2006 agreement, in some views, ultimately led to the conditions that caused a lockout of players from March through July of 2011. The Bengals in '06 were among a number of teams responding to concerns about rowdy fan behavior at NFL games. The club installed and staffed a "Jerk Line" that fans could call during games to report problems. LB David Pollack, Cincinnati's top draft choice in 2005, suffered what would prove to be a career-ending neck fracture in the home opener vs. Cleveland. Pollack was never paralyzed and made a full recovery, but after some consideration of a comeback, he ultimately decided against it and moved into a successful career as a sports broadcaster.

In a Harris Interactive survey released in February, Paul Brown Stadium was the only football stadium to make a list of "America's Favorite 150 Buildings and Structures." PBS ranked 101st on the list, whose range included all manner of major structures, including skyscrapers, museums, churches, hotels and even bridges. (The Empire State Building ranked first). Among all sports venues, only Wrigley Field (31) and the old Yankee Stadium (84) ranked higher than PBS. For the second straight season, the Bengals sold out all games before the season began. The team entered the season with high expectations, with its first two home games selected for ESPN Monday Night Football. But the season's first half ended with a disappointing 2-6 record, and a second-half rally lifted the club only to 7-9, the first losing season for head coach Marvin Lewis. WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh tied for the league receptions title (112), setting a club record that still stands through 2017 and becoming the only Bengal ever to gain a share of the league lead. WR Chad Johnson broke his own team receiving yards record with 1440, a season mark that stands through 2017, and K Shayne Graham set two marks that stand through '17 — season field-goal percentage (91.2 on 31-of-34) and FGs in a game (seven). Graham was seven-for-seven on Nov. 11 at Baltimore, scoring all of Cincinnati's points in a 21-7 win. On Sept. 16 at Cleveland, QB Carson Palmer set a Bengals game record (still standing through 2017) with six TD passes, but the Bengals lost in a 51-45 shootout to the underdog Browns, starting a four-game losing streak that followed a season opening Monday night win vs. Baltimore. On Oct. 28 vs. Pittsburgh, the team established a franchise record for single-game attendance, recording a figure of 66,188. That number stands through 2017 as the largest crowd ever to attend a sports event in Cincinnati, and other Bengals crowds at Paul Brown Stadium more than fill out the other spots on the all-time Cincinnati top 10.

2008

With a club-record 23 players sent to the Reserve/Injured list, the Bengals struggled to a 4-11-1 finish. And that list of 23 did not include the biggest missing name, QB Carson Palmer, who stayed on the roster all season but played in only four games due to an elbow injury. Ryan Fitzpatrick replaced Palmer at QB. The team partly salvaged the season, going 4-3-1 in the campaign's second half, but that was after an 0-8 start. Though the offense was near record lows in many statistical categories, the defense was promising under new coordinator Mike Zimmer, rising to a No. 12 NFL yardage ranking, the team's best since 2001. For the third straight year, all home games were declared sold out before the season began. The Bengals' 13-13 tie on Nov. 16 vs. Philadelphia was the NFL's first deadlock since 2002, and some players on both teams would admit that they had been expecting the contest to continue when the 15-minute overtime ended scoreless, not realizing that NFL games still could end in ties. It was the first overtime tie in Bengals history. The Bengals had played one other tie, at Houston in 1969, but that game went just the regulation four quarters, as overtime was not yet in the rules. On Aug. 29, star WR Chad Johnson legally changed his name to Chad Ochocinco, a Spanish reference to his uniform number (85). But he was not permitted to have the new name on his jersey until 2009, after he had fulfilled contractual obligations regarding the purchase of existing licensed "Johnson" merchandise. In 2012, while with the Miami Dolphins, Ochocinco would change his name back to Johnson, and the league subsequently determined that in all future references in league material, the player would be known as Johnson, regardless of the year involved. The 2008 preseason ended with dramatic final cuts, as those released included three Bengals with six Pro Bowls among them — OT Willie Anderson, HB Rudi Johnson and CB Deltha O'Neal. On May 19, the Bengals waived talented but troubled LB Odell Thurman, who had been a rookie sensation in 2005. Thurman had not played in 2006 or '07, suspended by the NFL for various behavior issues, and on May 19 Bengals coach Marvin Lewis said the team "had not seen the right steps taken" by Thurman to justify another chance to play for Cincinnati. Thurman would not play again anywhere in the NFL.

2009

Rebounding from the disappointment of injury-plagued 2008, the Bengals won their second division championship under coach Marvin Lewis, finishing with a 10-6 record. Their march to the AFC North title included a 6-0 mark in division games, marking the only time in franchise history (through 2017) for Cincinnati to sweep its division opponents. The Bengals were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs, however, losing 24-14 to the visiting N.Y. Jets, who went on to reach the AFC Championship Game. The Bengals weathered tragedy en route to the title. On Oct. 8, Vikki Zimmer, wife for 27 years to Bengals defensive coordinator Mike Zimmer, died unexpectedly in Cincinnati. And on Dec. 17, WR Chris Henry died in North Carolina from injuries suffered in a Dec. 16 fall from a moving pickup truck. Henry was not with the team at the time, recuperating from a forearm fracture suffered Nov. 8 vs. Baltimore. The Bengals chartered a plane for the entire team to attend Henry's funeral in New Orleans on Dec. 22, and NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell also attended. On the field in '09, the Bengals were led by their defense, which continued rapid improvement under coordinator Zimmer. The Bengals finished fourth in the NFL in fewest yards allowed (301.4 per game). The team suffered a stunning home loss to Denver in the season opener, on a wildly improbable late play, but Cincinnati rebounded to win its next four. The Bengals led Denver 7-6 with less than a minute to play, but the Broncos won 12-7 on an 87-yard TD pass that was deflected by the Bengals defense to Denver's Brandon Stokley, who was not the intended receiver. The play stands through 2017 as the NFL's longest game-winning TD play from scrimmage in the final minute of the fourth quarter. On Oct. 4, Shayne Graham's 31-yard FG beat the Browns 23-20 in the longest Bengals game not to end in a tie. Graham's winning kick came with :04 remaining in overtime. On Oct. 25 vs. Chicago, Bengals HB Cedric Benson vaulted into the NFL rushing lead with a 189-yard game against Chicago, the team with which he had debuted unsuccessfully as a high first-round draft choice. The Bengals won 45-10 in a game nicknamed the "Benson Bowl," and NFL Network reported that Benson's rushing total was the most by a player against his former team in league history, with research going back to 1950. Long known for his mischievous on-field antics, WR Chad Johnson logged his last significant zany move as a Bengal on Nov. 8 vs. Baltimore, when he playfully offered a dollar bill to the officiating crew as they were discussing a ruling. The NFL was not amused, and Johnson was fined $20,000. In Games 10-12, for the only time in franchise history (through 2017), the Bengals got 100-yard rushing games from three different players in a span of three games (Bernard Scott at Oakland, Larry Johnson vs. Cleveland and Cedric Benson vs. Detroit). It was the first such instance in the NFL since 1993. Benson set a Bengals individual record for 100-yard rushing games in a season (six), and the club set a mark with eight individual 100-yard rushers. Both marks stand through 2017.

Following a 2009 division championship, the team never jelled despite having veteran talent, including that of high-profile free agent WR Terrell Owens. After a 2-1 start, the Bengals tied a dubious team one-season record by losing 10 in a row. Wins in two of the last three games did little to ease the dissatisfaction. Head coach Marvin Lewis ended the season with an expired contract, but two days after the season finale, it was announced that Lewis had signed to return for a franchise-record ninth season in 2011, a wise move given that the next five Bengals teams would make the playoffs. In '10, Owens and WR Chad Johnson combined for 139 receptions for 1814 yards and 13 TDs, and Cedric Benson rushed for 1111 yards while Carson Palmer passed for 3970. But the team could not deliver in the clutch. Opponents scored eight TDs on returns (INTs, fumbles, kicks), and the Bengals were minus-eight in turnover differential. Injuries played a part, as the Bengals were forced to place 17 players on the Reserve/Injured list, and nine were veteran defensive players who would have started or seen significant action if healthy. The season was the last one in stripes for Chad Johnson, who completed the year with franchise career record records (still standing through 2017) for receptions (751), receiving yards (10,783), receiving TDs (66) and most 100-yard receiving games (31). The club recorded a franchise-record 57th consecutive sellout (regular and postseason) for a Monday night game on Nov. 8 vs. Pittsburgh, but the streak ended when the Nov. 21 Buffalo game failed to sell out. The Bengals played five preseason games, their most since 1988, as the club was selected to open the NFL preseason against Dallas in the Pro Football Hall of Fame Game on Aug. 8 at Canton, Ohio. On Aug. 7, former Bengals assistant coach and head coach Dick LeBeau was inducted into the Hall of Fame. LeBeau, who spent 18 years on the Cincinnati coaching staff, also had a stellar playing career as a DB with the Detroit Lions, and after leaving Cincinnati he became a successful defensive coordinator with Pittsburgh.

Shortly after re-signing for a Bengals-record ninth season as head coach, Marvin Lewis had a message for Bengals fans upset over the 2010 team's 4-12 record. "I will fix us," Lewis pledged, and the record would bear him out. Lewis led a young team — the AFC's youngest as of Week 1 — to a 9-7 record and a Wild Card playoff berth. Cincinnati lost at Houston in the Wild Card game. The young Bengals squad was not able to work with the coaching staff until late July, due to a player lockout over labor issues that had begun in March. The lockout ended just as training camps were due to open, with the announcement of a new NFL Collective Bargaining Agreement. But Cincinnati's players had staged numerous workouts on their own during the lockout, and two veteran leaders — DT Domata Peko and OT Andrew Whitworth — were accorded great credit for helping the team hang together in preparation for its surprise season. The Bengals defied widespread last-place predictions from preseason analysts by putting new offensive pieces together quickly. Working in the scheme of new offensive coordinator Jay Gruden, the club's top two draft picks — WR A.J. FENSE* ST AT TT SKS-YDS I—became the first rookie QB/WR duo in NFL history to make the Pro Bowl. K Mike Nugent, from nearby Centerville, Ohio, set club records (still standing through 2017) for points (132) and FGs (33) in a season. The defense, in its fourth season under coordinator Mike Zimmer, ranked seventh in the NFL. DT Geno Atkins, a fourth-round 2010 draft pick, began emerging as one of the best draft steals in franchise history, tying for the NFL lead in sacks (7.5) among interior linemen and earning his first Pro Bowl berth. Dalton's success at QB led to the Bengals trading holdout veteran QB Carson Palmer to Oakland on Oct. 18, and Cincinnati received Oakland's first-round 2012 draft choice and second-round 2013 draft choice. The picks were used on CB Dre Kirkpatrick (2012) and HB Giovani Bernard (2013). On July 29, the Bengals traded talented but problematic Chad Johnson, their all-time leader in receptions (751) and receiving yards (10,783), to New England for a fifth-round and a sixth-round draft choice. Cincinnati used the picks to draft WRs Marvin Jones (2012) and Cobi Hamilton (2013). Johnson would make only 15 more NFL catches, released by New England in June of 2012 and released by Miami the following August. Lewis closed the year with 69 career victories, passing Sam Wyche (64) for most by a Bengals head coach. Through 2010, Lewis had been tied with Wyche and Paul Brown for most seasons as Bengals head coach (eight).

2012

The Bengals brought training camp to downtown Cincinnati, holding camp at the club's home facility for the first time. The team had trained for 29 seasons at Wilmington (Ohio) College and for the next 15 at Georgetown (Ky.) College. Changes in the NFL's Collective Bargaining Agreement helped drive the change, as the Bengals joined a majority of NFL teams which had switched to their home bases. With the new CBA reducing the amount of time players could be on the practice field, it was thought that their increased non-field time could be much better used at Paul Brown Stadium, where medical and classroom facilities were far superior to any remote camp site. Plans for a second straight playoff season seemed to have gone awry when the team lost four straight after a 3-1 start, standing 3-5 at the season's halfway point. But the Bengals stormed back to go 7-1 in the second half and clinched a Wild Card postseason berth with a 10-6 record. The only loss in the final eight games came by one point, 20-19 to Dallas, on a Cowboys FG at the final gun. Of 131 NFL teams to post 3-5 starts between 1990-2012, the Bengals were one of only nine to reach the playoffs, and the 7-1 finish tied the 1981 Cincinnati Super Bowl team for best second-half record in a 16-game season. Cincinnati lost at Houston in the first round of the playoffs for the second straight year, but it was the first time for the Bengals to reach postseason two years in a row since 1981-82. The Bengals clinched their playoff berth with a 13-10 win at Pittsburgh in Game 15, at the same time eliminating the rival Steelers from contention. CB Leon Hall got the only Bengals TD against the Steelers, on a 17-yard INT return. The defense ranked sixth in the NFL in fewest yards allowed (319.7 per game), and it collected a team-record 51 sacks (though the 1976 team, in a 14-game season, had a higher average of sacks per game). All-Pro DT Geno Atkins led the sack parade with 12.5, third-most in club history and most on the season by a margin of 4.5 among NFL interior linemen. WR A.J. Green scored at least one TD in nine straight games (Games 2-10), a Bengals record for within one season. He became only the second NFL player in a 48-year span to have at least one receiving TD in nine straight games in a season, joining Hall of Famer Jerry Rice. P Kevin Huber posted averages of 46.6 gross and 42.0 net, club records that he reset in 2014. New technology lessened the need of the '12 team for notebooks and attention to bulletin boards, as the Bengals became one of the first NFL clubs to issue players tablets, for easy distribution of schedules, video and other key information. Shortly after the end of the season, Bengals RBs coach Jim Anderson announced his retirement. Anderson had joined the Bengals staff in 1984, and his 29 seasons stand through 2017 as a franchise record for most total seasons on the Cincinnati coaching staff. During his last six seasons, Anderson had the most consecutive years with his team of any position coach in the NFL.

2013

Coach Marvin Lewis led the Bengals to their third straight playoff appearance — a franchise first. Cincinnati won its third AFC North Division title under Lewis, posting an 11-5 record and clinching the crown with a 42-14 rout of Minnesota in Game 15. The Bengals went 8-0 at home for the second time in club history (also 1988), and they were among only five NFL clubs to reach the postseason each year from 2011-13. They were in the postseason for the fourth time in five years, among only six teams to qualify four or more times in that span. For the third straight season, however, the playoffs ended all too soon for Cincinnati, as San Diego prevailed 27-10 in a first round game at Paul Brown Stadium. The '13 team played three overtime games, most in a season in franchise history. They won the first OT contest, but lost in OT in consecutive weeks in Games 9 and 10. It was the first time in franchise history for the team to play two straight OT games. The consecutive losses dropped the team's record to 6-4, but Lewis' club closed the season with five wins in the last six games. QB Andy Dalton set franchise records for passing yards (4293) and TD passes in a season (33), and he became one of only five QBs in NFL history to pilot a playoff club in his first three seasons in the league. WR A.J. Green was named to the Pro Bowl for the third time in his three-year career, and he set club records for most 100-yard receiving games in a season (six) and most consecutive 100-yard receiving games (five). Second-year WR Marvin Jones also posted a club mark, becoming the first Bengal with four TD receptions in a game (Oct. 27 vs. N.Y. Jets). Jones accomplished his feat in the franchise's 700th regular-season game. Green (11) and Jones (10) became the first Bengals duo to each hit double figures in TD receptions in a season. Marvin Lewis earned a "coaching-tree" compliment after the season when, in an NFL rarity, each of his coordinators signed as NFL head coaches. Offensive coordinator Jay Gruden went to Washington, and defensive boss Mike Zimmer went to Minnesota. Also in the TV realm, the Bengals in '13 agreed for the second time in five years to be featured during preseason on the all-access" HBO series, "Hard Knocks." The club allowed virtually unfettered access to team activities to crews from NFL Films. Though many NFL clubs have shied from invitations to be a Hard Knocks team, the Bengals won the AFC North title for the second straight time after doing the show, as they also won after doing Hard Knocks in 2009.

Head coach Marvin Lewis led the Bengals to a 10-5-1 record and a Wild Card playoff berth, and to new heights in terms of consistent success for the franchise. Lewis had the team in postseason for the fourth straight year, extending the club-record of three set in 2013 — and the team established a new club mark with a third straight season of double-digit wins. The season ended when an injury-depleted team lost 26-10 at Indianapolis in a Wild Card playoff game, but the Bengals stood as one of only four NFL teams to have made the playoffs four straight years. Lewis' club record for head coaching victories was extended to 100 in the season's final win, a Monday night playoff clincher in Week 16 vs. Denver. The Bengals tied a franchise record with four regular-season games in prime time on national TV. WR A.J. Green was voted to a fourth straight Pro Bowl, joining WR Isaac Curtis as the only Bengals selected in each of their first four seasons, and CB Adam Jones became the first Bengal to win an NFL kickoff return title, averaging a franchise-record 31.3 yards. In the year's biggest off-field story, DT Devon Still touched hearts across the nation with his openness regarding his daughter Leah being diagnosed with cancer. The Bengals worked to have sales of Still's No. 75 jersey benefit pediatric cancer research, and nearly 15,000 jerseys were sold to buyers near and far. At the Nov. 6 home game vs. Cleveland, Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center was presented with a check for $1.3 million. During training camp, the team signed QB Andy Dalton to a six-year contract extension, running through 2020. On April 17, the club continued its leading role in development of the Cincinnati downtown riverfront, announcing an agreement with Hamilton County that helped pave the way for General Electric to bring a major office facility to the emerging Banks neighborhood between Paul Brown Stadium and the Reds' Great American Ball Park. Fans at home games in 2014 enjoyed the benefits of the first state-of-the-art WiFi system throughout PBS.

The Bengals extended their franchise record for consecutive playoff seasons to five and stood as one of only four NFL teams to qualify those five consecutive years. But it was one of the more bittersweet seasons in club history. The team got off to an 8-0 start, setting a franchise record for most consecutive wins within a season and tying the mark for most wins regardless of seasons. The 12-4 finish tied Cincinnati records for most wins in a season and best winning percentage in a 16-game season. QB Andy Dalton was a huge key to it all, winning the AFC passing title with a Bengals-record 106.3 rating. But Dalton suffered a thumb injury in Game 13 vs. Pittsburgh and missed the remainder of the campaign, including a dramatic 18-16 loss to Pittsburgh in the first round of the playoffs. Backup QB AJ McCarron, who went 2-1 as a starter in the last three regular season games, rallied the Bengals in the playoff game from a 15-0 deficit after three quarters to a 16-15 lead with 1:50 to play. But the Steelers came back for a winning FG after recovering a fumble by Bengals HB Jeremy Hill deep in Pittsburgh territory. The Bengals' 2015 accomplishments also included a No. 2 NFL finish in scoring defense (17.4), the highest in club history. The club's most singular game accomplishment came Oct. 11 vs. Seattle, when the Bengals overcame a 17-point fourth-quarter deficit (24-7) to win 27-24 in overtime. The last time any NFL team had won a regular season or postseason game after trailing by 17 in the fourth quarter had been Week 15 of 2010, and Cincinnati's win ended a streak of 427 consecutive games in which teams trailing by 17-plus in the fourth quarter had lost. By the end of the postseason, the game stood as the only win for such a trailing team in the previous 536 instances.

2016

For the first time in six seasons, the Bengals missed the playoffs, and their 6-9-1 record came with plenty of reason to think what else might have been. Cincinnati's last five losses came by a total of 16 points, and a general lack of production in the fourth quarter was highlighted by the team suffering from crucial missed place kicks as no Bengals team had suffered in recent years. Injuries also were a worse-than-usual factor, but head coach Marvin Lewis said simply, "Your record is what you earn. We have to do a better job in so many ways (in 2017)." The most notable injury was a hamstring strain that cost WR A.J. Green all but two snaps of the last seven games. Through nine games, Green's totals of 66 receptions and 964 yards had him on pace to set club season records in both categories by wide margins. DE Carlos Dunlap had a remarkable 15 passes defensed, leading the team by five in becoming the first DL to lead the team in the category, and Dunlap led all NFL defensive linemen by seven. DE Geno Atkins led all NFL interior linemen in sacks (nine), claiming at least a piece of that crown for the fourth time in his seven seasons. Green, Dunlap and Atkins were among five Bengals in the Pro Bowl, joined also by QB Andy Dalton and OT Andrew Whitworth. The Bengals took part for the first time in the NFL's International Series, playing Washington to a 27-all tie on Oct. 30 at London's Wembley Stadium. The Bengals officially named the home team in the game, as the team played only seven games at Paul Brown Stadium, but it stands as the only regular season game in franchise history played at a neutral site. The tie against Washington was notable because it was Cincinnati's third tie in nine seasons (2008-16). Only eight other NFL teams played even one tie in that span, with the remaining 23 playing none. A notable statistic for the season was rookie WR Alex Erickson, a college free agent signee from Wisconsin, leading the AFC with a 27.9-yard kickoff return average, second-highest in team history.

2017

The Bengals in 2017 celebrated their 50th season by creating a commemorative 50th logo for team uniforms and apparel, introducing special signage throughout the stadium and the city, and honoring Bengals legends at halftime of each home game. On the field, the Bengals finished the 2017 season in third place of the AFC North Division at 7-9 and missed the playoffs for the second consecutive year. The offense failed to score a TD in the team's first two games, which included a 20-0 shutout at home in the opener vs. Baltimore and 13-9 loss to Houston on national TV on Thursday Night Football. Offensive coordinator Ken Zampese was fired on Sept. 15, and QBs coach Bill Lazor was named as his replacement. Despite the adjustment, the Bengals ended the season ranked last in the NFL in total offense, averaging just 280.5 yards per game. The team allowed 40 sacks and produced just a 3.6-yard average per rush. The Bengals' defense was on the field for 184 more plays than the offense (1146 to 962), the equivalent of nearly three extra games of action. That perhaps contributed to additional injuries to defensive players, as the Bengals relied heavily upon backups as the season progressed. The defense, which ranked No. 2 in the NFL through Week 6, fell to No. 18 by the end of the season. After a 33-7 loss vs. Chicago in Week 14 and a 34-7 loss at Minnesota in Week 15 dropped their record to 5-9, the Bengals rebounded to win their final two games of the season and knock both of their opponents — Detroit and Baltimore — out of playoff contention. The Bengals' win in the season finale came in dramatic fashion, as the team stunned the Ravens at Baltimore with a knockout TD in the final minute to eliminate the Ravens from the playoffs. QB Andy Dalton hit WR Tyler Boyd for a 49-yard score on fourth down with 44 seconds left to give the Bengals the win. The win helped elevate Buffalo to the playoffs for the first time since 1999, and Bills fans showed their appreciation of Dalton's last-minute heroics by donating heavily to his charity. Bills backers made a large number of $17 contributions ($1 for each of the 17 consecutive non-playoff seasons for the Bills), and in the end, more than $450,000 in donations were made to the Andy and Jordan Dalton Foundation. LB Carl Lawson led all NFL rookies in sacks (8.5) in 2017, and DT Geno Atkins led all NFL interior linemen in sacks (nine). Bengals co-founder Pete Brown, 74, died on Dec. 12. Brown, who was senior vice president of player personnel, had worked in the mid-1960s with his father, Paul, and brother, Mike, to bring pro football to Cincinnati. Two days after the season ended, Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis signed a two-year extension through 2019. Offensive line coach Paul Alexander, the second-longest tenured assistant in Bengals history at 24 seasons, departed for the Dallas Cowboys after his contract was not renewed by Cincinnati.

PLAYER HISTORY

ALL-TIME ROSTER

To be eligible for the all-time roster, a player must have been in uniform for at least one regular-season or postseason game, or spent a minimum of four games on the roster (including inactive status). A player who qualifies at any point under these guidelines also will be credited for seasons in which he was on a reserve list but did not play or dress for a game. Players who spend time on a reserve list but have never played or dressed for a game do not qualify for the all-time roster. The Practice Squad does not qualify.

PLAYER HISTORY — UNIFORM NUMBERS

This all-time uniform numbers list is organized in chronological order for each number.

Generally, this list credits a player for having ownership of a uniform number for an entire season, even if he was with the team for only part of that season. However, game-by-game breakdowns within seasons are provided if (1) a player changed his uniform number during a season, or (2) more than one player wore the same number in the same season.

Numbers in parentheses behind players' names denote other uniform numbers worn by those players during their careers with the Bengals.

PLAYER HISTORY — TRADES

An asterisk (*) denotes a draft-day trade.

Dec. 26, 1967 — Acquired QB John Stofa from Miami for two undisclosed future draft choices. The draft choices were later determined to be No. 27 overall in the 1968 draft (first round; Dolphins selected OT Doug Crusan) and No. 54 overall in the '68 draft (second round; Dolphins selected TE Jim Cox).

Oakland had the No. 108 overall choice in Round 4 but passed twice, allowing Green Bay to move from No. 109 to 108 and Cincinnati to move from No. 110 to 109. The Bengals' No. 462 pick was the last selection of the 1968 AFL/NFL draft.*

NOTE: On June 5, the NFL held a supplemental draft for college seniors who had been eligible for the league's common draft a month earlier but had already signed a contract with a pro team in either the USFL or the CFL and thus were not selected by an NFL team in that common draft. In the supplemental draft, NFL teams obtained the rights to 84 of those players (76 USFL and eight CFL). The Bengals drafted three of them: QB Wayne Peace (had signed with the Tampa Bay Bandits of the USFL), RB Bill Johnson (Denver Gold, USFL) and LB Tom Kilkenny (Chicago Blitz, USFL). Of those three, only Johnson later joined the Bengals (in 1985), and he went on to make the team's all-time roster (played from '85-87).*

* NOTE: Time of possession became an official statistic in 1977. However, the game clock at Cincinnati's Oct. 23 game vs. Denver failed, thus no time of possession was documented for that contest. Without that information, it is impossible to determine the correct time of possession averages for both Cincinnati and Denver that season. The Bengals' averages listed above include only their remaining 13 games of '77, and thus are considered incomplete and unofficial.

 NOTE: The two-point conversion was not instituted in the NFL until 1994.

 NOTE: It was not standard practice to separate the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — until 1988. Thus, the defensive statistics listed above include the combined totals of all three types. All defensive statistics above are press box statistics produced at the games.

* NOTE: The two-point conversion was not instituted in the NFL until 1994.

 NOTE: It was not standard practice to separate the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — until 1988. Thus, the defensive statistics listed above include the combined totals of all three types. All defensive statistics above are press box statistics produced at the games.

* NOTE: The two-point conversion was not instituted in the NFL until 1994.

 NOTE: It was not standard practice to separate the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — until 1988. Thus, the defensive statistics listed above include the combined totals of all three types. All defensive statistics above are press box statistics produced at the games.

* NOTE: The two-point conversion was not instituted in the NFL until 1994.

 NOTE: It was not standard practice to separate the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — until 1988. Thus, the defensive statistics listed above include the combined totals of all three types. All defensive statistics above are press box statistics produced at the games.

* NOTE: The two-point conversion was not instituted in the NFL until 1994.

 NOTE: It was not standard practice to separate the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — until 1988. Thus, the defensive statistics listed above include the combined totals of all three types. All defensive statistics above are press box statistics produced at the games.

 STATISTICS NOTES:

- TDs noted in the TD-FR column were TDs scored on defense or special teams on recoveries of opponents' fumbles.
- The two-point conversion existed in the AFL when Cincinnati was an AFL team from 1968-69, but it was not instituted in the NFL until 1994. Thus, all Bengals PATs scored from 1970-1993 were worth one point, regardless of whether they were scored by kick, run or pass.

 PLAYER POINT TOTAL NOTES:

- Barney Bussey scored a TD on a blocked punt recovery in the end zone vs. Detroit in 1989 (Bussey was not credited with the blocked punt itself).
- DeDe Dorsey scored a TD on a 19-yard blocked punt recovery return vs. Arizona in 2007 (Dorsey also was credited with the blocked punt itself).
- Tony Dye scored a TD on a 24-yard blocked punt recovery return vs. Cleveland in 2013 (Dye was not credited with the blocked punt itself).
- Bob Maddox scored a TD on a 3-year blocked punt recovery return vs. Kansas City in 1974 (Maddox also was credited with the blocked punt itself).
- Melvin Morgan scored a TD on a 32-yard fumble recovery return at Houston in 1976 after receiving a lateral from Coy Bacon, who recovered the fumble and returned it 48 yards himself (Morgan was not credited with the recovery itself but he received 32 fumble recovery return yards and the score, while Bacon received the recovery and 48 return yards).
- Terence Newman scored a TD on a 58-yard fumble recovery return vs. Green Bay in 2013. On the play, Reggie Nelson recovered a Packers fumble and returned it six yards before fumbling himself, then Newman recovered Nelson's fumble and returned it for the score. Nelson was credited for the opponent's fumble recovery and a six-yard return on the defensive statistics, while Newman did not receive credit defensively for the fumble recovery or the return yardage.
- Scott Perry scored a TD on a 25-yard blocked punt recovery return vs. Kansas City in 1978 (Perry also was credited with the blocked punt itself).
- Willie Shelby scored a TD on a blocked punt recovery in the end zone vs. Houston in 1977 (Shelby was not credited with the blocked punt itself).
- Brian Simmons received a lateral from CB Robert Bean, who recovered a fumble on a Steelers FG attempt, and returned it 56 yards for a TD vs. Pittsburgh in 2001 (Bean had returned the fumble recovery 10 yards before lateralling the ball to Simmons).
- Reggie Williams scored a TD on a blocked punt recovery in the end zone at Pittsburgh in 1977 (Williams was not credited with the blocked punt itself).

ANTHONY MUNOZ

The Bengals' Anthony Munoz, who defined the art of playing offensive tackle in the National Football League, was inducted on Aug. 1, 1998 to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. It was the first year of Hall eligibility for Munoz, whose final NFL season was 1992 with the Bengals. There currently are 310 Hall of Famers, and Munoz is one of only 80 players selected in their first year of eligibility.

Munoz was a consensus All-American at the University of Southern California, and the Bengals claimed him with the third overall pick in the 1980 draft, despite the fact some teams considered him damaged goods due to past knee surgery. The move turned out as the best draft gamble in franchise history, as Munoz went on to play 13 Bengals seasons (1980-92), including 11 seasons ('81-91) in which he was chosen for the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl game. At the time of his retirement (1992), that was the most selections of any player in NFL history. He also earned All-Pro honors (full NFL, not just the AFC) every season from 1981 through '91.

"Anthony's induction was very gratifying to our organization and to all of our fans," said Mike Brown, Bengals president. "It was particularly so because the selectors recognized Anthony as a truly special player and person who deserved election on his first try. During his playing days, no one in the NFL was better. It's justifiable to consider him as the best offensive lineman ever, and he has conducted his personal and family life in a way that is a great credit to the Bengals and the NFL."

Munoz's off-field efforts earned him the NFL's prestigious Man of the Year Award in 1991.

Munoz played for the Bengals in both of their Super Bowl appearances, as a second-year player in Super Bowl XVI at Pontiac, Mich., and as a ninth-year vet in Super Bowl XXIII at Miami.

In 1994, he was one of three offensive tackles named to the NFL's official 75th Anniversary Team. He joined his fellow tackles from that 75th Anniversary Team — Forrest Gregg and Roosevelt Brown — in the Hall of Fame.

Munoz's exceptional agility and athleticism is reflected by his entry line in the Bengals' all-time pass receiving statistics. He caught seven passes, playing as a tackle-eligible, and four of those catches were for touchdowns.

In six of his 13 Bengals seasons, Munoz earned at least one major award as NFL Offensive Lineman of the Year. One award citation, issued by NFL Alumni, reads: "The NFL has three levels of offensive linemen. The bottom rung is for players aspiring to make the Pro Bowl. The next step is for those who have earned all-star status. Then there's Anthony Munoz. He's alone at the top, a sure Hall of Famer."

Though there are other Hall of Fame members with some Hispanic ancestry, Munoz is considered the first player of primarily Hispanic background to enter the Hall. Munoz was born in Ontario, Calif. His parents also are native Californians, and his grandparents were born in Chihuahua, Mexico.

OTHER PLAYER/COACH CONNECTIONS

Munoz is the only player who performed primarily for the Bengals to gain entry to the Hall.

Two other Hall of Fame players, wide receivers Charlie Joiner and Terrell Owens, are former Bengals, but both played the majority of their careers with other teams. Joiner, who was with the Bengals from 1972-75, played the majority of his career with San Diego. He was inducted in 1996. Owens, who was a Bengal in 2010, also was with San Francisco, Philadelphia, Dallas and Buffalo. He will be inducted as a member of the 2018 class.

Paul Brown, founder and first head coach of the Bengals and the Browns, is in the Hall, but he was inducted in 1967, before the Bengals' first season.

Three other Hall of Famers also spent time as Bengals coaches. Bill Walsh, inducted for his success as head coach of the San Francisco 49ers, was a Bengals assistant under Paul Brown from 1968-75. He was inducted in 1993. Forrest Gregg, Bengals head coach from 1980-83, was inducted in '77, based on his playing career as an offensive tackle, primarily with Green Bay. And Dick LeBeau, a Bengals coach for 19 seasons, was inducted in 2010 for his exploits as a cornerback for the Detroit Lions. LeBeau was Bengals head coach for the last 13 games of 2000, as well as '01-02. LeBeau was a Cincinnati assistant coach from 1980-91 and from '97 through the first three games of 2000.

More on Paul Brown: Brown was not only the founder and first coach of both the Bengals and the Browns, but he was one of the great innovators in pro football history.

"Whether they know it or not, nearly everyone in football has been affected by Paul Brown," former NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said in 1991. "His wealth of ideas changed the game."

Elected in 1967 to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Brown also was founder and first coach of the Cleveland Browns, whom he guided to seven league championships in their first 12 seasons. He posted a .665 winning percentage over 25 years of pro coaching (222-112-9, including playoffs). Earlier in his career, he created an Ohio dynasty at Massillon High School and coached Ohio State University to a national championship (1942).

Brown pioneered coaching as a year-round profession, invented the draw play, introduced the use of face masks on helmets, initiated film study and classroom instruction of players, and was the first coach to call plays from the sidelines. He also broke the color barrier in modern American pro sports, as his Cleveland team featured black stars Marion Motley and Bill Willis in 1946, a year before Jackie Robinson's debut in Major League Baseball.

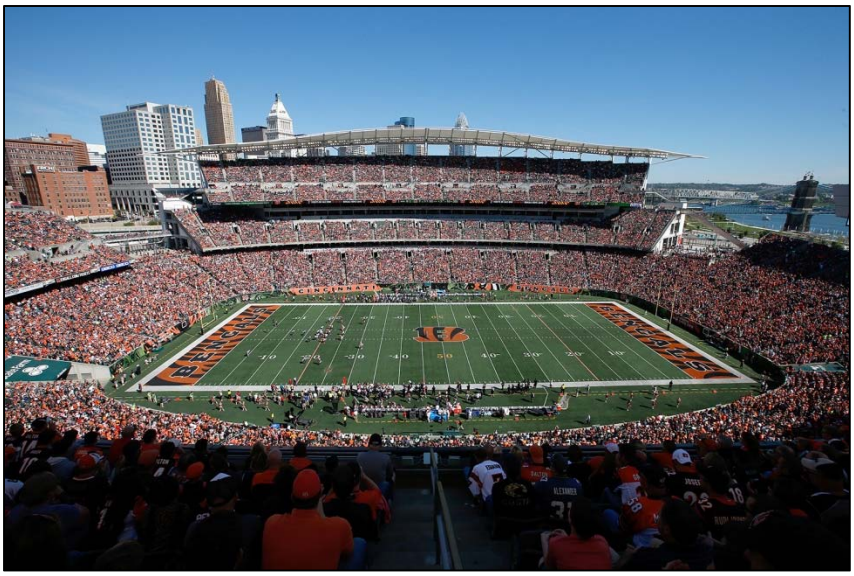
Born in Norwalk, Ohio, and reared in Massillon, Ohio, Brown was Bengals coach and general manager from 1968-75. He stepped down as coach following an 11-3 season in 1975, and continued in the GM's role until his death at age 82 on Aug. 5, 1991.

BENGALS ITEMS IN THE HALL

The Hall of Fame houses many pieces of Bengals history, including:

- Full uniform including jersey, pants, and helmet of OT Anthony Munoz during the last season of his Hall of Fame career.
- Coach Paul Brown's "signature" hat he wore on the sidelines.
- QB Boomer Esiason's jersey from his MVP season in 1988.
- RB Corey Dillon's jersey from Dec. 4, 1997 when he established a rookie single-game rushing record vs. Tennessee.
- Jersey, pants, and shoes worn by Dillon on Oct. 22, 2000 when he set the then-NFL record of 278 rushing yards in Bengals' 31-21 win vs. Denver Broncos.
- The football used on the opening kickoff of the Bengals' inaugural regular-season home game on Sept. 14, 1968. Cincinnati defeated Denver, 24-10.
- Jerseys worn by RB Archie Griffin and CB Ken Riley.
- Back rest of seat from Cinergy Field, formerly Riverfront Stadium.
- Autographed metal bucket from groundbreaking ceremony of Paul Brown Stadium. Signatures include those of Mike Brown, Hamilton County Commissioners Bob Bedinghaus and Tom Neyer, and Cincinnati Mayor Roxanne Qualls.
- Shovel used for the groundbreaking of Paul Brown Stadium, which took place on Cincinnati's riverfront on April 25, 1998.
- Framed water color drawing of WR Isaac Curtis.
- Draft cards. The cards were written on by a team representative and turned into NFL officials to identify each draft pick.

PAUL BROWN STADIUM — 2000-PRESENT



Paul Brown Stadium, home of the Bengals on Cincinnati's downtown riverfront, plays host to its 19th NFL season in 2018. PBS, as it's known for short, opened in 2000. The first game was an Aug. 19 preseason contest vs. Chicago, a 24-20 Bengals win. The first regular-season game was a 24-7 loss to Cleveland on Sept. 10.

Named for the NFL legend who was Bengals founder, chief executive and first head coach, the stadium has won numerous honors and has helped keep Cincinnati in the national sports spotlight. Over the last 14 seasons (2004-17), PBS has hosted 22 nationally televised Bengals games, and another nationally televised game is scheduled for 2018.

From 2003-10 at PBS, the Bengals sold out a franchise-record 57 consecutive home games (regular and postseason).

The stadium features a sleek design and blends seamlessly with the city, open to views of downtown to the north and the Ohio River to the south.

National recognition for PBS has come in various modes. In 2007, PBS was the only football stadium to make a Harris Interactive list of "America's favorite 150 buildings and structures." PBS ranked 101st on a list whose range included all manner of major structures — skyscrapers, museums, churches, hotels, bridges, national memorials and more. No other football stadium was voted among the top 150, and among all sports venues, only two historic baseball parks — Wrigley Field and the old Yankee Stadium — ranked higher than PBS.

In 2002, in an industry rarity, the stadium was singled out by both of the nation's premier architecture magazines, Architectural Record and Architecture. The two stories came on the heels of PBS receiving the 2001 Merit Award from the American Institute of Architects (California Council). It marked the first time an NFL stadium received the award from the prestigious AIA.

The acclaim began well before the stadium's 2000 opening. In May of 1998, studies of PBS' design led to it being among 15 winners from a field of more than 300 projects for an American Architecture Award.

In closer-to-home reaction, the stadium also debuted to rave reviews.

After a tour of PBS in June of 2000, some two months before the first game, Cincinnati Enquirer columnist Paul Daugherty wrote:

"The place is gorgeous. If the Bengals were trying to butter me up by giving me the tour, it worked. Every seat is good."

At roughly the same time, Cincinnati Post columnist Bill Koch wrote:

"The views come at you from every angle. Unlike Cinergy Field (formerly Riverfront Stadium), which cut you off from the city once you were inside, this stadium celebrates its setting.

"From the west side, you gaze into Price Hill, with Union Terminal off in the distance. From the east, you walk through the club lounge, where you can see the river, the Roebling Suspension Bridge and the downtown skyline. You are not in Anytown, USA. You are unmistakably in Cincinnati."

Mike Brown, a son of Paul Brown and the club's chief executive since 1991, puts it this way:

"In the best stadiums, the experience of just walking in wakes you up. It's exciting just to be there. From day one, we made this a goal for our stadium. We want it to be the best setting for pro football in the country, and we think our fans will agree that it is."

Though proud of PBS' much-hailed outer design, the Bengals are prouder still that the stadium has fulfilled a primary goal of serving as a premier venue for watching football. Almost 70 percent of the seats are along the sidelines, positioned for the best possible sight lines to the action.

PBS also serves as a link to the past. In an era when many sports facilities carry corporate names, Cincinnati's stadium bears only the name of Paul Brown.

"We like the fact that our stadium name honors the tradition of the NFL," says Mike Brown. "Many names now don't have anything to do with the game."

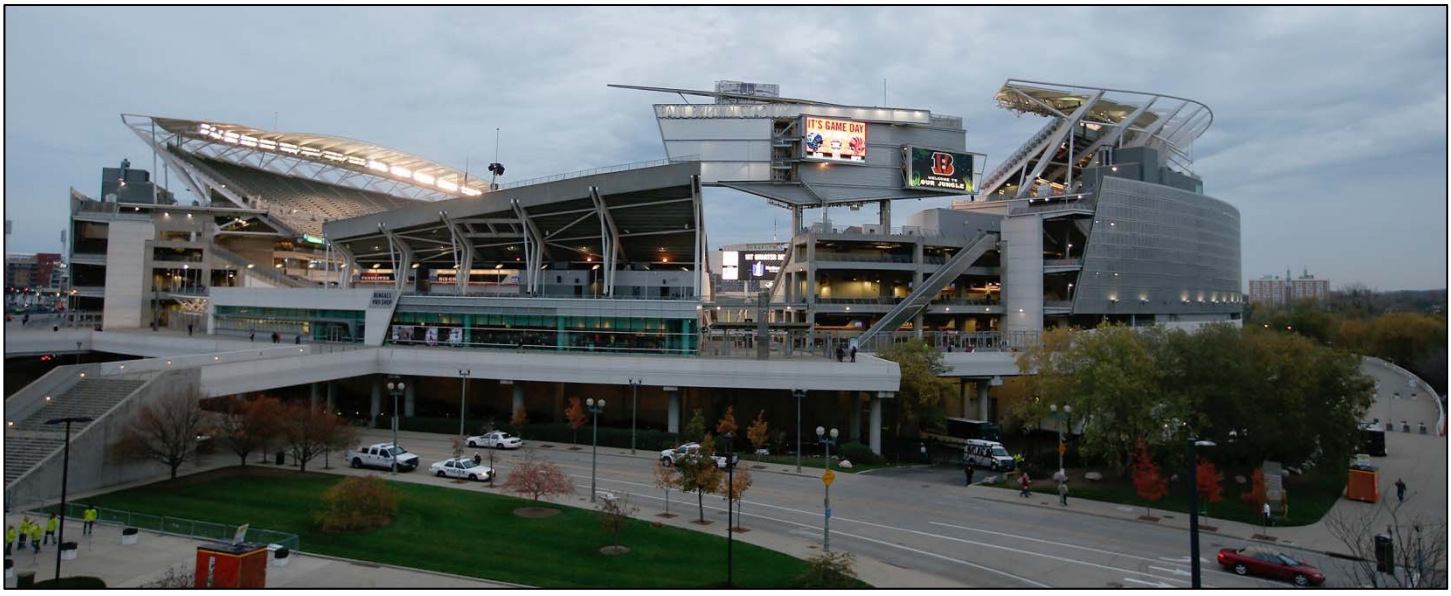
The stadium includes 132 suites and 7600 club seats.

Additional facts and figures on PBS:

SEATING CAPACITY: 65,515.

DIMENSIONS: The stadium site covers approximately 22 acres, and Paul Brown Stadium itself reaches a height of 157 feet.

PLAYING SURFACE: Twenty-Four/Seven synthetic turf system by Shaw Sports Turf (installed by The Motz Group in 2018).



RIVERFRONT STADIUM/CINERGY FIELD — 1970-99

(Was called Riverfront Stadium from 1970-95, and renamed Cinergy Field in '96.)

Like Paul Brown Stadium, Riverfront Stadium was located in downtown Cincinnati on the bank of the Ohio River. Its site was about a quarter-mile east of the PBS site. It was renamed Cinergy Field in 1996.

Housing the Bengals and baseball's Cincinnati Reds, Riverfront/Cinergy was one of a number of circular, dual-sport facilities built in the U.S. in the 1960s and early '70s. Seating capacity for Bengals games was 60,389 in the stadium's full football configuration and 56,759 during shared periods with baseball.

Riverfront hosted the most celebrated victory in Bengals history, the 1981 season AFC Championship game known as the "Freezer Bowl." The Bengals defeated San Diego 27-7 on a day with the lowest wind chill (minus-59 degrees) and second-coldest temperature reading (minus-9) in NFL history. The Bengals won their second AFC title at Riverfront in 1988, defeating Buffalo 21-10.

The longest Bengals sellout streak at Riverfront was 43 games, from the 1988 season opener through the '92 home finale.

The Reds continued playing in Cinergy Field for two seasons (2001-02) after the Bengals departed for PBS, and Cinergy was imploded in December of '02 to make room for new riverfront development.

NIPPERT STADIUM — 1968-69

The Bengals played their first two seasons in Nippert Stadium on the campus of the University of Cincinnati. When the Bengals played at Nippert, its seating capacity was listed as 31,301.

The Nippert Stadium site began hosting UC games in 1902, and it remains the home of the Bearcats today. It is the fourth-oldest playing site still in use in college football. Nippert has been expanded and upgraded many times over the years. Its most recent major renovation took place from 2014 through early '15. The Bearcats played all their 2014 home games at Paul Brown Stadium, but returned to Nippert for the '15 season.

The stadium began in 1902 as Carson Field, named after Arch Carson, who played a significant role in starting football on the UC campus in 1885. In 1901, as physical director of the university, Carson guided the construction of the first field, which was later named for him (to this day, Nippert's playing surface still is called Carson Field). Fans watched from wooden bleachers constructed on the hillside adjacent to the field.

Construction began in 1916 on a permanent brick-and-mortar stadium, and the structure was completed in '24. The new stadium was named after Jimmy Nippert, a UC player who sustained a spike wound injury during the 1923 season finale and died a month later from blood poisoning. His grandfather, James N. Gamble of Procter & Gamble, provided the funds necessary to complete construction, and Nippert Stadium was dedicated the following November.

Cincinnati was home to two other teams in the National Football League prior to the present-day Bengals.

One of the teams, known as the Cincinnati Celts, was a member of the NFL — then known as the American Professional Football Association — in the league's second season in 1921. That team finished with a 1-3-0 record in its only season.

In 1933, the NFL granted the city another franchise, this time called the Cincinnati Reds. They competed in the league for two seasons before folding. The Reds finished with a 3-6-1 record and fourth place in the league's Western Division in 1933. In 1934, they lost their first eight games before suspending operations. The St. Louis Gunners, an independent team, joined the NFL by buying the Cincinnati franchise and went 1-2 the last three weeks of the season.

It was a third team, however — one which was not a member of the NFL — that eventually proved to be the closest link to today's modern-era team.

In 1937, a team called the Cincinnati Bengals was formed as a member of the rival American Football League. It was that team's nickname which was later adopted by today's NFL franchise.

The 1937 Bengals finished with a 2-4-2 record in their first year, but the AFL folded after the season. The Bengals continued as an independent team in 1938, playing three NFL teams that year. They beat the Chicago Bears 17-13, and the Pittsburgh Pirates 38-0, and tied the Chicago Cardinals 7-7.

In 1939, the Bengals joined a new AFL, finishing in second place with a 6-2 record. But again, the league folded after the season.

Once again, in 1940, another new AFL emerged, and again the Bengals joined. They recorded 1-7-0 and 1-5-2 marks in 1940 and '41, respectively. That AFL suffered the fate of the two AFLs before it, folding after the 1941 season as the United States entered World War II. Only this time, the Bengals folded along with it.

Pro football returned to Cincinnati 26 years later in 1967, when Paul Brown headed an ownership group which landed an expansion franchise in the modern-era American Football League. Brown, a Pro Football Hall of Famer who founded and coached the Cleveland Browns from 1946-62, picked the name Bengals for the new team "to give it a link with past professional football in Cincinnati."

Hundreds of names were suggested by fans in an effort to name the new Cincinnati team, the most popular being Buckeyes. It was rejected to avoid confusion with the Ohio State Buckeyes.

The Bengals began play in the AFL in 1968. The AFL merged with the NFL in 1970.

- FIRST PLAYER: QB John Stofa, who was acquired in December, 1967, from the Miami Dolphins in a trade for two draft choices. Stofa played for the Bengals in 1968 and '69.
- FIRST DRAFT CHOICE: Center Bob Johnson, from the University of Tennessee, was the Bengals' No. 1 draft choice in their 1968 inaugural season.
- FIRST GAME: Aug. 3, 1968 — a preseason home game against the Kansas City Chiefs at Nippert Stadium. The Chiefs won 38-14 in front of 21,682.
- FIRST REGULAR-SEASON GAME: On Friday night, Sept. 6, 1968, in San Diego, the Bengals began play in the American Football League. They lost to the Chargers, 29-13.
- FIRST BENGALS REGULAR-SEASON SCORING PLAY: On the Bengals' first possession of their first regular-season game — Sept. 6, 1968 at San Diego — RB Paul Robinson scored a touchdown on a 2-yard run. Dale Livingston kicked the extra point for a 7-0 Cincinnati lead. The Chargers came back to win, 29-13.
- FIRST REGULAR-SEASON VICTORY: On Sunday, Sept. 15, 1968, the Bengals won their home opener, defeating the Denver Broncos, 24-10. A crowd of 25,049 watched at Nippert Stadium.
- FIRST PLAYOFF GAME: On Saturday, Dec. 26, 1970, the Bengals lost to the Baltimore Colts, 17-0, at Memorial Stadium in Baltimore in an AFC Divisional Playoff. The Bengals reached the playoffs in just the franchise's third season by winning the AFC Central Division with an 8-6 regular-season record.
- FIRST PLAYOFF VICTORY: On Jan. 3, 1982, the Bengals beat the Buffalo Bills, 28-21, at Riverfront Stadium in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game. A week later, the Bengals won the AFC title to earn a trip to Super Bowl XVI.

In the beginning: The Bengals' inaugural season was 1968, when they played in the American Football League (which merged with the NFL in '70).

That first Bengals team had a seven-person coaching staff (in contrast to the 20-person staff heading into the 2018 season). Head coach Paul Brown was joined by Bill Johnson (offensive line coach), Rick Forzano (offensive backfield), Jack Donaldson (defensive line), Tom Bass (defensive backfield), Bill Walsh (offensive ends) and Frank Smouse (linebackers).

Munoz made Pro Bowl history: Former Bengals OT Anthony Munoz was selected to play in 11 AFC-NFC Pro Bowl games, the most by any Cincinnati player by a margin of four. WR A.J. Green is second with 11, while WR Chad Johnson and CB Lemar Parrish are tied for third with six each.

At the time of his retirement after the 1992 season, Munoz's total of 11 was the most selections of any player in NFL history. To this day, Munoz still is tied for 12th in most Pro Bowl selections all time. The leaders are former Indianapolis/Denver QB Peyton Manning, Houston Oilers/Tennessee OL Bruce Matthews and Kansas City/Atlanta TE Tony Gonzalez, each with 14.

Hold that line: Over Games 5-12 of the 2009 season, the Bengals set a franchise record by holding eight straight opponents under the 100-yard mark in rushing. Prior to 2009, the franchise record for consecutive games in this category was six, and that spanned two seasons (1981-82). The previous record for one season was five straight games, set in 1983.

Sellout streaks: The Bengals sold out 57 consecutive home games (regular and postseason) from Nov. 16, 2003 through Nov. 8, 2010. That Paul Brown Stadium run stands as the longest in club history, topping a 43-game streak accomplished at Riverfront Stadium between 1988 and '92.

Bengals boast winning mark in overtime: The Bengals are 17-15-3 in regular-season overtime games, for a winning percentage of .529.

Overtime was put in place for regular-season games in 1974. The Bengals have not played an overtime game in postseason.

In 2013, Cincinnati played three overtime games in the same season, the only such instance in franchise history. In their other 48 seasons (1968-2012 and '14-16), the Bengals played in two overtime games in any one season just six times ('90, '92, '95, '01, '08 and '15).

The longest victory: The Bengals' 23-20 win at Cleveland Oct. 4, 2009 was the longest game the Bengals ever won. Four seconds remained in overtime when K Shayne Graham booted a 31-yard FG to break a 20-all tie.

The previous longest Bengals win was 34-31 in a road game against the Los Angeles Rams on Oct. 7, 1990. Jim Breech's 44-yard field goal ended that game with 3:04 remaining in overtime. The longest Bengals loss came on Sept. 23, 1979 against the Houston Oilers at Riverfront Stadium. The Oilers won 30-27 on a 29-yard Toni Fritsch field goal with 0:32 left in the extra period.

There are only three 75-minute games in Bengals history — a 13-13 tie with Philadelphia on Nov. 16, 2008, a 37-37 tie with Carolina on Oct. 12, 2014, and a 27-27 tie with Washington on Oct. 30, 2016. The only other tie in team history — a 31-31 deadlock in 1969 at Houston — took place before overtime was instituted in the regular season.

Passing fancy: Boomer Esiason passed for more than 300 yards in a game a team-record 23 times during his Bengals career (1984-92, 1997).

Current Bengal Andy Dalton (2011-present) ranks second in 300-yard passing games with 22, followed by Ken Anderson (1971-86) with 19.

Bengals double-digit club: Entering 2018, 28 players shared the distinction of having played 10 or more campaigns for the Bengals:

The name game: The most common last name among players on the Bengals' all-time roster is Johnson. Twenty-six players named Johnson are on the all-time roster, including Chad Johnson, who changed his last name to Ochocinco in 2008 (then back to Johnson in '11, after his Bengals career).

Smith is second with 18, and Williams is third with 15 (not including Nick Luchey, who changed his name from Williams in 2002).

The Bengals' all-time roster has more last names start with the letter B than any other letter — a total of 103. The letter S is second with 93 names.

The only letter without a player on the team's all-time roster is X.

Fond farewell: The Bengals played their final game at Cinergy Field (previously known as Riverfront Stadium) on Dec. 12, 1999, and they made the finale a memorable one.

Before a sellout crowd of 59,972, the Bengals defeated Cleveland, 44-28, as the Cincinnati defense set a team record by allowing only 11 net rushing yards (11 carries). The Browns' longest rush of the day was three yards. The previous low by a Bengals opponent had been 22 yards by Houston on Dec. 23, 1990.

Offensively, that game saw the Bengals roll for 279 rushing yards (on 53 carries) — the second-most rushing yards in team history at the time and most ever in a home game (now fourth-best in history and third-highest at home).

10 wins, no playoffs: The best Bengals team to miss out on postseason play was coach Bill Johnson's 1976 club, which went 10-4 but lost a tiebreaker to Pittsburgh for the AFC Central Division title.

Only one Wild Card team made the playoffs from each conference at that time, and it went to 11-3 New England, which lost an AFC East tiebreaker.

One other Bengals team — the 1986 club — won 10 games (10-6) and failed to make the playoffs.

100 x 3 = team first: The Bengals' 27-10 win over Oakland on Dec. 10, 2006 at Paul Brown Stadium was the team's only game ever with a 100-yard rusher (Rudi Johnson, 117 yards) and two 100-yard receivers (T.J. Houshmandzadeh, 118; Chad Johnson, 101).

Coldest NFL games on record:

- Minus-13 degrees (-48 degrees wind chill) — Dec. 31, 1967, Lambeau Field, Green Bay, Wis., NFL Championship — Green Bay 21, Dallas 17
- Minus-9 degrees (-59 degrees wind chill) — Jan. 10, 1982, Riverfront Stadium, Cincinnati, Ohio, AFC Championship — Cincinnati 27, San Diego 7
- Minus-6 degrees (-25 degree wind chill) — Jan. 10, 2016, TCF Bank Stadium, Minneapolis, Minn., NFC Wild Card — Seattle 10, Minnesota 9.

Talent isn't everything: The 1989 Bengals were a talented team, but never could put it all together on a weekly basis. They outscored opponents 404-285, but finished only 8-8.

Not since the 1950 Philadelphia Eagles had a break-even team outscored its foes by such a large point margin (7.4) per game.

All-time biggest crowds: Here are the Bengals' 10 largest home crowds in franchise history:

	ATTENDANCE	DATE	OPPONENT	RESULT
1.	66,188	10-28-07	Pittsburgh	L, 13-24
2.	66,113	10-1-07	New England	L, 13-34

10.	65,995	11-20-05	Indianapolis	L, 37-45

Long distance leaders: Former Bengals Chris Bahr and Doug Pelfrey are the only kickers in team history to convert two field goals of 50 or more yards in the same game.

Bahr booted field goals of 55 and 52 yards vs. Houston on September 23, 1979. Pelfrey connected on attempts from 53 and 50 yards at Houston on October 24, 1993.

A rare runner: The only Bengals quarterback ever to rush for 100 yards in a game was Virgil Carter, who gained 110 on nine carries against Cleveland on Nov. 15, 1970.

The game was the first Bengals-Browns match in Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field), and marked Cincinnati's first victory (14-10) over its Ohio rival.

KEY

Also led/tied NFL	* Tied for lead
^ Also a Bengals record	 American Football League

Get the point? Only three times in the Bengals' 49 seasons has a non-kicker led the team in scoring.

In 1979, FB Pete Johnson was the team's leading scorer with 90 points (15 TDs). FB Ickey Woods led the 1988 Bengals with 90 points (15 TDs). And in 2001, HB Corey Dillon scored a team-high 78 points (13 TDs).

A special explosion: The Bengals' record for most points scored in a game by special teams units is 31, in a 43-14 win at Buffalo on Nov. 8, 1970.

CB Lemar Parrish scored two special teams TDs, one on a 95-yard kickoff return and another on an 83-yard return of a blocked field goal attempt. K Horst Muhlmann added 15 points on five field goals, and four PATs by Muhlmann completed the special teams onslaught.

The offense scored only one TD, on a one-yard run by RB Jess Phillips. The defense scored a TD on an eight-yard fumble return by DE Royce Berry.

Perfection at home: The Bengals have gone undefeated (and untied) at home during the regular season four times in team history:

- 8-0 in the Super Bowl season of 1988
- 8-0 in the 2013 playoff season
- 7-0 in the 1973 playoff season
- 4-0 in the strike-shortened 1982 playoff campaign

Bengals QB MVPS: Two Bengals, both quarterbacks from the club's Super Bowl teams, have been named by nationwide panels of media as winners of the Associated Press NFL Most Valuable Player Award.

Ken Anderson was the winner in 1981, leading the NFL with a 98.4 passer rating. He completed 300 of 479 passes (62.6 percent) for 3754 yards, with a then-club record 29 TD passes against 10 INTs.

Boomer Esiason was the 1988 winner, leading the league with a 97.4 rating and tying for the AFC lead in TDs with 28. He completed 223 of 388 passes (57.5 percent) for 3572 yards, with 14 INTs.

Both QBs led their teams to 12-4 records in the regular season.

Worst to first: Four times in their history, the Bengals have finished first in their division after finishing in last place the season before. The Bengals followed a cellar season with a division title in 1970, '81, '88 and '90.

Record crowd: The official attendance figure of 91,653 for Cincinnati's 28-14 loss at Dallas on Oct. 9, 2016 at AT&T Stadium was the largest ever for a Bengals regular-season game.

The previous record was 87,786 at Cincinnati's 17-10 win on Nov. 14, 2004 at FedExField in Washington.

The record for all Bengals games remains 92,045, recorded at the Los Angeles Coliseum for the 1990 season Divisional Playoff game against the L.A. Raiders on Jan. 13, 1991.

Double whammy: Twice in Bengals history, two Cincinnati players have broken the 100-yard rushing mark in the same game.

On Oct. 29, 1972, in a 30-7 win vs. Houston, RB Doug Dressler gained 110 yards and HB Essex Johnson ran for 103 yards. On Dec. 7, 1986, in a 31-7 victory at New England, HB James Brooks rushed for 163 yards and FB Stanley Wilson gained 120 yards.

The longest shots: The latest-drafted player ever to make a Bengals roster for a regular-season game was K-P Dave Green of Ohio University.

Green was the 418th selection in the 1972 draft, taken in the 17th round. He didn't make the roster in 1972, and had a brief stint (no games played) with Houston in '73 before being re-acquired by Cincinnati. Green played for the Bengals from 1974-75, scoring 70 points and averaging 40.1 yards on 134 punts. He was acquired by Tampa Bay in 1976, and stayed in the NFL through '79.

The latest-drafted player ever to make the Bengals roster in the same season of his selection was LB Larry Ely of Iowa. Ely was the 397th selection in 1970, a 16th-round pick. He played for Cincinnati in 1970 and '71.

High-scoring affairs: The two highest-scoring games (combined point totals of both teams) in Bengals history have both come against the Cleveland Browns. Here are the five highest-scoring games in franchise history:

	TOTAL POINTS	DATE AND OPPONENT	RESULT
1.	106	Nov. 28, 2004 vs. Cleveland	W, 58-48
2.	96	Sept. 16, 2007 at Cleveland	L, 45-51
3.	90	Nov. 12, 2006 vs. San Diego	L, 41-49
4.	86	Nov. 30, 1997 at Philadelphia	L, 42-44
5.	85	Sept. 22, 1985 vs. San Diego	L, 41-44

Riley reigns supreme: In the Bengals record book, the most dominant lead in a major career category belongs to CB Ken Riley. His 65 interceptions nearly double the total (33) of second-place CB Louis Breeden.

Bengals tap the Buckeye pipeline: Ohio State is the top supplier of college talent to the Bengals, with 28 former Buckeyes having qualified for the team's official all-time roster.

Notable former Buckeye Bengals include Pro Bowl FB Pete Johnson (1977-83), the No. 4 rusher in Bengals history, as well as RB Archie Griffin ('76-83), CB Ray Griffin ('78-84), OT Rufus Mayes ('70-78) and DT Dan Wilkinson ('94-97).

Three schools — Florida, Michigan and West Virginia — are tied for second with 18 Bengals alumni each.

Parrish hits paydirt: The only Bengals player ever to score two touchdowns in a game on returns and/or recoveries is Lemar Parrish — and he did it three times.

Parrish, a Bengals cornerback and kick returner from 1970-77, scored two TDs on Nov. 8, 1970 at Buffalo (95-yard kickoff return and 83-yard return of a blocked FG attempt); on Dec. 17, 1972 at Houston (25-yard interception return and 33-yard interception return); and on Oct. 6, 1974 vs. Washington (90-yard punt return and 47-yard fumble return).

Go long ... real long: The Bengals record book records two pass plays of 90 or more yards:

- QB Ken Anderson hooked up with WR Billy Brooks for a team-record 94-yarder for a touchdown Nov. 13, 1977 at Minnesota.
- QB Virgil Carter connected with WR Speedy Thomas for a 90-yard TD strike on Sept. 19, 1971 vs. Philadelphia at Riverfront Stadium.

This record holds the record: The oldest season record in Bengals history — and the only one still standing from the Nippert Stadium years — is QB Greg Cook's average of 9.41 yards gained per passing attempt in 1969.

Dunlap's PD frenzy: In the first 40 seasons in which Bengals defensive statistics were recorded (1976-2015), no defensive lineman ever led the team in passes defensed for a season. Really, none were even close. But it happened in 2016, and it wasn't close.

DE Carlos Dunlap had five more PDs — 15 — than anyone else on the team in '16. And he had seven more PDs than any other NFL defensive lineman that year. The players ahead of Dunlap in the NFL were all cornerbacks, and the next-highest total by an NFL defensive lineman was eight. The next-highest total by a Bengals player in 2016 was 10, by CB Dre Kirkpatrick.

"Passes defensed" include interceptions as well as passes broken up. When a player makes an INT, he also is credited with a PD. What makes this stat even more noteworthy is the fact that Dunlap had no INTs in '16. And in the category of PDs without counting INTs, only four NFL players — all CBs — were ahead of Dunlap.

1000-yard duos ... and a trio: Fourteen times in the Bengals' 49 years (1968-2016), the team has had both a 1000-yard rusher and a 1000-yard receiver in the same season.

In 2006, the Bengals had a 1000-yard rusher and two 1000-yard receivers.

No TDs; no problem: Five times in their history, the Bengals have won without scoring a touchdown:

- On Sept. 24, 1972, K Horst Muhlmann's five FGs (41, 32, 20, 32, 34) fueled a 15-10 victory over Pittsburgh at Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field).
- On Oct. 21, 1984, K Jim Breech kicked four FGs (24, 23, 25, 33) for all the Bengals' points in a 12-9 victory over Cleveland at Riverfront.
- On Nov. 6, 1994, K Doug Pelfrey booted six FGs (36, 44, 36, 47, 28, 26) and LB-DE Alfred Williams scored on a safety as the Bengals posted a 20-17 overtime victory at Seattle.
- On Nov. 11, 2007, K Shayne Graham kicked a team-record seven FGs (34, 19, 22, 35, 35, 21, 33) for all of Cincinnati's points in a 21-7 win at Baltimore.
- On Sept. 19, 2010, K Mike Nugent kicked five FGs (36, 30, 46, 38, 25) for all the Bengals' points in a 15-10 win over Baltimore at Paul Brown Stadium.

Doubling up: Twice in Bengals history, a Cincinnati player has managed 100-plus yards both rushing and receiving on the same day.

HB Essex Johnson was the first, rushing for 121 yards on 21 carries and getting 116 yards on two receptions on Sept. 30, 1973 at San Diego. He stood alone in the category until Dec. 7, 1986, when HB James Brooks burned the Patriots at New England for 163 yards on 18 rushes and 101 yards on six receptions. Cincinnati won both games.

Bengals opponents have managed double 100-yard performances twice, and Cincinnati lost both of those games.

On Nov. 23, 1975, Cleveland HB Greg Pruitt had 121 yards on 17 rushes and 106 yards on seven receptions in a 35-23 Browns win at Cleveland Stadium. On Sept. 22, 1985, San Diego RB Lionel James became the one player to record dual 100s at Riverfront Stadium (later renamed Cinergy Field) in the Chargers' 44-41 win. James had 127 yards on 12 rushes and 118 yards on five catches.

Kirkpatrick's 2017 INT a historical oddity: In the first quarter of the Bengals' win at Denver on Nov. 19, 2017, with the Broncos facing a third-and-three at the Cincinnati four-yard line, CB Dre Kirkpatrick picked off a pass from QB Brock Osweiler in the end zone and sprinted down the field toward what would've been his third career pick-six.

However, with about 15 yards to go before reaching the end zone, Kirkpatrick fumbled the ball without any disruption by a Bronco. He did manage to recover his own fumble at the Denver one-yard line, but before the Bengals punched it into the end zone three plays later on a TD pass, the blooper had already spread around the internet like wildfire.

Kirkpatrick's 101-yard return, which he shared a laugh about after the game, now stands as the longest INT return in NFL history to not result in a TD. The next-longest INT without at TD was 98 yards, by Cleveland CB Brandon McDonald on Dec. 15, 2008, in a game at Philadelphia.

CBS-TV reported shortly after the play that a visibly fatigued Kirkpatrick became sick upon returning to the sideline, a victim of exhaustion and the Denver altitude (he did not miss any game time).

After the game, Kirkpatrick was the target of good-natured ribbing by teammates and fans. And he was not above a little self-deprecation. As the team boarded its flight back to Cincinnati, Kirkpatrick posted a photo to one of his social media accounts of a gift someone had left on his seat — an oxygen tank, with a note attached that read, "Who Dey. Great game."

P.B. and the hall of fame: Paul Brown, founder of the Cincinnati Bengals, was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1967, and numerous other Hall of Fame members played and/or coached under Brown.

The most recent addition to P.B.'s disciples in the Hall of Fame was former Bengals assistant coach and head coach Dick LeBeau, a 2010 inductee. LeBeau's assistant coaching tenure with the Bengals began in '80, when Brown was the team's general manager. He was an assistant coach (defensive backfield and defensive coordinator) with the Bengals from 1980-91 and '97-2000 (three games in '00), and he was the team's head coach from the fourth game of '00 through '02. LeBeau, who also spent many seasons as an assistant coach with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is widely considered to be one of the best defensive coaches in league history. And though he did not play under Brown, LeBeau recorded 62 career interceptions, which ranked third all-time at the time of his retirement as a player.

Other former assistant coaches under Paul Brown who are in the Hall of Fame are Weeb Ewbank and Bill Walsh. Also in the Hall of Fame is Forrest Gregg, hired by Brown as Bengals head coach in 1980.

The most recent player disciple of Brown's to be inducted was tackle Anthony Munoz, considered by many to be the greatest offensive lineman in NFL history. Munoz, a 1998 inductee, played his entire 13-year pro career ('80-92) with the Bengals. Some analysts thought he was too risky a prospect for an early first-round draft selection because he had experienced knee injuries in college. But Brown, as Bengals general manager in 1980, selected Munoz with the No. 3 overall pick.

The 1997 Hall of Fame class included Don Shula, winningest coach in NFL history, who played defensive back in the NFL and was a rookie on Brown's defending NFL champion Cleveland Browns in '51.

WR Charlie Joiner, who played for the Bengals under Brown from 1972-75, was elected to the Hall of Fame in the '96 class of inductees. Also, 15 other players Brown coached for the Cleveland Browns are in the Hall of Fame. These players, and the years Brown coached them in Cleveland, are: DE Doug Atkins (1953-54), FB Jim Brown ('57-62), DE Willie Davis ('58-59), QB Len Dawson ('60-61), WR Len Ford ('50-57), C Frank Gatski ('46-56), QB Otto Graham ('46-55), T/PK Lou Groza ('46-59 and '61-62), G Gene Hickerson ('58-60 and '62), DT Henry Jordan ('57-58), WR Dante Lavelli ('46-56), T Mike McCormack ('54-62), RB/WR Bobby Mitchell ('58-61), FB/LB Marion Motley ('46-53) and G Bill Willis ('46-53).

* NOTE: It is not possible to accurately list all-time postseason possession averages because time of possession was not recorded until 1977. Postseason possession averages after 1977 are listed in the year-by-year breakdowns on the following pages.

 NOTE: The Bengals' and their opponents' two-point conversion totals listed here were recorded in 2005 and thereafter. Prior to that season, all of the Bengals' playoff appearances had occurred in years in which the two-point conversion did not exist. The two-point conversion, which existed in the AFL when the Bengals were members in 1968 and '69, was not instituted in the NFL until '94.

 NOTE: It is not possible to accurately list all-time postseason defensive statistics because the three types of defensive statistics — defense, special teams and miscellaneous — were combined through 1987, but separated in '88 and thereafter. Defensive statistics are, however, listed in each of the year-by-year breakdowns on the following pages. All defensive statistics on the following pages are press box statistics produced at the games.

1970 SEASON

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Baltimore Colts 17, Cincinnati Bengals 0

Saturday, Dec. 26, 1970 at Memorial Stadium

In their first season in the NFL after two in the American Football League, the Bengals made a furious run to reach the playoffs, winning their last seven games after a 1-6 start and claiming the first AFC Central Division title. But the powerful Colts, who would go on to defeat Dallas in Super Bowl V, were too much for Cincinnati. Legendary Baltimore QB Johnny Unitas threw TD passes to WRs Roy Jefferson and Ed Hinton in the first and fourth quarters, and the Baltimore defense came through on a cold, windy day, limiting Cincinnati to 63 yards rushing and 76 passing. Colts rookie RB Norm Bulaich rushed for 116 yards on 25 carries. Jim O'Brien, the Colts kicker from the University of Cincinnati, kicked a 44-yard FG. O'Brien would wind up making the game-winning FG as time expired in Super Bowl V. Cincinnati's lone scoring attempt, a 50-yard FG try by K Horst Muhlmann, was blocked by LB Ray May.

1973 SEASON

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Miami Dolphins 34, Cincinnati Bengals 16

Sunday, Dec. 23, 1973 at the Orange Bowl

As was the case in their first postseason appearance three years earlier, the Bengals lost in the opening playoff round to the team that would go on to win the Super Bowl. The Bengals had tied Pittsburgh at 10-4 atop the AFC Central Division and won the title by virtue of a better AFC record. Miami took the first step toward a Super Bowl VIII win over Minnesota by outgaining Cincinnati 400-194 in net yards and posting 27 first downs to Cincinnati's 11. Cincinnati trailed only 21-16 at halftime after being down 21-3 midway through the second quarter, but the Dolphins shut out Cincinnati in the second half while getting a seven-yard TD pass from QB Bob Griese to TE Jim Mandich and a pair of FGs from K Garo Yepremian. Miami RB Mercury Morris rushed for 106 yards on 20 carries and FB Larry Csonka had 71 yards on 20 carries. The Bengals did not score an offensive TD, getting their only TD on a 45-yard INT return by S Neal Craig. Horst Muhlmann kicked three FGs for Cincinnati.

1975 SEASON

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Oakland Raiders 31, Cincinnati Bengals 28

Sunday, Dec. 28, 1975 at Oakland Coliseum

The 1975 Bengals posted the best regular-season winning percentage in franchise history (.786), and they led the NFL in passing yards. But their 11-3 record earned them only a Wild Card spot behind 12-2 Pittsburgh in the AFC Central Division, and they drew a road game at 12-2 Oakland in the first playoff round. QB Ken Stabler, who went on to lead the Raiders to the AFC Championship game for the third straight year, passed for three TDs against Cincinnati. The Bengals closed a 31-14 fourth-quarter deficit to 31-28 with QB Ken Anderson's TD passes of 25 and 14 yards to WRs Charlie Joiner and Isaac Curtis, and Cincinnati had a chance to win after DT Ron Carpenter recovered a Raiders fumble on the Oakland 38 with 4:19 left. But a sack by future Hall-of-Fame LB Ted Hendricks helped the Raiders hold the Bengals without a first down, and after failing on a fourth-down try, the Bengals never regained possession. Stabler completed 17 of 23 attempts for 199 yards, three TDs and just one INT, while the Raiders totaled for 173 yards rushing. Anderson completed 17 of 27 passes for 201 yards, two TDs and no INTs, but was sacked five times.

1981 SEASON

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Cincinnati Bengals 28, Buffalo Bills 21

Sunday, Jan. 3, 1982 at Riverfront Stadium

It took four tries, but the AFC Central Division Champion Bengals finally won a playoff game — their first-ever postseason home contest — when they held off a rallying Bills Wild Card team, taking the first step toward Super Bowl XVI. Cincinnati, which failed to produce a postseason win in its first three playoff appearances — in 1970, '73 and '75 — lost leads of 14-0 and 21-14 before eventually winning with what was a solid performance by the entire team. The offense didn't yield a turnover while the defense intercepted two Buffalo passes, and the special teams played soundly the entire game. QB Ken Anderson, who was the NFL's top-rated quarterback and its consensus MVP in the regular season, connected on a 16-yard TD pass to rookie WR Cris Collinsworth with 10:39 remaining in the fourth quarter to break a tie and take a 28-21 lead. The Bills were again poised to tie the game and set up an overtime period after driving 50 yards to the Bengals' 20 with just over three minutes left. But a costly delay-of-game penalty on fourth down led to giving the ball back to Cincinnati, and Buffalo was unable to mount another serious threat. Anderson completed 14 of 21 passes for 192 yards and directed a 305-yard attack, and TE Dan Ross recorded a game-high six receptions for 71 yards. The Bills held Bengals FB Pete Johnson, who had a career-high 1077 rushing yards in the regular season, to just 45 yards on 17 carries. But HB Charles Alexander — Johnson's blocker for the majority of the regular season — responded for Cincinnati with a season-high 72 yards, with two TD runs.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP

"The Freezer Bowl"
Cincinnati Bengals 27, San Diego Chargers 7
Sunday, Jan. 10, 1982 at Riverfront Stadium

This game not only brought the Bengals their first AFC Championship and a berth in Super Bowl XVI, it was played in conditions that made the 46,302 fans on hand feel like champions themselves. With a frigid temperature of minus-9 degrees, winds gusting from 20 to 35 miles per hour and an incredible wind-chill factor of minus-59, this famous game became known as the "Freezer Bowl." To this day, no NFL game has been played with a wind chill so cold. More than 13,000 ticket holders stayed home, but those who came saw the Bengals dominate their opponents from sunny San Diego. The Bengals first attacked them mentally, as every Cincinnati offensive and defensive lineman — along with FB Pete Johnson — took the psychological initiative to tough the cold and play in short sleeves. The teams were relatively even in yards gained with Cincinnati leading 318-301, but the Bengals won the turnover battle 4-0 with two INTs and two FRs. Chargers QB Dan Fouts struggled more in the arctic atmosphere than Bengals QB Ken Anderson, who completed 14 of 22 passes for 161 yards, two TDs and no INTs. Only one player suffered a weather-related injury in the game — Bengals DE Eddie Edwards with a frostbitten right ear.

SUPER BOWL XVI

San Francisco 49ers 26, Cincinnati Bengals 21
Sunday, Jan. 24, 1982 at Pontiac Silverdome (Pontiac, Mich.)

Cincinnati outgained San Francisco by 81 yards (356-275), marking the first time in Super Bowl history the losing team led in scrimmage yardage. Bengals QB Ken Anderson set Super Bowl records (since surpassed) for completions (25) and completion percentage (73.5), and his 300 passing yards nearly doubled the 157 by 49ers QB Joe Montana, the game's MVP. But Cincinnati suffered four turnovers to San Francisco's one, and three of those giveaways led to 17 first-half points for the 49ers, who led 20-0 at intermission. Leading 20-7, San Francisco staged a memorable goal-line stand late in the third quarter, stopping Cincinnati for no gain on three straight plays from the one-yard line. The Bengals still closed the gap to 20-14 with a four-yard TD pass from Anderson to TE Dan Ross with 10:06 left, but the 49ers added FGs of 40 and 23 yards by K Ray Wersching to pull away. Cincinnati crept to within 26-21 with 16 seconds left on a second Anderson-to-Ross TD pass, but San Francisco recovered the Bengals' ensuing onside kick to seal the victory. Wersching's four FGs tied a Super Bowl record (still tied) and Ross' 11 receptions set a Super Bowl record (since broken).

AFC FIRST-ROUND PLAYOFF

N.Y. Jets 44, Cincinnati Bengals 17

Sunday, Jan. 9, 1983 at Riverfront Stadium

The defending AFC Champion Bengals lost an early 14-3 lead and were dismantled by the underdog Jets. The 7-2 Bengals were the AFC's No. 3 seed in 16-team "Super Bowl Tournament," organized for the strike-shortened regular season. RB Freeman McNeil led No. 6 seed New York, rushing for 202 yards and a TD against Cincinnati's No. 3-ranked rush defense. Cincinnati trailed only 23-17 after three periods, but suffered a particularly demoralizing fourth quarter, which included two INTs (one for a TD), a TD pass nullified by a false start penalty, a missed FG, a lost fumble and two rushing TDs allowed.

1988 SEASON

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Cincinnati Bengals 21, Seattle Seahawks 13

Saturday, Dec. 31, 1988 at Riverfront Stadium

Unbeaten at home in eight regular-season games, the AFC Central Division Champion Bengals ran their Riverfront Stadium mark to 9-0 by rushing for a season-high 254 yards. They scored all three of their TDs in the first half and withstood a 13-point Seattle fourth quarter. The Seahawks pulled to within 21-13 on QB Dave Krieg's one-yard sneak with 6:05 to play, but K Norm Johnson's missed PAT left the visitors still two scores short, as the two-point conversion would not be added to NFL rules until 1994. The victory earned the Bengals their first trip to the AFC Championship game since the 1981 season. Bengals rookie FB Ickey Woods rushed for 126 yards on 23 carries, and his one-yard TD run midway through the second quarter gave Cincinnati a 21-0 halftime lead. A pair of three-yard TD runs in the first and second quarters by FB Stanley Wilson opened the Bengals' scoring. Wilson added 45 rushing yards on seven attempts, while HB James Brooks rushed for 72 yards on 13 attempts. Cincinnati's defense held Seattle to just 22 yards rushing the entire game and only 49 total net yards in the first half. The Bengals stayed on the ground to win, getting only seven completions from QB Boomer Esiason, the NFL's top-rated quarterback and its consensus MVP in the regular season, and only one reception from WR Eddie Brown, who led the AFC in the regular season with 1273 receiving yards.

1988 SEASON

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP

Cincinnati Bengals 21, Buffalo Bills 10

Sunday, Jan. 8, 1989 at Riverfront Stadium

The week before the AFC Championship game was filled with controversy, as Bills head coach Marv Levy convinced the NFL office that Bengals head coach Sam Wyche's no-huddle offense was illegal. Cincinnati had developed and employed the no-huddle attack all season, but shortly before kickoff, the league informed the team that game officials would severely restrict its use. Wyche eventually would prevail in this rule book battle. Nevertheless, his offense, forced to abandon its no-huddle tactics for this contest, returned to basics and led the charge in beating Buffalo for a berth in Super Bowl XXIII. It was Cincinnati's third victory of the year over Buffalo, the Bengals having also downed the Bills in the preseason and regular season. Cincinnati won with a punishing rushing game, running the ball on 50 of 73 offensive plays and gaining 175 of its 249 total yards on the ground. Cincinnati's defense recorded a solid performance, holding the Bills to 181 total yards, including just 53 in the second half. Cincinnati made eight of 16 combined third-down and fourth-down conversions while allowing the Bills a debilitating none of 11. Bengals rookie FB Ickey Woods had his second 100-yard rushing game of the postseason, gaining 102 on 29 carries. The Bengals advanced to the Super Bowl from what was, at the time, the worst previous-season finish (4-11) of any Super Bowl qualifier. Even to the present time, only the 1999 St. Louis Rams (4-12 in '98) have gone farther.

SUPER BOWL XXIII

San Francisco 49ers 20, Cincinnati Bengals 16

Sunday, Jan. 22, 1989 at Joe Robbie Stadium (Miami, Fla.)

NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle termed it the most exciting of the first 23 games in Super Bowl history, and the result regained some respect for the AFC, which had lost the last four contests by an average of more than 27 points. But the dominant emotion of the day still was heartbreak for head coach Sam Wyche's underdog Bengals, who took a 16-13 lead with 3:20 to play on Jim Breech's 40-yard FG before succumbing to a 92-yard, 11-play TD drive led by San Francisco QB Joe Montana. WR John Taylor's game-winning 10-yard TD catch from Montana came with just 34 seconds remaining. Never before had a Super Bowl been won on a TD so late in the game. Cincinnati played without FB Stanley Wilson, who was suspended for a substance abuse violation that occurred the night before the game. In addition, the Bengals played almost the entire contest without All-Pro NT Tim Krumrie, who suffered a severely broken leg early in the first quarter. The teams were tied 3-3 at halftime, tied again at 6-6 late in the third quarter, and then swapped TDs in quick succession. A 93-yard kickoff return by Cincinnati HB Stanford Jennings was countered by a four-play San Francisco TD drive. The third of Breech's three FGs gave Cincinnati its third lead of the day before Montana's final heroics saved the day for the 49ers. San Francisco WR Jerry Rice tied a Super Bowl record with 11 receptions (still tied; originally set by Bengals TE Dan Ross in Super Bowl XVI) for 215 yards and one TD, earning the game's MVP award. Montana completed 23 of 36 passes for 357 yards, two TDs and no INTs. The victory made San Francisco the first NFC team to win three Super Bowls.

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Cincinnati Bengals 41, Houston Oilers 14

Sunday, Jan. 6, 1991 at Riverfront Stadium

Having been involved in a feisty regular-season rivalry with Houston for several years, Cincinnati got the chance to tangle with the Oilers in the postseason and responded with the most lopsided playoff win in team history. The Bengals outgained the Oilers by 123 yards (349-226) and set team postseason records for points (still stands) and victory margin (still stands), using a well-balanced offensive attack. Cincinnati's rushing game outgained Houston 187-67, yet no Bengals rusher totaled more than 57 yards. Cincinnati's passing game added another 162 net yards, yet no Bengals receiver had more than two catches. Houston, however, failed to mount a serious threat the entire game. The Bengals led 34-0 before the Oilers scored their first point late in the third quarter. Ironically, it was the Oilers who helped put the Bengals in the playoffs the previous week. Houston beat Pittsburgh 34-14 in its Sunday night regular-season finale, allowing Cincinnati to win the AFC Central Division tiebreaker (the Bengals, Oilers and Steelers all had finished 9-7).

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

L.A. Raiders 20, Cincinnati Bengals 10

Sunday, Jan. 13, 1991 at Los Angeles Coliseum

Los Angeles QB Jay Schroeder, who would join the Bengals as a free agent in 1993, threw two TD passes to help the Raiders defeat Cincinnati and advance to the AFC Championship game. Cincinnati scored first on Jim Breech's 27-yard FG in the second quarter, but Schroeder hit WR Mervyn Fernandez with a 13-yard scoring strike to give Los Angeles a 7-3 halftime lead. The Raiders increased their lead to 10-3 on K Jeff Jaeger's 49-yard FG in the third quarter, and put the game away with 10 unanswered fourth-quarter points on a 41-yard Schroeder pass to TE Ethan Horton and a 25-yard Jaeger FG. The Raiders rushed for 235 yards, including 140 on 21 carries by RB Marcus Allen. DE Greg Townsend had three of the Raiders' four sacks. Raiders RB Bo Jackson, a popular two-sport professional athlete who also played Major League Baseball, rushed for 77 yards on six carries. This game, however, is best remembered by many as the contest that ended Jackson's NFL career. He suffered a hip injury on a tackle by Cincinnati LB Kevin Walker in the third quarter and, though the injury was not considered particularly severe at the time, Jackson never fully recovered to play in the NFL again.

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Pittsburgh Steelers 31, Cincinnati Bengals 17

Sunday, Jan. 8, 2006 at Paul Brown Stadium

The atmosphere was super-charged at Paul Brown Stadium as the AFC North Champion Bengals made their first postseason appearance in 15 years. But Cincinnati was dealt a devastating blow on its second offensive play, as QB Carson Palmer was lost to a serious knee injury while completing his first NFL postseason pass — a club postseason-record 66 yards to WR Chris Henry. Backup QB Jon Kitna took over for Palmer and helped Cincinnati earn a 17-14 halftime lead, but Pittsburgh owned the second half. The Bengals' offense had just six first downs and 105 net yards in the final two periods and failed to score another point. The Steelers used a botched snap on a Bengals FG attempt and two INTs thrown by Kitna to control the second half and claim the first-ever postseason meeting between the divisional rivals. Pittsburgh, which finished second to the Bengals in the AFC North and entered the playoffs as No. 6-seeded Wild Card, went on to win Super Bowl XL.

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

N.Y. Jets 24, Cincinnati Bengals 14

Saturday, Jan. 9, 2010 at Paul Brown Stadium

In a Wild Card Playoff that was relatively even in most statistical categories, the AFC North Champion Bengals were minus-two in turnover differential and could not hold an early lead against the visiting Jets. Cincinnati led 7-0 after the first quarter, on an 11-yard TD pass from QB Carson Palmer to WR Laveranues Coles, but New York gained a 14-7 halftime lead with two scores in a span of less than six minutes in the second quarter. Possession for the go-ahead TD drive was gained by the Jets on an INT by Pro Bowl CB Darrelle Revis. The Bengals' second-half comeback efforts were crippled by missed FG attempts of 35 and 28 yards by K Shayne Graham. Bengals HB Cedric Benson scored on a 47-yard run in the fourth quarter, and his 169 rushing yards for the game set a Bengals postseason record. The Jets defeated the San Diego Chargers in their Divisional Playoff the following week to advance to the AFC Championship game, where they lost to the Indianapolis Colts.

2011 SEASON

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Houston Texans 31, Cincinnati Bengals 10

Saturday, Jan. 7, 2012 at Reliant Stadium

The visiting Bengals set the tone early with a one-yard Cedric Benson TD, a Mike Nugent FG and a strong defensive first half. But big plays would prove to be the difference in the game, and Houston had plenty. With 52 seconds left in the first half, Texans DE J.J. Watt intercepted an Andy Dalton pass and returned it 29 yards for a TD, stirring an already-raucous Reliant Stadium crowd. Trailing 17-10 entering the second half, the Bengals briefly kept the game close, but the Texans pulled ahead 24-10 when WR Andre Johnson scored on a 40-yard reception with 1:08 left in the third quarter. With 5:15 left in the contest, Texans RB Arian Foster, who had a game-high 152 rushing yards, ran 42 yards down the right sideline for a TD that completed the scoring. Bengals QB and Houston area native Andy Dalton passed 27-for-42 for 257 yards, but had three INTs. Houston advanced to the divisional round of the playoffs with the win, but lost to the Baltimore Ravens in that game, 20-13.

2012 SEASON

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Houston Texans 19, Cincinnati Bengals 13

Sunday, Jan. 5, 2013 at Reliant Stadium

The Bengals were outgained 420-198 and had only 21:11 possession time, but they hung in against the favored Texans on the strength of a defensive TD and excellent defense in the red zone. Cincinnati had a first down at the Houston 35 with 3:40 to play, looking for a TD for the lead, but the offense could get no farther, and Houston ran out the clock after Cincinnati surrendered the ball on downs. The Bengals got their lone TD on a 21-yard Leon Hall INT return in the second quarter, a play that gave Cincinnati a 7-6 lead. The defense overall was in a bend-but-not-break mode, allowing four red-zone penetrations but forcing the Texans to settle for one TD and three FGs. Houston RB Arian Foster was the day's outstanding individual performer, rushing for 140 yards on 32 carries.

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

San Diego Chargers 27, Cincinnati Bengals 10

Sunday, Jan. 5, 2014 at Paul Brown Stadium

The AFC North Division champion Bengals piled up a 439-318 yardage edge in their Wild Card playoff vs. San Diego, but the Chargers won with relative ease while posting a plus-four edge in turnover differential (four takeaways, no giveaways). The Bengals held a 10-7 halftime lead, but San Diego went ahead on an 80-yard TD drive on its first possession of the third quarter. The Chargers added a third-quarter FG after Bengals QB Andy Dalton lost a fumble, and the Chargers tacked on a fourth-quarter TD following an INT. The Bengals' lone TD came on a four-yard second-quarter pass from Dalton to TE Jermaine Gresham. WR Marvin Jones set a Bengals postseason record with 130 receiving yards, topping a former mark of 120 by Cris Collinsworth, and Dalton's 334 passing yards were second-most in Bengals postseason annals. The Chargers, a Wild Card playoff entry, advanced to a Divisional round game at New England.

2014 SEASON

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Indianapolis Colts 26, Cincinnati Bengals 10

Sunday, Jan. 4, 2015 at Lucas Oil Stadium

Significantly depleted in their receiving corps, the Bengals were no match for the AFC South champion Colts. Indianapolis QB Andrew Luck passed for 376 yards, re-setting a Bengals opponent playoff record previously held by QB Joe Montana from Super Bowl XXIII (357). The Colts totaled 482 yards to Cincinnati's 254. The Bengals moved the ball well on their first two possessions and were tied 7-7 late in the first quarter, after a 74-yard TD drive. At halftime, Cincinnati trailed by only 13-10, thanks to a 57-yard Mike Nugent FG near the end of the second quarter. The 57-yarder was a Bengals postseason record by 10 yards and topped by two yards the team regular-season record of 55 that Nugent shared with K Chris Bahr. But the Bengals managed only 98 net yards and no points in the second half, while the Colts struck for a Luck 36-yard TD pass and two FGs by K Adam Vinatieri. The Bengals played without their top two leaders in receptions — WR A.J. Green (concussion) and TE Jermaine Gresham (back strain).

2015 SEASON

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Pittsburgh Steelers 18, Cincinnati Bengals 16

Saturday, Jan. 9, 2016 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals rallied from a 15-0 deficit to take a 16-15 lead with 1:50 to play, and Cincinnati had a first down at the Steelers' 26-yard line with 1:36 left. But Pittsburgh recovered a fumble by HB Jeremy Hill on the next Bengals play, and the Steelers drove for a game-winning 37-yard FG at the 0:14 mark, aided by two personal foul penalties against Cincinnati. The Bengals had rallied to take the lead with three fourth-quarter scores — a one-yard TD run by Hill, a 36-yard Mike Nugent FG and a 25-yard TD pass from QB AJ McCarron to WR A.J. Green. McCarron, as he had in the last three regular-season games, was subbing for injured No. 1 QB Andy Dalton. The Bengals had the home field after winning the AFC North Division with a 12-4 record, but the 10-6 Steelers earned a Wild Card berth and advanced to the Divisional playoff round with the win.
